18 Die In Fiery Military Plane Crash

McCHORD AIR FORCE BASE, Wash. (AP) — A big military transport returning servicemen from maneuvers met disaster five miles from takeoff today in a flaming pileup that killed 18 men and left four critically injured.

The C-124 Globemaster fell in a wooded area minutes after it lifted from a McChord runway in predawn darkness, headed for Ft. Sill, Okla., with 15 Army men and its Air Force crew of seven.

Five men got out somehow from the shattered, burning plane and were rushed to Madigan General Hospital at nearby Ft. Lewis. One died a few hours later.

One Army man and three Air Force crewmen remained at Madigan in critical condition.

"One of the first men at the scene heard a man calling for help," said Capt. Joseph Wiggins, McChord public information officer. "The survivor, in shock, was found sitting on a log near the wreckage."

The Globemaster, from Donaldson AFB, S.C., took off in foggy weather about 2:20 a.m.

"There was a flash in the sky," said a sheriff's officer. "We could not tell whether it came from an explosion in the air or after the plane hit the ground."

Tht $1.5 million-dollar plane apparently came down sharply. Although it landed in a heavily wooded area it cut no swath and knocked down only a few trees.

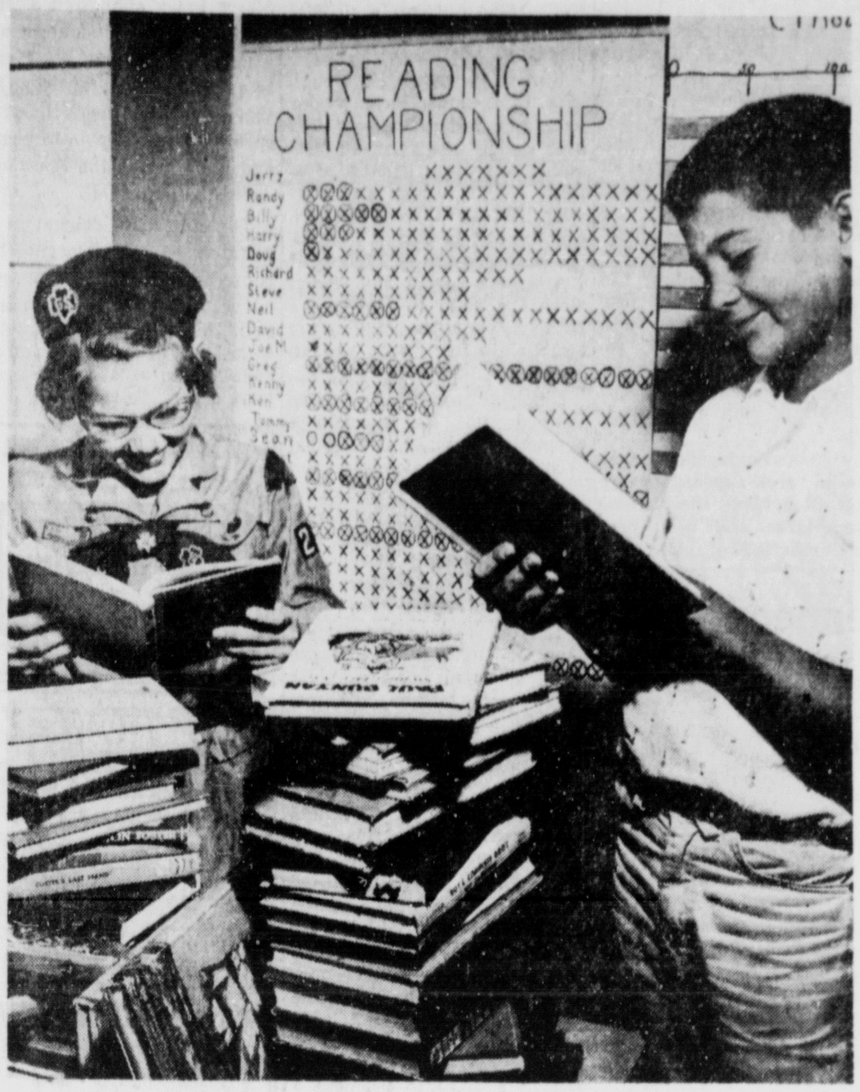
Nearly everything burned. Even metal melted. Hours after the crash the wreckage still smouldered.

The injured were evacuated by a helicopter crew who brought their craft down in a narrow clearing between power lines and trees.

The C-124 was returning men who had participated in recent Army-Air Force maneuvers, called Exercise Lava Plains, at Yakima, Wash., 150 miles east of McChord.

Identification of the casualties was delayed until relatives were notified.

While rescuers were searching the burning wreckage, other Globemasters continued to take off from McChord on similar missions.



CHAMP READERS IN 'STRETCH DRIVE'

At the close of Christmas holidays, Lawrence McArdell, fifth grade teacher at San Rafael's Oliver Hartzell School, proposed a reading contest for his class, with the pupil reading the most books by May 26 to win a prize. Today, with the deadline coming at 10 a.m. Friday, Greg McCormick [illegible] and Katie Page [illegible] were in a tight race for the championship. Greg was devouring his 56th book as the photo was taken. Katie was racing through the pages of her 51st. The 30-member class has read a total of 594 books since the contest started, McArdell announced. (Independent-Journal photo)

San Anselmo Again Refuses To Make Books Audit Public

Angry Citizens Boo Action; Council Answers Questions

By WAT TAKESHITA

San Anselmo city councilmen last night again refused to release the city's "highly confidential" accounting survey report despite demands by a crowd of about 50 citizens who jammed the council chambers.

The city fathers relented to the extent of answering specific questions about the survey report, as the crowd, led by Hans E. Fischel, applauded and booed during the noisy one and one-half hour discussion.

Councilman Arthur W. Smith, former mayor, moved twice to make the report public. But each time, his motion died from lack of a second.

Smith said the report was of a personnel nature, but since "we're all under suspicion—all of us connected with the city—I think it should be made public." This was greeted with resounding applause.

When Smith moved for the second time to have the report made public, and no second came from the council, a member of the audience piped up: "I second the motion!"

Fischel, an accountant who lives at 107 Brookside Drive, opened the discussion with this question aimed at City Atty. John G. Buresh: "Have you read the report?"

Buresh said he had not, but he had been informed by the councilmen the nature of the contents.

"I'm not a lawyer," said Fischel, "but I can't see how you can judge without reading it."

"You're entitled to your opinions," said Buresh. But he said he still thinks the report is "highly confidential and therefore privileged."

Fischel repeatedly asked that the report be made public. "The attitude of this public body seems to be that the public be damned," he declared.

Buresh asserted the "searchlight of the press" which has been trained on this matter is "completely unwarranted, unjustified and unbecoming."

Buresh conceded that under the Brown Act, meetings of public bodies must be conducted in the open. He quoted Section 54957, which is the one exception to the requirements for open meetings.

Supervisors Vote To Abolish Job Of Administrator

The Board of Supervisors voted 3 to 2 today to abolish the office of county administrator. The action was taken without a single word of discussion after County Counsel E. Warren Maguire submitted the necessary ordinance.

Supervisor J. Walter Blair made the motion. It was seconded by George H. Ludy. Board Chairman William D. Fusselman voted yes. Supervisors Walter R. Castro and William A. Gnoss voted no.

County Administrator Alan Bruce immediately asked what disposition would be made of the functions of the office including special Civil Defense activity.

Supervisor Fusselman replied "that will all be taken care of within the next few days."

Fusselman already had given every indication it would be passed routinely.

He even hinted that protests from the floor might be cut short, clearing the way for a vote which inevitably would be 3-to-2 in favor of abolition.

The ordinance will become effective 30 days after today's vote.

At yesterday's board meeting, only the League of Women Voters was afforded the opportunity to voice a protest.

Noting that the league has had problems of Marin County government under study for 11 years, the statement declared, "An administrative officer is essential to help the board of supervisors maintain efficient and economical government for the county."

The league statement recalled that the office of administrator was recommended by three successive grand juries "following a management survey by Kroeger and Co. . . . showing in detail the shortcomings and wastefulness of having 26 departments operating without any overall coordination."

Said the summary:

"With a current budget of nearly 12 million dollars, Marin County government is big business. No private business of this size would consider operating without coordinated administration. No metropolitan county in California operates without an administrative officer.

"Many basic improvements have been made in Marin's government since the establishment of the administrative office. These changes have resulted in savings and cost controls have been reflected in a stable tax rate and the seventh lowest per capita cost of county government in California."

The report, along with a protest letter from Byron W. Lydecker, manager of the San Rafael branch of the Crocker-Anglo Bank, were filed without comment or discussion.

Auditor Could Take Over Office

County Auditor-Controller Leon A. deLisle pledged "complete cooperation" yesterday in plans for running county affairs after the administrator's offices goes out of existence.

Summoned before the board of supervisors and quizzed about the possibility of making Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell "primarily" available to advise the board, deLisle said, "It is the duty of county department heads to see that the system established by the board of supervisors is made to work."

STUDY ASKED

He recommended an immediate study to determine how much of Mitchell's time might be required.

Supervisor Walter R. Castro raised the question of whether any of the other 57 counties of California combine auditor and administrator functions.

DeLisle responded negatively, but subsequent discussion developed that the auditor has deputies already serving in several other departments of county government.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss asked deLisle if he would need to employ an additional deputy to do the work within the auditor's department performed up to now by Mitchell.

"That's what we need a study to determine," deLisle replied.

ANOTHER PERIOD

Both deLisle and Board Chairman William D. Fusselman referred to a period before the establishment of the administrator's office when a deputy auditor was the principal advisor to the supervisors.

DeLisle predicted that the old system could be made to work effectively "so long as the board has a full realization that the man is a deputy auditor and just that . . . The limitations must be fully realized."

In another connection, Fusselman observed that state law requires counties to maintain a central purchasing agent.

At present the purchasing department is a part of the administrator's office. No indication has been given as to where this function may be moved when the administrator's office ceases to exist.

Navy Jet Zips Across U.S. In Record Time

NEW YORK (AP)—Three Navy jet fighter planes blasted through the skies of America today to set unofficial coast-to-coast records. The fastest of the three made it in 2 hours and 47 minutes.

The two other craft were timed at 2 hours and 57 minutes, and 3 hours and 3 minutes.

Sonic booms from the planes as they approached Floyd Bennett Field in Brooklyn touched off explosion reports and caused residents to start phoning police.

The transcontinental marks were set by F4H-1 Phantoms, among five taking part in the 20th renewal of the Bendix Trophy races.

The previous mark of 3 hours, 7 minutes and 44 seconds was set in 1957 by an Air Force Voodoo over the same course — Ontario, Calif., to Floyd Bennett. The distance is 2,445.9 miles.

The crew members of the fastest plane were Lt. Richard F. Gordon, 31, of Seattle, Wash., pilot, and Lt. Bobbie R. Young, 34, of Modesto, Calif., radio-intercept officer.

Planes taking part in the race were refueled at three points across the country from tanker aircraft.

Two Novato Trustees Left Out Of Meeting On Unification

Two trustees of Novato Unified School District today protested having been left out of a meeting on unification which three other trustees attended.

The meeting Monday night was at the home of trustee Marett Boissevain and included Board Chairman Leonora Dougherty and trustee Joseph Sereda. All three have indicated they favor joining of the Novato District with the San Jose School District by unification.

Trustees Earl Marshal and William Kirk were not invited to the meeting. Kirk has indicated he favors annexation of the San Jose District to Novato.

"I feel this was a board-sponsored meeting," Kirk said today.

"I might favor unification if they (the County Committee on School District Organization) had discussed the other sides," such as annexation or boundary change, Marshall said today.

"The purpose of this was really rather innocent," Boissevain countered today." It was to encourage people to be there on the 31st and perhaps favor unification."

The 31st is May 31, date for a public hearing at Novato High School on joining of the two school districts.

The meeting was held with the three trustees as "strictly private citizens," Boissevain said.

Marshall and Kirk said the first they heard of the meeting was when anonymous phone calls informed them.

"I didn't think there was anything unusual" in the meeting, said City Councilman Charles R. Johnson, who attended.

"It was a meeting of private citizens . . . called by others who favor unification and urging attendance whatever their position, at the public meeting May 31," said City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr., who was also there.

Others at the meeting were Alton Lerch, Novato real estate agent; Leo Mindling, former school board member; Arnold Heise, president of the board of the North Marin Water District; County Supervisor William Gnoss, and Jerome Gilbert, manager of the North Marin Water District.

Johnson Says U.S. Ready To 'Sacrifice'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson said today he had made clear to the leaders of Asia, at President John F. Kennedy's request, that the United States will "make any sacrifice and risk any danger" that may be necessary in the defense of free nations against communism.

The vice president spoke at a news conference shortly after reporting to Kennedy on the 29,000-mile, world circling trip from which he returned this morning.

Earlier, Johnson had described his diplomatic mission as "the most challenging trip of my life."

Kennedy and a large number of other government officials welcomed the vice president on the White House lawn as he arrived by helicopter to report to the President.

Kennedy described the vice president's tour as an American effort to indicate this country's deep concern for the cause of freedom.

Johnson brought with him recommendations for new military techniques.

GOP Leaders Vow Fight On Redistricting

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California Republicans leaders announced today they intend to stage a referendum campaign if the legislature and the courts fail to overturn the Democratic reapportionment plan.

The decision, hedged with "ifs," was announced by John Krehbiel of Los Angeles, Republican state chairman, after a closed meeting between GOP party officials and assemblymen.

Krehbield, in a statement, assailed the Democratic majority proposal for drawing new Assembly and Congressional district lines as illegal and unethical.

The statement called upon legislators to "vote against mockery of equitable representation." It demanded, too, that Gov. Edmund G. Brown repudiate the plan.

"The bills," said Krehbiel, "are glaring examples of a hardened, cynical political immorality which almost defies description."

The Assembly, 47-33 Democratic opens debate on the measures tomorrow. There's little question that the bills will be approved and, in all likelihood, sent to the Senate without change.

Assemblyman John A. Busterud (R-San Francisco) GOP caucus chairman, said the Republicans have been told that no amendments will be accepted.

New Drive-In Theater Set For County

Abe Blumenfeld of Blumenfeld Theaters, Inc., today announced lease of 12 acres of Smith Brothers Ranch land north of San Rafael as location for a new drive-in theater.

The land is behind Le Chateau restaurant, about 300 feet off the proposed Lucas Valley interchange of Highway 101.

Blumenfeld said work on the theater, which will have spaces for 800 to 1,000 cars, will start this summer, and it will be completed in time for opening next spring.

It will have a 50-by-108-foot screen, slightly larger than that of Marin Motor Movies in San Rafael, he reported.

The theater will be the first built in Marin in many years. Several times in recent years, drive-in theaters in Novato have been proposed, but each time the plan has been abandoned.

'Freedom Riders' Enter Mississippi In Wake Of Bloodshed, Violence

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—A bus load of "freedom riders" entered Mississippi today and were arrested when they tried to enter the white rest room in a bus station here.

MERIDIAN, Miss. (UPI)—A racially mixed group of 11 "freedom riders" rode into Mississippi today to test the South's strongest bastion of segregation after 10 days of violence and bloodshed in Alabama.

A trailways bus accompanied by about 20 Alabama Highway Patrol cars crossed the border into Mississippi this afternoon.

At the same moment, a second group of "freedom riders" boarded another bus in Montgomery for the trip through Alabama and Mississippi, and a third group left Atlanta, after flying south from Connecticut, for a similar trip.

The group entered Mississippi just east of here after a three-hour ride aboard the Trailways bus and a rest stop at the border town of Cuba, Ala. A caravan of highway patrolmen and Alabama National Guardsmen, following the bus from Montgomery, Ala. Mob violence erupted around them several times in Alabama.

The first stop in Mississippi was at Meridian, where 100 National Guardsmen cordoned the bus station. State and local police and a dozen U.S. marshals also were on duty. The Meridian bus station had been cleared. There were no reports of large groups gathering.

In Washington, Attorney General Robert Kennedy said he is confident there will be no new outbreaks of violence.

In New Orleans a busload of "Nazi storm troopers" ran into rain and an unsympathetic police officer in their confused and unglorious entry into the city last night.

The American Nazi Party members first were headed out of town by police, then turned away by a motel operator, and finally permitted to stay in town overnight after promising to cover up the "hate" signs.

Senate Kills School Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today killed an effort to add loan funds for private schools, including those operated by churches, to the 2.55-billion-dollar public school aid bill. (See story, page 2.)

The 66-25 vote—technically on a motion to table the amendment providing 351 million dollars for the loans—was another victory for administration.

To Address Congress

The group entered Mississippi just east of here after a three-hour ride aboard the Trailways bus and a rest stop at the border town of Cuba, Ala. A caravan of highway patrolmen and Alabama National Guardsmen, following the bus from Montgomery, Ala. Mob violence erupted around them several times in Alabama.

The first stop in Mississippi was at Meridian, where 100 National Guardsmen cordoned the bus station. State and local police and a dozen U.S. marshals also were on duty. The Meridian bus station had been cleared. There were no reports of large groups gathering.

In Washington, Attorney General Robert Kennedy said he is confident there will be no new outbreaks of violence.

In New Orleans a busload of "Nazi storm troopers" ran into rain and an unsympathetic police officer in their confused and unglorious entry into the city last night.

The American Nazi Party members first were headed out of town by police, then turned away by a motel operator, and finally permitted to stay in town overnight after promising to cover up the "hate" signs.

Senate Kills School Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today killed an effort to add loan funds for private schools, including those operated by churches, to the 2.55-billion-dollar public school aid bill. (See story, page 2.)

The 66-25 vote—technically on a motion to table the amendment providing 351 million dollars for the loans—was another victory for administration.

To Address Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy will address a joint session of Congress in person tomorrow to ask increased funds for space, foreign aid and other spending.

'HOODLUMS' PARADED THROUGH SEOUL

Education Aid Measure Close To Passage

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal aid to education this year moved closer to passage in Congress. The House Education Committee was expected to pass President John E. Kennedy's 2.5-billion-dollar public school program today and the Senate was hoping to follow suit tomorrow.

The danger of trouble over moves to trim the money figure, provide more money, help finance parochial and private schools and bar aid to segregated schools apparently have fallen by the wayside.

The move that forestalled or possibly ended the threat to the House committee bill came yesterday when Chairman Adam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.) scheduled hearings on another school aid bill—the National Defense Education Act.

Powell told Rep. Herbert Zelenko (D-N.Y.) that his amendment to provide funds for parochial and private schools would be welcomed as an addition to the Defense Education Act. It had been feared a fight might break out on the issue if the amendment was offered to the main Kennedy school measure.

Korea Junta Chief Plans U.S. Visit

SEOUL (AP)—The leader of South Korea's successful military revolt, Lt. Gen. Chang Do-Young, announced today he plans to leave for the United States soon to sell his regime to President John F. Kennedy and the American people.

The U. S. Embassy, which had opposed the coup last week, said no invitation had been issued to Chang but it was taking the matter up with the State Department.

Initial reaction in Washington was cool.

Chang, who is head of the ruling military council, premier, defense minister and army chief of staff, said "reliable informants have told me President Kennedy wants to see and talk with me personally."

The 38-year-old general said he would "seek support for our efforts to achieve the revolutionary tasks and thus promote furthering of close ties between the two countries."

The junta has said the aim of its revolution is to weed out Communist infiltrators from North Korea, end official corruption and rejuvenate the economy.

Korean army leaders and U. S. Gen. Carter B. Magruder were reported still deadlocked over details of a formal agreement renewing acknowledgement of Magruder's authority over Korean forces as U.N. commander in Korea. At issue is the return of 7,000 Korean troops occupying Seoul since the coup to Magruder's authority and the U. S. general's right to pass on Korean army appointments.

Chang's iron-fisted regime stepped up its crackdown against what it called social evils and subversion.

A military court sentenced 45 young people to jail terms ranging from three months to a year for dancing at an unlicensed hall in violation of martial law regulations.

The government shut down about 100 newspapers and 290 small so-called news agencies which were termed incompetent, financially weak and vulnerable to money payoffs. Registration of new publications was frozen and censors withheld permission for all school newspapers to appear.

Some 4,200 Koreans arrested as hoodlums will be sent to labor camps on public works projects "if they wish" after their trials, said Maj. Gen. Hahn Shin, the new home minister. He said many of the 10,826 persons charged with violating the martial law curfew will be court-martialed as part of a drive to promote a law-abiding spirit.

U.S. Backs Enlarged Laos Parley

GENEVA (AP)—The United States today supported a Thai proposal to add Indonesia and Malaya to the East-West conference on Laos, anticipating that they would swell the pressure for a sound plan to pacify and demilitarize the Southeast Asian battleground.

The American delegation in a statement said enlarging the conference as Thailand proposed yesterday would be in line with U. S. policy favoring the widest possible consultation by countries in areas where problems occur.

Multi-Colored Money Plan Goes To Dillon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—If you have ever been shortchanged and had to explain to a cashier that you gave her a $10 instead of $5 bill, you might be interested in a proposal now before Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon.

The suggestion is to print different denominations of U. S. currency in different colors. For example, a $1 bill could remain green, a $5 could be printed in red ink, a $10 could be blue, and a $20 yellow.

Chief sponsor of the color plan is Elizabeth Rudel Smith of Kent Woodlands, the treasurer of the United States.

In a two-page memo to Dillon last Friday she argued that printing money in different colors would make each bill easier to recognize. This would help eliminate mistakes and those embarassing arguments at movie ticket windows, and store counters, according to Mrs. Smith.

A spokesman Dillon said the secretary has been looking into the question of multi-colored money for some weeks. He emphasized, however, that "no decision is imminent."

Mrs. Smith said the idea had support among bankers, hotel and restaurant men, and others whose business involves sorting and counting a large volume of cash.

But veteran Treasury officials were noticeably cool to the proposal. One reason is that they fear there would be a good deal of public confusion during a changeover period. Another is reluctance to change a system which has been working well.

Mrs. Smith's idea is to assign a special color to each bill from $2 on up. The color would appear on the now white portion of the face of the bill and over the entire reverse side.

The words, corner numbers, portraits and fine design lines on the face would retain their present black and white appearance. Serial numbers and the seal also would retain their present colors.

Deaths Of Czech Children Linked To Adolf Eichmann

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann was charged today with the murder of the children of Lidice.

The Israeli prosecution presented documents blazing a trail from the famous village in Czechoslovakia to Eichmann's door in the Berlin office of the Gestapo.

The evidence retold how Czech patriots killed Reinhard Heydrich, the Nazi security police chief, near Lidice on June 4, 1942, and how the Nazis in reprisal razed the town, plowed it over and transported the population to death camps.

One document showed Eichmann was in Prague at the time.

Gestapo files disclosed that 88 Lidice children, orphaned by the firing squads, were sent to Lodz. Seven of them were described as "fit for Germanization" and they were scattered through Germany in foster homes. The remaining 81 vanished without a trace and undoubtedly died in one of the Polish murder mills.

The most telling file contained a letter from SS Lt. Col. Hermann Krumey at Lodz to Eichmann's office in Berlin requesting advice on what to do with the 81 "unfit children."

The answer was "special treatment," which in Eichmann's office for Jewish affairs meant the gas chambers of Auschwitz.

ALGIERS (UPI) — French forces, under orders to shoot only in self-defense, scoured the mountains east of Orleansville today for an Algerian guerrilla band that ambushed an army convoy, killing 11 soldiers and wounding four.

French warplanes strafed mountain hideouts where the band was believed to be hiding, but they were unable to flush out the guerrillas.

The ambush was the first sharp engagement since France halted offensive operations for a one-month period three days ago. There was hope that the Algerian rebels would follow suit while the two sides tried to negotiate a treaty to end hostilities in Algeria.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Clark Gable's widow has been granted a family allowance of $6,000 monthly from the actor's estate.

A court order yesterday increased her allowance from $5,000 monthly and made the increase retroactive to the date of Gable's death, Nov. 16, 1960.

Kay Williams Gable's petition said the estate's assets now total $889,405, but that the actor's interests in several motion pictures are expected to increase the value by more than one million dollars.

'No Golf Course'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House has announced that what passes for a four-hole golf course on President John F. Kennedy's country estate is not a four-hole golf course at all, but four stakes in a cow pasture with a total par of 36.

There were reports among people who live in the Middleburg area—where the president's rented Glen Ora estate is located—that the golfing area existed.

The reports also said the golf course is being readied as a birthday present from Mrs. Kennedy.

Associate White House Press Secretary Andrew Hatcher said, "The story is ridiculous and untrue."

Opera On Segregation

DETROIT (AP) — New York's Metropolitan Opera Co., won't play before segregated audiences in the South any more.

Bing said he had informed patrons in Atlanta and Dallas, where the Met makes regular stops, that it could no longer give performances in those cities.

PALM SPRINGS (AP)—Rosary for Joan Davis, often called "the queen of comedy," who died yesterday, will be Friday.

Mass will be celebrated at St. Paul's Church, Los Angeles, on Saturday.

Jim Backus, who co-starred in Miss Davis' highly successful TV series, "I Married Joan," wired her family:

"The nation has lost a great lady and the foremost feminine talent in her field."

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The successful 5,000-mile test flight of a Titan missile has moved the giant ocean-spanning weapon a step closer to combat-readiness.

The 98-foot rocket, biggest in the U.S. arsenal, streaked to a South Atlantic target last night, covering the distance in 30 minutes at peak speed of more than 17,000 miles an hour.

Kennedy Held In On Plan For Tractors

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy was reported today to have taken a personal hand in the behind-the-scenes maneuvers which led to the creation of the "Tractors for Freedom" committee to free captured Cuban invaders.

Authoritative sources said Kennedy was deeply interested in securing freedom for the anti-Castro prisoners if possible.

The three leading figures on the committee—Walter Reuther, Eleanor Roosevelt and Dr. Milton Eisenhower—have refused to confirm or deny they had been in contact with Kennedy. But Reuther reported a "green light" from unspecified Washington officials.

While various departments maintained an official hands-off position, Kennedy's encouragement was seen in a variety of indirect aids from different federal agencies that indicated White House backing.

A Coast Guard plane provided transport for prisoner representatives.

The State Department made plain it would waive the Cuban embargo to let the tractors through.

The Treasury is reported seeking ways to allow tax deductions for gifts to the committee.

The White House was said to have decided the exchange would not violate the Logan Act, which bars private citizens from dealing with foreign governments in any matter in dispute with the United States.

The Roman Catholic prelate, who has been reported making steady progress since the operation, went home yesterday.

June Allyson III

SANTA MONICA (AP) — Actress June Allyson is recovering from her second throat operation within a month.

Joan Davis Rites

PALM SPRINGS (AP)—Rosary for Joan Davis, often called "the queen of comedy," who died yesterday, will be Friday.

Mass will be celebrated at St. Paul's Church, Los Angeles, on Saturday.

Jim Backus, who co-starred in Miss Davis' highly successful TV series, "I Married Joan," wired her family:

Titan Shot

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The successful 5,000-mile test flight of a Titan missile has moved the giant ocean-spanning weapon a step closer to combat-readiness.

The 98-foot rocket, biggest in the U.S. arsenal, streaked to a South Atlantic target last night, covering the distance in 30 minutes at peak speed of more than 17,000 miles an hour.

Kennedy Held In On Plan For Tractors

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy was reported today to have taken a personal hand in the behind-the-scenes maneuvers which led to the creation of the "Tractors for Freedom" committee to free captured Cuban invaders.

Authoritative sources said Kennedy was deeply interested in securing freedom for the anti-Castro prisoners if possible.

The three leading figures on the committee—Walter Reuther, Eleanor Roosevelt and Dr. Milton Eisenhower—have refused to confirm or deny they had been in contact with Kennedy. But Reuther reported a "green light" from unspecified Washington officials.

While various departments maintained an official hands-off position, Kennedy's encouragement was seen in a variety of indirect aids from different federal agencies that indicated White House backing.

A Coast Guard plane provided transport for prisoner representatives.

The State Department made plain it would waive the Cuban embargo to let the tractors through.

The Treasury is reported seeking ways to allow tax deductions for gifts to the committee.

The White House was said to have decided the exchange would not violate the Logan Act, which bars private citizens from dealing with foreign governments in any matter in dispute with the United States.

$3,000-PLUS FOR $22.50

College of Marin got a whale of a bargain in scientific laboratory equipment yesterday at the Oakland Naval Supply Center. The Navy offered surplus electronic equipment, which had cost it $2,300,000, free to high schools and junior colleges. Erwin Gressinger (left), electronics teacher at College of Marin, and Robert Thompson, sophomore student, made the trip to Oakland and picked up equipment, part of which they are seen sorting, which Gressinger estimated would be valued between $3,000 and $5,000. Total cost to the college: $22.50. Marin's high school districts did not take advantage of the Navy's offer. (Independent-Journal photo)

TERRA LINDA POOL 'IMPASSE DEVELOPS'

Architect, Contractor Disagree On Work Performance At School

An attorney for the contractor building the Terra Linda High School swimming pool told the San Rafael Board of Education last night that "an impasse has developed" between his client and Carl F. Gromme, the school district's architect.

Attorney David R. Baty of Point Reyes Station said his client, Max Schenk of Fairfax, is ready to ask that the pool be accepted except for plastering and cleanup.

"Apparently there is going to be further difficulty between Mr. Schenk and Mr. Gromme," he said.

Gromme declared:

"There is no personal issue between myself and the contractor. . . There is no impasse; that I'll state categorically. It does not make an impasse when work is not performed properly."

Acting chairman C. Paul Bettini agreed to name a committee to look into the trouble, and put himself, board member Rex Silvernale and Asst. Supt. Raymond J. Simpson on the committee.

Also at last night's board of education meeting:

2. Resignations were accepted from six more teachers: Robert Inkster, science, San Rafael High School; George Felker III, English, San Rafael High; Patricia Gossett, kindergarten, Short; Gretchen Dilbeck, first grade, MacPhail; Mrs. Elaine G. Smith, social studies, Santa Venetia, and Mrs. Roberta B. Smith, first grade, Sun Valley.

2. Hiring was approved of 11 new teachers: Patricia MacLeod, girls' physical education, Terra Linda High; Gordon E. Lowe, band, choir and typing, Terra Linda High; Milton T. Hain, Spanish and life science, San Rafael High; Charles Maurice, art, mechanical drawing and social studies, San Rafael High; Mary Keating, English, Terra Linda High; Donald Lucas Jr., boys' physical education, Terra Linda High; Chungsun Yun, mathematics, San Rafael or Terra Linda High; Providence Frassinella, elementary district; Elizabeth Williams, junior high social studies; Mrs. Barbara Knoflich, junior high language arts, and Kathryn Pitchford, elementary district.

3. Resignation of Mrs. Dorothy Blackford, clerk at West End School, was noted.

4. The board did over again what it did at a special meeting Saturday, naming Simpson acting superintendent during illness of Supt. Frank L. Lucas. Chairman Bettini said Saturday's meeting might be illegal because board member Bella Aaron did not receive her notice.

5. Agreement was reached with City Manager Dan E. Andersen and City Recreation Director Joseph Rodota that the combined school districts will pay up to $18,500 or 30 per cent of the city recreation budget for 1961-62. This represents a $5,000 increase over the current year.

San Rafael School Tax Hike Suggested For Teacher Pay

A tax hike to increase teacher salaries was suggested to the San Rafael Board of Education last night by the salary committee of the San Rafael Teachers Assn.

Jules Chourre, committee chairman, told the board that teachers polled had voted 168-to-4 in favor of three propositions he presented:

1. "Our salary schedule is no longer competitive in this county . . . Long-range steps to holster it should be undertaken..

2. "A tax increase is the only realistic long-range solution.

3. "Every possible temporary means to provide improvement for the 1961-62 school year should be considered."

Chourre said the teachers had held back on pay raise requests, waiting for action by state and federal governments to make more funds available. But they wanted the board to know they are not satisfied with a $200 increase in the beginning salary and other small hikes proposed for next year.

The present San Rafael teacher pay schedule, in both elementary and high schools, starts at $4,500 per year and runs to a maximum of $9,060. But the $9,060 tops is in the "incentive" bracket which requires the teacher to continue taking graduate courses in summer school. The "realistic" maximum, said Chourre, is $600 lower.

Chourre and his committee presented a list of salary schedules in other California districts with minimum pay ranging from $4,600 (in Saratoga) to $5,600 (in Fremont High School District, Santa Clara County) and maximum from $8,200 (in Los Altos) to $11,045 (in Atwater, Merced County).

They cited increases for next year awarded in Tamalpais High School District, and said a survey showed a definite morale problem among San Rafael teachers, and an extremely high turnover, because of low pay.

Teacher Warren Ewing of San Rafael High School said the average high school district tax rate in California is $1.85 per $100 assessed valuation, whereas San Rafael's is $1.25. "In seven years that I have been here, there's been no increase in the tax rate. Certainly our cost of living has increased," he said.

Bitterest word came from J. F. Trentacoste, also a high school teacher.

"I have the equivalent of a doctor's degree," he said. "I take home $335 a month . . . I'm tired of buying the 26-cent can because I can't afford the 29-cent can. I'm tired of wearing the same pair of shoes three years running. I can't afford to go on being a teacher."

Board members were noncommittal about a tax raise, although promising to do "all we can" to increase teacher salaries. Acting chairman C. Paul Bettini and board member Rex Silvernale said Tamalpais High School District trustees are being widely criticized for using so much of a recently authorized tax increase to hike teacher pay.

Social Security Benefits In Marin

More than 8,260 persons in Marin were receiving old-age, survivors and disability insurance benefits at the end of 1960, announced Charles H. Shreve, manager of the San Francisco Social Security District office.

Total benefits paid to these people for December was $577,003, Shreve said.

"This was an increase in the number of persons receiving benefits by about nine per cent over the same month the previous year," he said.

Weissichs Lose Parking Meter Fight

Former Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich and/or his wife Rose, who got a parking meter violation tag in San Rafael a year ago, lost a court fight yesterday in a 2-to-1 decision of the Marin Superior Court judges.

But the Weissichs got the consolation of a dissenting opinion by Judge Thomas F. Keating, who was outvoted by Judges Richard M. Sims Jr. and N. Charles Brusatori.

A car registered to Mr. and/or Mrs. Weissich was tagged on April 12 last year. Weissich waited until he quit as district attorney, then fought the parking tag. He contended that convicting two persons on an "and/or" basis for one parking offense is unconstitutional.

Both Weissich and his wife were found guilty and fined $10 each. Weissich appealed. He contended that the laws of the state should be changed so that a car is registered to one person, not two.

The case went to the appellate dvision of Marin Superior Court. The three judges split 2 to 1. The majority opinion affirms the municipal courts conviction. It holds that the law of joint ownership is predicated on the "comparative convenience" of the interest of both the public and the vehicle owner. The Weissichs should have come forward to let authorities know whether one or the other had parked the car, the majority opinion concludes.

Judge Keating's dissenting opinion says that in this case, both owners were found guilty of parking a car on no evidence other than the presumption that one or the other was driving the car.

"The application of presumption in this manner . . . is clearly unconstitutional and cannot be justified by 'comparative convenience'," says Judge Keating. "Mere expediency cannot be the test of so deep an issue as constitutionality."

Board Is Due Report On 'Life Adjustment'

The San Rafael Board of Education will hear a report on controversial "life adjustment" and "exploratory language" courses at a meeting June 13 at 7:30 p.m.

There's little likelihood, though, that any of the courses will be cut from the curriculum for the school year starting in September.

These were developments as the board of education—with urging from an overflow crowd of parents—last night took up what to do about "life adjustment," freshman orientation" and "exploratory language" courses, all under fire from a growing number of parents.

Board member Rex Silvernale, who objected to the parents' effort to push the board into immediately dropping the courses, indicated he did not think the number of their critics is growing.

"I see the same faces here that I saw last week at the high school," said Silvernale. "There are a great many parents . . . who would not care to have these changes made." (Voices from the audience: "Where are they?")

(Silvernale was perhaps unaware that meetings of groups of mothers are being held throughout the district to examine and appraise "life adjustment" books checked out of school libraries. One such group met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Edward D. Noble, president of Davidson Parent-Teacher Assn.)

One woman who had seen the books—but who did not identify herself—told the board they are shocking.

"They go and ban something like 'Catcher in the Rye,' which is beautifully written, and they have something like this which is written in third grade level," she declared. "If you read it, you would pull it out so fast!"

("Catcher in the Rye" has been neither banned nor attacked in the San Rafael schools; but there was an unsuccessful attempt by a group of Tamalpais High School District residents last year to have it removed from school library shelves in that district.)

The unidentified woman's outburst, in which she wrung from Silvernale an admission that he had not read the books attacked, wound up the public hearing. Vice chairman C. Paul Bettini, presiding because of illness of board chairman Roderick P. Martinelli, stopped it there, exclaiming: "We're just making four-by-eights."

Earlier, the acting chairman's brother, Richard Bettini, had pressed the question whether action could be taken on the courses before the start of the next school year. "I don't want some of these courses being taught to my children next year if I can help it," he declared.

WATER MAIN

Name Mixup Means Cost Addition

What's in a name?

A matter of $1,039.81, when the name is Laurel Dell Intermediate School.

It seems that when the San Rafael Board of Education called for bids for building a new Laurel Dell Intermediate School, all the bidders called Marin Municipal Water District to ask if there were a water main in front of the school.

Certainly, they were told—an eight-inch main right there.

So each bidder included a $90 item for tapping into the main for water for the school.

When Robert S. Miller of San Rafael got the contract for the building, the water district told him to drive a stake where he wanted to tap the main. He picked out the right spot, beside Lovell Avenue and drove one.

Pretty soon came a call from the water district.

"There's no main closer to that stake than Jordan Street. It would cost $8,000 to run a main along Lovell," Miller was told.

It developed, architect Carl F. Gromme told the San Rafael Board of Education last night, that when the contractors asked about a water main in front of Laurel Dell Intermediate School, the water district people naturally supposed they meant the existing school—which is over a block from the new site and will become part of Davidson Junior High when the new school is built.

The board authorized a change order to cover cost of a two-inch line from the Jordan Street main to the new school. The cost: $1,039.81.

$3,000-PLUS FOR $22.50

College of Marin got a whale of a bargain in scientific laboratory equipment yesterday at the Oakland Naval Supply Center. The Navy offered surplus electronic equipment, which had cost it $2,300,000, free to high schools and junior colleges. Erwin Gressinger (left), electronics teacher at College of Marin, and Robert Thompson, sophomore student, made the trip to Oakland and picked up equipment, part of which they are seen sorting, which Gressinger estimated would be valued between $3,000 and $5,000. Total cost to the college: $22.50. Marin's high school districts did not take advantage of the Navy's offer. (Independent-Journal photo)

TERRA LINDA POOL 'IMPASSE DEVELOPS'

Architect, Contractor Disagree On Work Performance At School

An attorney for the contractor building the Terra Linda High School swimming pool told the San Rafael Board of Education last night that "an impasse has developed" between his client and Carl F. Gromme, the school district's architect.

Attorney David R. Baty of Point Reyes Station said his client, Max Schenk of Fairfax, is ready to ask that the pool be accepted except for plastering and cleanup.

"Apparently there is going to be further difficulty between Mr. Schenk and Mr. Gromme," he said.

Gromme declared:

"There is no personal issue between myself and the contractor. . . There is no impasse; that I'll state categorically. It does not make an impasse when work is not performed properly."

Acting chairman C. Paul Bettini agreed to name a committee to look into the trouble, and put himself, board member Rex Silvernale and Asst. Supt. Raymond J. Simpson on the committee.

Also at last night's board of education meeting:

2. Resignations were accepted from six more teachers: Robert Inkster, science, San Rafael High School; George Felker III, English, San Rafael High; Patricia Gossett, kindergarten, Short; Gretchen Dilbeck, first grade, MacPhail; Mrs. Elaine G. Smith, social studies, Santa Venetia, and Mrs. Roberta B. Smith, first grade, Sun Valley.

2. Hiring was approved of 11 new teachers: Patricia MacLeod, girls' physical education, Terra Linda High; Gordon E. Lowe, band, choir and typing, Terra Linda High; Milton T. Hain, Spanish and life science, San Rafael High; Charles Maurice, art, mechanical drawing and social studies, San Rafael High; Mary Keating, English, Terra Linda High; Donald Lucas Jr., boys' physical education, Terra Linda High; Chungsun Yun, mathematics, San Rafael or Terra Linda High; Providence Frassinella, elementary district; Elizabeth Williams, junior high social studies; Mrs. Barbara Knoflich, junior high language arts, and Kathryn Pitchford, elementary district.

3. Resignation of Mrs. Dorothy Blackford, clerk at West End School, was noted.

4. The board did over again what it did at a special meeting Saturday, naming Simpson acting superintendent during illness of Supt. Frank L. Lucas. Chairman Bettini said Saturday's meeting might be illegal because board member Bella Aaron did not receive her notice.

Novato Asks Action On Phone Service

Novato city councilmen last night in effect told the city's two telephone companies and the State Public Utilities Commission to hurry up on improvement of service to the city.

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. Monday filed a proposal with the PUC which, if approved, will mean subscribers in its TUcker exchange in Southern Novato and Ignacio may call to other parts of the city and to San Rafael by direct dialing and with no toll. The proposal also includes similar service for Southern Marin and San Rafael areas.

Western California Telephone Co., which serves the major part of Novato, will file a proposal within two weeks which will mean no-toll direct dialing to the Southern part of the city, Harold O. Davis, vice president and general manager, told councilmen last night. Direct no-toll dialing to San Rafael from Twinbrook numbers is still in the future, he said.

Both companies would put the service into effect within six to eight months after a favorable PUC decision, representatives said last night.

But councilmen pointedly asked if Novato wouldn't get faster PUC action if the city's problems were treated separately.

"I fail to see why the companies should not treat the area as a separate community," City Administrator J. Julien Baget said, after hearing from PT&T that "procedural" reasons dictated the "package" application including San Rafael and Sotuhern Marin service extensions.

"I can't see it would take any more time one way or another," answered E. W. Davis of PT&T.

From Manley Edwards, state PUC representative, councilmen heard they might ask for separate consideration, have a hearing in Novato June 12 or 13 and get a PUC decision four to five weeks later.

Hearing this, the council unanimously authorized a letter to the PUC asking that the matter be "expedited" and that first consideration be given to the Novato-Ignacio area.

The proposed service would end the 10-cent toll now levied for calls between the exchanges, but still within the city. For TUcker subscribers, it would end the 10-cent toll for calling San Rafael.

But the additional service will mean a rise in PT&T rates. "It's going to be proportionately higher up here" than in other county areas, commented Councilman John J. Angeloni.

The extra service by Western to its customers will mean a "very, very nominal" rise in rates, said Western's Davis.

Inter-District Meetings Out

Larkspur School District will make no more inter-district agreements to allow children to attend school in other districts, the board of trustees decided last night.

Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel said a recent ruling by the state attorney general holds that where children living in one district attend school in another, the district of residence must pay the difference between state aid and actual cost of educating the child. He said this might run to $250 per child.

Chamber Tells Highway View

Members of a Novato Chamber of Commerce committee stuck to their guns last night in favoring a Highway 101 route far east of Novato.

The committee prefers a route even farther east than that proposed by planning director Mary Summers, who presented her findings to the council after a traffic-planning study financed by the city.

Mrs. Summers' recommendation would put the highway east of the Northwestern Pacific tracks but "still too close to the center of town and to a certain degree affecting some of the residential areas," committee co-chairman Peter J. Ferrarese told councilmen.

Questioned closely by Councilman Charles R. Johnson, Ferrarese and co-chairman Daniel Aughney said the committee had not asked the opinion of any planners or public works representatives before coming to a decision.

Johnson is "liaison" between the council and the chamber committee, but was not invited to the committee meeting. "I didn't know they'd met," he commented.

The route proposed by Mrs. Summers would affect 100 homes "more or less," Ferrarese contended, while a curving route far to the east of the city would affect only three homes.

"We haven't rejected it (Mrs. Summers proposal)," Ferrarese said. "We feel there is a better route possible." He noted that Mrs. Summers had not considered cost factors of any alternate routes.

Council agreed the chamber committee should meet with Johnson and Mayor Wayne Womack and later with State Division of Highways representatives.

Public Works Department Is Planned

Novato will have its own public works department to handle street maintenance and some engineering work, city councilmen decided last night.

But councilmen agreed to continue for a year a contract with the county to provide some engineering services if requested by the city, and to provide map check and site inspections of subdivisions.

If public works director Charles A. Joseph can prove the need for one, councilmen agreed to consider hiring an assistant civil engineer next October. To back up the need for an additional engineer, City Administrator J. Julien Baget listed 29 projects engineers could be working on.

The proposals were put forth last night by Baget and Joseph. Councilmen last week in a study session on public works needs, had doubted the imediate necessity of a larger city engineering department which also would take over all subdivision control.

The street maintenance side approved last night probably will mean about $55,500 to be spent for salaries of a city foreman and two maintenance men, equipment, supplies and trucks. Final decisions will await budget approval by councilmen.

In other business last night, the Novato City Council:

1. Set June 27 as the date for a hearing on annexation of 46 acres of land north of the city.
2. Noted that a blight and insects were attacking trees on Orchard Way and heard the city administration was checking with agricultural authorities.
3. Continued for 90 days a request for rezoning of the John B. Pedranzini property off Grant Avenue to wholly commercial use.

Limits On Parking Considered By Council

Parking along Novato's main shopping street, Grant Avenue, will be limited to two hours if a resolution being considered by the city council is approved.

A series of resolutions limiting parking and setting angle parking areas were given to councilmen last night for consideration, following a one-man traffic survey by Councilman Everett Pozzi. He said he found most business operators on the street preferred angle parking, as now is permitted; there was a 49-12 vote for limiting parking time; 32 favored a one-hour limit while 28 favored a two-hour limit.

The limits would go into effect between Scott and Seventh Streets, if approved by city councilmen when the resolutions come up for consideration at the June 6 meeting.

Portions of Grant Avenue now have signs indicating one-hour parking limits, but these are not enforced as the signs are left over from the time of county jurisdiction. The city, incorporated a little more than a year ago, has no limits on parking.

The proposed limits would be in force between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. Some of the other provisions proposed:

1. Two-hour limit on the east side of First Street from Grant to a point 348 feet north of Vallejo Street.
2. Two-hour limit on First Street, west side, from Grant to 165 feet north of Grant.
3. Parking prohibited on Fourth Street, east side from Industrial Way to Grant and From Mirabella Avenue to Grant.

MEET THE BRITISH ROYAL COUPLE

These drawings, appearing in the current issue of Look magazine, were the creation of England's artist-prince, Charles. The prince, 12, titled the drawing on the left "Papa," the lad's father, Prince Philip. At right is "Mumm," or Queen Elizabeth II, his mother. (AP Wirephoto)

Novato Asks Action On Phone Service

Novato city councilmen last night in effect told the city's two telephone companies and the State Public Utilities Commission to hurry up on improvement of service to the city.

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. Monday filed a proposal with the PUC which, if approved, will mean subscribers in its TUcker exchange in Southern Novato and Ignacio may call to other parts of the city and to San Rafael by direct dialing and with no toll. The proposal also includes similar service for Southern Marin and San Rafael areas.

Western California Telephone Co., which serves the major part of Novato, will file a proposal within two weeks which will mean no-toll direct dialing to the Southern part of the city, Harold O. Davis, vice president and general manager, told councilmen last night. Direct no-toll dialing to San Rafael from Twinbrook numbers is still in the future, he said.

Both companies would put the service into effect within six to eight months after a favorable PUC decision, representatives said last night.

But councilmen pointedly asked if Novato wouldn't get faster PUC action if the city's problems were treated separately.

"I fail to see why the companies should not treat the area as a separate community," City Administrator J. Julien Baget said, after hearing from PT&T that "procedural" reasons dictated the "package" application including San Rafael and Sotuhern Marin service extensions.

"I can't see it would take any more time one way or another," answered E. W. Davis of PT&T.

From Manley Edwards, state PUC representative, councilmen heard they might ask for separate consideration, have a hearing in Novato June 12 or 13 and get a PUC decision four to five weeks later.

Hearing this, the council unanimously authorized a letter to the PUC asking that the matter be "expedited" and that first consideration be given to the Novato-Ignacio area.

The proposed service would end the 10-cent toll now levied for calls between the exchanges, but still within the city. For TUcker subscribers, it would end the 10-cent toll for calling San Rafael.

But the additional service will mean a rise in PT&T rates. "It's going to be proportionately higher up here" than in other county areas, commented Councilman John J. Angeloni.

The extra service by Western to its customers will mean a "very, very nominal" rise in rates, said Western's Davis.

Inter-District Meetings Out

Larkspur School District will make no more inter-district agreements to allow children to attend school in other districts, the board of trustees decided last night.

Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel said a recent ruling by the state attorney general holds that where children living in one district attend school in another, the district of residence must pay the difference between state aid and actual cost of educating the child. He said this might run to $250 per child.

Chamber Tells Highway View

Members of a Novato Chamber of Commerce committee stuck to their guns last night in favoring a Highway 101 route far east of Novato.

The committee prefers a route even farther east than that proposed by planning director Mary Summers, who presented her findings to the council after a traffic-planning study financed by the city.

Mrs. Summers' recommendation would put the highway east of the Northwestern Pacific tracks but "still too close to the center of town and to a certain degree affecting some of the residential areas," committee co-chairman Peter J. Ferrarese told councilmen.

Questioned closely by Councilman Charles R. Johnson, Ferrarese and co-chairman Daniel Aughney said the committee had not asked the opinion of any planners or public works representatives before coming to a decision.

Johnson is "liaison" between the council and the chamber committee, but was not invited to the committee meeting. "I didn't know they'd met," he commented.

The route proposed by Mrs. Summers would affect 100 homes "more or less," Ferrarese contended, while a curving route far to the east of the city would affect only three homes.

"We haven't rejected it (Mrs. Summers proposal)," Ferrarese said. "We feel there is a better route possible." He noted that Mrs. Summers had not considered cost factors of any alternate routes.

Council agreed the chamber committee should meet with Johnson and Mayor Wayne Womack and later with State Division of Highways representatives.

Public Works Department Is Planned

Novato will have its own public works department to handle street maintenance and some engineering work, city councilmen decided last night.

But councilmen agreed to continue for a year a contract with the county to provide some engineering services if requested by the city, and to provide map check and site inspections of subdivisions.

If public works director Charles A. Joseph can prove the need for one, councilmen agreed to consider hiring an assistant civil engineer next October. To back up the need for an additional engineer, City Administrator J. Julien Baget listed 29 projects engineers could be working on.

The proposals were put forth last night by Baget and Joseph. Councilmen last week in a study session on public works needs, had doubted the imediate necessity of a larger city engineering department which also would take over all subdivision control.

The street maintenance side approved last night probably will mean about $55,500 to be spent for salaries of a city foreman and two maintenance men, equipment, supplies and trucks. Final decisions will await budget approval by councilmen.

In other business last night, the Novato City Council:

1. Set June 27 as the date for a hearing on annexation of 46 acres of land north of the city.
2. Noted that a blight and insects were attacking trees on Orchard Way and heard the city administration was checking with agricultural authorities.
3. Continued for 90 days a request for rezoning of the John B. Pedranzini property off Grant Avenue to wholly commercial use.

Limits On Parking Considered By Council

Parking along Novato's main shopping street, Grant Avenue, will be limited to two hours if a resolution being considered by the city council is approved.

A series of resolutions limiting parking and setting angle parking areas were given to councilmen last night for consideration, following a one-man traffic survey by Councilman Everett Pozzi. He said he found most business operators on the street preferred angle parking, as now is permitted; there was a 49-12 vote for limiting parking time; 32 favored a one-hour limit while 28 favored a two-hour limit.

The limits would go into effect between Scott and Seventh Streets, if approved by city councilmen when the resolutions come up for consideration at the June 6 meeting.

Portions of Grant Avenue now have signs indicating one-hour parking limits, but these are not enforced as the signs are left over from the time of county jurisdiction. The city, incorporated a little more than a year ago, has no limits on parking.

The proposed limits would be in force between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. Some of the other provisions proposed:

1. Two-hour limit on the east side of First Street from Grant to a point 348 feet north of Vallejo Street.
2. Two-hour limit on First Street, west side, from Grant to 165 feet north of Grant.
3. Parking prohibited on Fourth Street, east side from Industrial Way to Grant and From Mirabella Avenue to Grant.

General Dean To Speak At School Graduation

Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, Korean War hero and holder of the Congressional Medal of Honor, will address the combined eighth grade graduations of the three elementary schools in the Larkspur School District, it was reported last night to the board of trustees.

For the first time in the history of the district, graduation for Neil Cummins, Larkspur-Corte Madera and Henry C. Hall schools will be combined at the gymnasium of Redwood High School on June 14.

One valedictorian from each school will make a speech, said Vaughn D. Seidel, superintendent.

Members of the board of trustees will divide the honors of passing out diplomas, Seidel said.

Supervisors Postpone Action On Power Line

County supervisors yesterday, at request of numerous objecting Marin County property owners, postponed action on a Pacific Gas and Electric Co. proposal to string two 200-000-volt electric lines on towers up to 170 feet high across North Marin.

Hearing on PG&E's application for a use permit was continued to June 26 at 1 p.m. The question is where the path of the lines will be.

Board Chairman William D. Fusselman suggested objecting property owners and Gordon Tandy of Novato, PG&E representative, get together and work out their differences before that date.

The power company plans to extend the two 200,000 volt lines from the proposed Bodega Bay atomic generating plant across Marin to the Lakeville substation in Sonoma County and the Ignacio substation.

Tandy said continued postponement is increasing the project's cost. He said the proposed route has been changed two or three times at the request of persons in the area.

Attorney Robert D. Huber of Mill Valley representing owners of the 500-acre Anderson-Rowe property north of Rickey's Rancho Rafael, said his clients have spent more than $15,000 in drawing up a master plan for a subdivision on their property. He said the power line would divide the property and detract from its value.

Several property owners present asked the matter be continued until they could determine whether the proposed line would cross their property. There were also several letters of protest.

The PG&E application was approved by the county planning commission after two hearings. Approval of the portion that will pass through the city of Novato was voted Monday night by the Novato Planning Commission, subject to concurrence by the city council, which will consider it June 6.

San Rafael Burglary

Three rugs, a carpet and a bed, valued at nearly $1,000 were taken during lunch yesterday from a home at 50 Hammondale Court, San Rafael, owner Charles Pincus of 801 Meadowsweet Drive, Corte Madera, told San Rafael police.

No Planner Session

The Larkspur planning commission did not hold its scheduled meeting last night because of lack of a quorum.

Group Backs Incorporation Of Tiburon

Membership of the Tiburon Property Owners Assn. last night by 9-4 vote endorsed incorporation of the Tiburon Peninsula.

The vote was taken after presentations by three proponents of the move and two opponents. Only 23 persons attended the meeting and only 13 voted.

President Fred C. Hannahs said, "The incorporated area will have 15,000 people and an assessed evaluation of 20 million dollars in seven years."

He added, "I am not committing myself to incorporation. If the supervisors hash up the map of the boundaries, I may not vote for it."

Tiburon Chamber of Commerce President William S. Johnsone, leader of a group favoring annexation to Belvedere, questioned the motives of incorporation proponents.

"If Vera Schultz were still in office, this group never would have made a move to incorporate," he declared. "This is a form of political reprisal."

(Mrs. Schultz was defeated for re-election to the county board of supervisors last year by J. Walter Blair.)

Hannahs retorted, "Has anyone questioned the motives of those people pushing the status quo?"

County Asked To Hike Child Care Payments

County supervisors yesterday were asked to hike the payment for each of five children under care at Sunny Hills from $190 per month to $371.

Supervisors referred the request made by Theodore Hermann, chairman of the Sunny Hills board of directors, to the budget committee.

"It is a question of whether we sink or swim," said Hermann of nine institutions which care for emotionally disturbed children.

Hermann said the $11,400 paid to Sunny Hills this year for the care of five emotionally disturbed children sent there by the probation and welfare departments did not meet their cost of care. The payment covers only one-third of the actual cost, he said.

Last year Sunny Hills ran an overall deficit of $30,000. The deficit will double if the rates paid by counties with children under care at the institution are not raised, Hermann said.

The cost for caring for each child at Sunny Hills was $495 per month in 1960, Hermann said. He estimated it would be $575 for 1961.

Clothes Racks Stolen

Four clothes racks have been stolen from the Terra Linda Gardens development within the past 10 days. Frank B. French, 1024A Las Gamos Road, San Rafael, resident manager, told San Rafael police yesterday. He said they have been disappearing one at a time. He valued them at $17.50 each.

Redwood High Elects President

Robert Trost was elected president of the Redwood High School student body for next fall in a runoff election yesterday, defeating Ronald Kalder.

Barbara Burns defeated Esther Tarics for secretary. Peter Ragan defeated Buddy Wechel for commissioner of athletics. Stephen Martin defeated Charlotte Robinson for commissioner of public relations. Other offices were decided in the initial election last Friday.

Only 49 per cent of the students voted, school authorities reported—with the graduating senior class turning out only a 22 per cent vote.

School authorities refused to disclose the tally of votes in the runoff.

Alto Rezoning Wins Approval Of Supervisors

Brooks Hinton won unanimous approval of the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday to rezone property at 11 Knoll Road, Alto, to permit construction of an apartment building.

The application had been twice denied by the county planning commission. (The Independent-Journal erroneously reported that the planners had approved.)

Supervisor J. Walter Blair moved approval, observing that it was in an apartment neighborhood and that approaching road width seemed adequate for anticipated traffic.

In other action, supervisors:

1. Set public hearing for June 13 at 2 p.m. on a request to reclassify from single residence to two-family residence property in the Tiburon area overlooking Paradise Drive. The petition is by Eleanor Poyer.

2. Confirmed action of the planning commission in approving erection of a 56-foot steel tower and a 14 by 29-foot building atop Mount Tamalpais' "middle peak." Pacific Gas and Electric Co. will use the structures to house and operate microwave equipment for controlling the gas pipeline from Canada to California.

3. Approved application of Henry Lautrup to expand his Palm Lane Trailer Court at Novato, overruling requiments by the planning commission that would have reduced the number of trailer spaces.

4. Approved plans for a nursery to be established Almonte Boulevard and Helen Avenue, Mill Valley, by Vernon E. Danley.

5. Set for 2 p.m. June 12 a hearing on plans for 750-lot development to be known as Bel Marin Keys on Marin Meadows Ranch, Ignacio, near Hamilton Air Force Base.

6. Approved tentative plans for subdivision of 43 acres at Novato, to be known as Bahai Del Norte tract.

7. Gave final, formal approval to three previously discussed subdivision plans—Drake's Bay Unit 1, Marin City Unit 2 and Marin City Unit 3.

Bus Victim 'Fair'

Roane T. Sais, 38, of Terra Linda remained in "fair to poor" condition at Marin General Hospital today. Sais, an insurance agent of 422 Hibiscus Way, was struck by a municipal bus in San Francisco Tuesday.

IN U.S. TO STUDY

Indian Good Will Ambassador Here

By DOROTHY S. GARDINER

A stockily built ambassador of good will from India was in Marin yesterday to address Fairfax seventh grade pupils at Deer Park School, and take a look at an "average" American home.

Dr. V. Madhusudan Reddy, 35-year-old lecturer at Osmania University, India, visited the Robert F. Schneider home at 175 Van Winkle Drive, Sleepy Hollow, after speaking to the youngsters he termed "of high intelligent quotient . . ."

Since his arrival in San Francisco two weeks ago to study at the American Academy of Asian Studies, Reddy said, he had been impressed by the people he found—"good, simple people with open minds and hearts."

Reddy said his people "admire the liberty loving history of this country" and the way "American youth died for liberty."

He will address a group at the home of Mrs. Joseph C. Hickingbotham, 1408 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, June 2. Proceeds from this lecture will be dotated to the Republican National Committee.

Reddy will study in other parts of the United States, Canada and Europe under a UNESCO regional study grant until next December.

Reddy's family donated the first acreage to the India Land Movement Program, instituted by disciples of Mahatma Gandhi, in 1951. The movement, to provide land for the impoverished of India who were falling easily for communist propaganda, has expanded until it now has seven million acres under its control, he reported.

As a result, said Reddy, communism in India "is dead as a force."

He said the formula for killing communism "is not to hate half the world but take out the roots," replacing them with spiritual values.

"Something must be done to bring the world together before we wipe ourselves out," he cautioned.

He said that his people appreciate the one billion dollars that this country has given to India over the years and the additional billion promised by the Kennedy administration, but "two persons with sympathetic hearts could win the nation, not the two billion dollars."

VISITOR FROM INDIA IN MARIN—Dr. V. Supervisors Postpone Action On Power Line

County supervisors yesterday, at request of numerous objecting Marin County property owners, postponed action on a Pacific Gas and Electric Co. proposal to string two 200-000-volt electric lines on towers up to 170 feet high across North Marin.

Hearing on PG&E's application for a use permit was continued to June 26 at 1 p.m. The question is where the path of the lines will be.

Board Chairman William D. Fusselman suggested objecting property owners and Gordon Tandy of Novato, PG&E representative, get together and work out their differences before that date.

The power company plans to extend the two 200,000 volt lines from the proposed Bodega Bay atomic generating plant across Marin to the Lakeville substation in Sonoma County and the Ignacio substation.

Tandy said continued postponement is increasing the project's cost. He said the proposed route has been changed two or three times at the request of persons in the area.

Attorney Robert D. Huber of Mill Valley representing owners of the 500-acre Anderson-Rowe property north of Rickey's Rancho Rafael, said his clients have spent more than $15,000 in drawing up a master plan for a subdivision on their property. He said the power line would divide the property and detract from its value.

Several property owners present asked the matter be continued until they could determine whether the proposed line would cross their property. There were also several letters of protest.

The PG&E application was approved by the county planning commission after two hearings. Approval of the portion that will pass through the city of Novato was voted Monday night by the Novato Planning Commission, subject to concurrence by the city council, which will consider it June 6.

San Rafael Burglary

Three rugs, a carpet and a bed, valued at nearly $1,000 were taken during lunch yesterday from a home at 50 Hammondale Court, San Rafael, owner Charles Pincus of 801 Meadowsweet Drive, Corte Madera, told San Rafael police.

No Planner Session

The Larkspur planning commission did not hold its scheduled meeting last night because of lack of a quorum.

Group Backs Incorporation Of Tiburon

Membership of the Tiburon Property Owners Assn. last night by 9-4 vote endorsed incorporation of the Tiburon Peninsula.

The vote was taken after presentations by three proponents of the move and two opponents. Only 23 persons attended the meeting and only 13 voted.

President Fred C. Hannahs said, "The incorporated area will have 15,000 people and an assessed evaluation of 20 million dollars in seven years."

He added, "I am not committing myself to incorporation. If the supervisors hash up the map of the boundaries, I may not vote for it."

Tiburon Chamber of Commerce President William S. Johnsone, leader of a group favoring annexation to Belvedere, questioned the motives of incorporation proponents.

"If Vera Schultz were still in office, this group never would have made a move to incorporate," he declared. "This is a form of political reprisal."

(Mrs. Schultz was defeated for re-election to the county board of supervisors last year by J. Walter Blair.)

Hannahs retorted, "Has anyone questioned the motives of those people pushing the status quo?"

County Asked To Hike Child Care Payments

County supervisors yesterday were asked to hike the payment for each of five children under care at Sunny Hills from $190 per month to $371.

Supervisors referred the request made by Theodore Hermann, chairman of the Sunny Hills board of directors, to the budget committee.

"It is a question of whether we sink or swim," said Hermann of nine institutions which care for emotionally disturbed children.

Hermann said the $11,400 paid to Sunny Hills this year for the care of five emotionally disturbed children sent there by the probation and welfare departments did not meet their cost of care. The payment covers only one-third of the actual cost, he said.

Last year Sunny Hills ran an overall deficit of $30,000. The deficit will double if the rates paid by counties with children under care at the institution are not raised, Hermann said.

The cost for caring for each child at Sunny Hills was $495 per month in 1960, Hermann said. He estimated it would be $575 for 1961.

Clothes Racks Stolen

Four clothes racks have been stolen from the Terra Linda Gardens development within the past 10 days. Frank B. French, 1024A Las Gamos Road, San Rafael, resident manager, told San Rafael police yesterday. He said they have been disappearing one at a time. He valued them at $17.50 each.

Redwood High Elects President

Robert Trost was elected president of the Redwood High School student body for next fall in a runoff election yesterday, defeating Ronald Kalder.

Barbara Burns defeated Esther Tarics for secretary. Peter Ragan defeated Buddy Wechel for commissioner of athletics. Stephen Martin defeated Charlotte Robinson for commissioner of public relations. Other offices were decided in the initial election last Friday.

Only 49 per cent of the students voted, school authorities reported—with the graduating senior class turning out only a 22 per cent vote.

School authorities refused to disclose the tally of votes in the runoff.

5. Set for 2 p.m. June 12 a hearing on plans for 750-lot development to be known as Bel Marin Keys on Marin Meadows Ranch, Ignacio, near Hamilton Air Force Base.

6. Approved tentative plans for subdivision of 43 acres at Novato, to be known as Bahai Del Norte tract.

San Clemente School Plans Get Approval

Plans for the $857,000 San Clemente School have been approved by the State Department of Architecture, with minor changes, the architects reported to Larkspur School District trustees last night.

The architects, Reid, Rockwell, Banwell and Tarics, will present the plans to the State Allocations Board on June 13, said Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel.

"We hope to have the 13 classroom building completed so we can move in by Feb. 1 or March at the latest," Seidel told the board.

Gilbert Slusher, district transportation head, presented three plans for bus service for the next school year.

One plan calls for using two 67-passenger busses on a heavy schedule; the second calls for using one 67-passenger bus and and one smaller bus, owned by the school district, and the third plan calls for curtailment of school bus service.

The board called for bids to be opened on June 13 on all three plans.

The Larkspur School Board also:

1. Hired Catherine Ann Coughlin, a Dominican College graduate, to teach sixth grade at the new San Clemente School.

2. Approved having North American Life and Casualty Co. continue writing student accident insurance at $1.50 per student per year.

3. Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Marilyn Paulsen as second grade teacher at Neil Cummins School.

4. Heard a report by Douglas Lindauer, principal of the summer school, that 442 students have signed up for summer school, which begins on June 26 at Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

HUB

bodies may hold executive sessions only to "consider the appointment, employment or dismissal of a public officer or employee or to hear complaints or charges brought against such officer or employee by another public officer, person or employee unless such officer or employee requests a public hearing."

Buresh then argued that this section in the Government Code applies to the hushing up of the accounting survey report.

At the time the city council called for the accounting survey report from the San Francisco firm of Lindquist, von Heusen and Joyce, this was the announced purpose of the survey:

1. To determine the adequacy of the present accounting system and procedures. (Buresh read this and declared gravely, "This point is directly connected with personnel.")

2. To recommend changes if such changes are necessary in the system of procedures. (Buresh declared, "This again is directly connected with personnel.")

3. To determine whether there is compliance with the systems and procedures. (Again "directly connected with personnel," said Buresh.)

"To reveal this report now would be breaking the law," Buresh asserted.

A member of the audience got up to point out that the word "personnel" is not mentioned at all in the section Buresh quoted; that the criterion for an executive session is whether or not an employee is being fired, hired, or charged with something.

Several speakers pointed out that purpose one, adequacy of the present system, must have been answered in the report, and this could certainly be made public without touching on charges against an employee. Buresh insisted it was "personnel."

A man who identified himself as Larkins then declared, "Any problem that the government wants to keep secret can then be ruled a personnel problem and kept from the public."

"That's absurd," said Buresh.

"The reason why so many people are here tonight is that they feel it is not absurd," the speaker replied.

A man who said he is a retired engineer wanted to know why a letter of dismissal had been sent to accountants Cooper and Kerr "if everyone is trying to do everything aboveboard."

City Administrator Douglas Flautt sent a letter of dismissal to Cooper and Kerr on April 17, with approval of Mayor Carleton Little but without the knowledge of other councilmen. The next night, the council rescinded the letter and asked Cooper and Kerr to ignore it.

Councilman Robert E. Rouse said this had no parallel with the hushed report. He was greeted by boos.

Fischel argued that Mrs. Anne Grant had been demoted from the controller's post. How can the release of the report do any more harm? he wanted to know.

Mayor Little on two occasions declared, "Only about 40 persons are here tonight whereas there are 4,000 or 5,000 others in the city who are not here." When he repeated this the second time, Councilman Rouse tore into him:

"The 40 here cannot be compared to the 5,000 elsewhere. The fact that 40 are here tonight indicates to me that they are interested." The crowd applauded.

Elizabeth Stocker, who said she is a relative newcomer to the city, wanted to know why Mrs. Catherine Wolcott, stenographer-secretary, was dismissed from her job when Mrs. Grant was demoted.

"You're talking of fair play and all that. Then why eliminate a position if this is really fair play?" she demanded.

City Attorney Buresh said it was done on economic considerations and nothing else.

One irate taxpayer asked councilmen point-blank: "I ask each of you, do you believe in public opinion? Then what the hell we waiting for?"

Finally, on a motion by Councilman Rouse, the city council unanimously released this statement:

"The council publicly goes on record that the hushed up report contained these points:

"1. The city's accounting system and procedures are adequate and necessary.

"2. There were no recommendations for changes in the basic accounting system.

"3. There were no discrepancies of funds or misappropriation of funds.

"4. No reference was made to the firm of Cooper and Kerr, which has performed various accounting services and audit in the past."

"There has been so much suspicion created that I don't know if this would allay all suspicions," Fischel observed in closing. He suggested that one person be picked from among the citizens to look at the report and expurge only those parts that have to do with personal charges against an employee. This the council refused.

Roger Esteves, publisher of the weekly Ross Valley Times, wanted to know what would happen if Mrs. Grant herself asked that the report be made public. City Attorney Buresh said he thinks the city would then be obliged to release the report.

Fischel declared he could go to the courts for a writ of mandamus to have the report released, but he is not sure whether he will take that step.

"Anyone interested may contact me," he said.

District Attorney To Appeal Attack Case Sentence

The district attorney served notice yesterday he will appeal the case of a rapist who was sentenced to state prison by a Marin Superior Court judge, who then reduced the sentence to a year in county jail.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales filed notice of appeal in Marin Superior Court. He contends that Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. did not have jurisdiction to change a prison sentence he had invoked previously on Louis Rose Joseph, 29-year-old truck driver.

Joseph was convicted of statutory rape involving a 15-year-old runaway girl from San Anselmo. He was caught in Monterey County last March with the girl.

The judge sentenced Joseph to prison for the term prescribed by law, which is up to 50 years in prison.

Bales contends that the sentence was entered in the records, and therefore the judge no longer had jurisdiction to re-sentence Joseph the next day to a year in county jail.

Assessor Opens Kentfield, Ross Question Office

An information bureau was open today, and will be open tomorrow and Friday for taxpayers in the Kentfield and Ross School Districts who have questions concerning re-appraisal of their properties.

County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel announced the information bureau is set up in the Caroline S. Livermore Room at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross. Staff members from the assessor's office will be there with property records until 9 o'clock tonight. The information bureau will be open tomorrow and Friday from 1 to 9 p.m.

The assessor has sent new appraisal figures to all property owners in Ross, Del Mesa, Greenbrae, Kentfield proper and Kent Woodlands. The average increase in value in these areas is 21 per cent, the assessor reported. "There were a few reductions, but the preponderance have shown increases," Broemmel announced.

In some of the extreme cases, the increase runs as high as 1,000 per cent. For example, open land formerly with an assessed value of $120 has gone up to $2,300 because a road has gone through to give it access, the assessor pointed out.

Reappraisals have also been completed in the Fairfax and San Anselmo areas. The average increase in valuations in those two areas comes to about 15 per cent, Broemmel reported.

The assessor has been setting up local information bureaus for the convenience of taxpayers who work during the day and find it difficult to come to the San Rafael courthouse. Staff members at the bureaus will hear protests and answer questions on how the new valuations were figured.

As of yesterday, Broemmel said he had received no written protest from property owners in the Kentfield and Ross School Districts.

The reappraisal is part of Assessor Broemmel's announced program of "Cycle reappraisal" to keep values current and equalize the sharing of the tax burden.

Attorney Told To Leave Meeting

Directors of the Strawberry Property Owners Assn. voted 25-3 last night against rezoning of the tip of Strawberry Point for apartments, after ordering Bryan R. McCarthy, attorney for the apartment applicant, to leave their meeting.

McCarthy remained at the meeting while the directors discussed Tiburon Peninsula incorporation, but then was told to leave — along with Al Warford, general manager of the Harbor Point properties of Samuel R. Neider, who seeks the apartment rezoning. McCarthy contended unsuccessfully that "this is a public group and should discuss these matters with the public.

Property owners at the meeting contributed $100 toward a "kitty" to assist in fighting the rezoning.

Regarding incorporation of the Tiburon peninsula, an informational meeting was set for 8 p.m. June 12 at Strawberry Point School to discuss it further.

A committee of five was set up to receive questions and consider the effect on Strawberry of incorporation. Committee members are Stephen H. Kaufman, Roland Hammond, William Young, Clarence Bush and Dr. David Steinhart.

Runaway Boys Return Home

Two San Rafael youngsters who ran away from their homes while recovering from poison oak infections returned yesterday.

Freddie Carl Chambers, 12, of 101 Taylor Street, and Bryant Lynn Hamilton, 13, of 1305 Second Street, told police they spent Tuesday night by the camp fire of a vagrant just north of the county civic center site.

The boys ran away at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday. They returned to their homes shortly after 5 p.m. yesterday.

Open Hearing Question Is Raised

Will there be an open hearing on the county administrator question before final action is taken?

(Action to rescind the administrator ordinance would be effective in 30 days.)

That question has been raised twice before the board of supervisors in the past two days.

Each time the question seemed to be answered in riddles.

The first time, on Monday, board chairman William D. Fusselman charged that the administrator ordinance was enacted five years ago without a hearing—over his protests that the public's desires in the matter ought to be determined.

"Does this mean you are going to rescind the action in the same way?" he was asked.

"Draw your own conclusions," he replied.

Yesterday, after a protest delegation had waited an hour without a chance to be heard, a woman finally addressed the board to ask if an opportunity would be afforded for comments from the audience.

Fusselman renewed his charges that the administrator ordinance was adopted without proper hearing. He said an old rule of law is to rescind action in the same manner it was taken.

Finally Supervisor Walter R. Castro offered a motion that a full-scale hearing be scheduled.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss seconded the motion for a hearing. Supervisors J. Walter Blair and George H. Ludy voted "no" and Fusselman voted "no, at present."

Fusselman eventually said there "quite likely" would be an opportunity for spectators to address the board later yesterday.

Some waited four hours before Fusselman announced the matter would not be considered until the next day.

Grand Opera was heard in Little Rock, Ark., for the first time in 1870, but an admission charge of $2.50 kept the crowd small.

San Clemente School Plans Get Approval

Plans for the $857,000 San Clemente School have been approved by the State Department of Architecture, with minor changes, the architects reported to Larkspur School District trustees last night.

The architects, Reid, Rockwell, Banwell and Tarics, will present the plans to the State Allocations Board on June 13, said Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel.

"We hope to have the 13 classroom building completed so we can move in by Feb. 1 or March at the latest," Seidel told the board.

Gilbert Slusher, district transportation head, presented three plans for bus service for the next school year.

One plan calls for using two 67-passenger busses on a heavy schedule; the second calls for using one 67-passenger bus and and one smaller bus, owned by the school district, and the third plan calls for curtailment of school bus service.

The board called for bids to be opened on June 13 on all three plans.

The Larkspur School Board also:

1. Hired Catherine Ann Coughlin, a Dominican College graduate, to teach sixth grade at the new San Clemente School.

2. Approved having North American Life and Casualty Co. continue writing student accident insurance at $1.50 per student per year.

3. Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Marilyn Paulsen as second grade teacher at Neil Cummins School.

4. Heard a report by Douglas Lindauer, principal of the summer school, that 442 students have signed up for summer school, which begins on June 26 at Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

bodies may hold executive sessions only to "consider the appointment, employment or dismissal of a public officer or employee or to hear complaints or charges brought against such officer or employee by another public officer, person or employee unless such officer or employee requests a public hearing."

Buresh then argued that this section in the Government Code applies to the hushing up of the accounting survey report.

At the time the city council called for the accounting survey report from the San Francisco firm of Lindquist, von Heusen and Joyce, this was the announced purpose of the survey:

1. To determine the adequacy of the present accounting system and procedures. (Buresh read this and declared gravely, "This point is directly connected with personnel.")

2. To recommend changes if such changes are necessary in the system of procedures. (Buresh declared, "This again is directly connected with personnel.")

3. To determine whether there is compliance with the systems and procedures. (Again "directly connected with personnel," said Buresh.)

"To reveal this report now would be breaking the law," Buresh asserted.

A member of the audience got up to point out that the word "personnel" is not mentioned at all in the section Buresh quoted; that the criterion for an executive session is whether or not an employee is being fired, hired, or charged with something.

Several speakers pointed out that purpose one, adequacy of the present system, must have been answered in the report, and this could certainly be made public without touching on charges against an employee. Buresh insisted it was "personnel."

A man who identified himself as Larkins then declared, "Any problem that the government wants to keep secret can then be ruled a personnel problem and kept from the public."

"That's absurd," said Buresh.

"The reason why so many people are here tonight is that they feel it is not absurd," the speaker replied.

A man who said he is a retired engineer wanted to know why a letter of dismissal had been sent to accountants Cooper and Kerr "if everyone is trying to do everything aboveboard."

City Administrator Douglas Flautt sent a letter of dismissal to Cooper and Kerr on April 17, with approval of Mayor Carleton Little but without the knowledge of other councilmen. The next night, the council rescinded the letter and asked Cooper and Kerr to ignore it.

Councilman Robert E. Rouse said this had no parallel with the hushed report. He was greeted by boos.

Fischel argued that Mrs. Anne Grant had been demoted from the controller's post. How can the release of the report do any more harm? he wanted to know.

Mayor Little on two occasions declared, "Only about 40 persons are here tonight whereas there are 4,000 or 5,000 others in the city who are not here." When he repeated this the second time, Councilman Rouse tore into him:

"The 40 here cannot be compared to the 5,000 elsewhere. The fact that 40 are here tonight indicates to me that they are interested." The crowd applauded.

Elizabeth Stocker, who said she is a relative newcomer to the city, wanted to know why Mrs. Catherine Wolcott, stenographer-secretary, was dismissed from her job when Mrs. Grant was demoted.

"You're talking of fair play and all that. Then why eliminate a position if this is really fair play?" she demanded.

City Attorney Buresh said it was done on economic considerations and nothing else.

One irate taxpayer asked councilmen point-blank: "I ask each of you, do you believe in public opinion? Then what the hell we waiting for?"

Finally, on a motion by Councilman Rouse, the city council unanimously released this statement:

"The council publicly goes on record that the hushed up report contained these points:

"1. The city's accounting system and procedures are adequate and necessary.

"2. There were no recommendations for changes in the basic accounting system.

"3. There were no discrepancies of funds or misappropriation of funds.

"4. No reference was made to the firm of Cooper and Kerr, which has performed various accounting services and audit in the past."

"There has been so much suspicion created that I don't know if this would allay all suspicions," Fischel observed in closing. He suggested that one person be picked from among the citizens to look at the report and expurge only those parts that have to do with personal charges against an employee. This the council refused.

Roger Esteves, publisher of the weekly Ross Valley Times, wanted to know what would happen if Mrs. Grant herself asked that the report be made public. City Attorney Buresh said he thinks the city would then be obliged to release the report.

Fischel declared he could go to the courts for a writ of mandamus to have the report released, but he is not sure whether he will take that step.

"Anyone interested may contact me," he said.

District Attorney To Appeal Attack Case Sentence

The district attorney served notice yesterday he will appeal the case of a rapist who was sentenced to state prison by a Marin Superior Court judge, who then reduced the sentence to a year in county jail.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales filed notice of appeal in Marin Superior Court. He contends that Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. did not have jurisdiction to change a prison sentence he had invoked previously on Louis Rose Joseph, 29-year-old truck driver.

Joseph was convicted of statutory rape involving a 15-year-old runaway girl from San Anselmo. He was caught in Monterey County last March with the girl.

The judge sentenced Joseph to prison for the term prescribed by law, which is up to 50 years in prison.

Bales contends that the sentence was entered in the records, and therefore the judge no longer had jurisdiction to re-sentence Joseph the next day to a year in county jail.

Assessor Opens Kentfield, Ross Question Office

An information bureau was open today, and will be open tomorrow and Friday for taxpayers in the Kentfield and Ross School Districts who have questions concerning re-appraisal of their properties.

County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel announced the information bureau is set up in the Caroline S. Livermore Room at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross. Staff members from the assessor's office will be there with property records until 9 o'clock tonight. The information bureau will be open tomorrow and Friday from 1 to 9 p.m.

The assessor has sent new appraisal figures to all property owners in Ross, Del Mesa, Greenbrae, Kentfield proper and Kent Woodlands. The average increase in value in these areas is 21 per cent, the assessor reported. "There were a few reductions, but the preponderance have shown increases," Broemmel announced.

In some of the extreme cases, the increase runs as high as 1,000 per cent. For example, open land formerly with an assessed value of $120 has gone up to $2,300 because a road has gone through to give it access, the assessor pointed out.

Reappraisals have also been completed in the Fairfax and San Anselmo areas. The average increase in valuations in those two areas comes to about 15 per cent, Broemmel reported.

The assessor has been setting up local information bureaus for the convenience of taxpayers who work during the day and find it difficult to come to the San Rafael courthouse. Staff members at the bureaus will hear protests and answer questions on how the new valuations were figured.

As of yesterday, Broemmel said he had received no written protest from property owners in the Kentfield and Ross School Districts.

The reappraisal is part of Assessor Broemmel's announced program of "Cycle reappraisal" to keep values current and equalize the sharing of the tax burden.

Attorney Told To Leave Meeting

Directors of the Strawberry Property Owners Assn. voted 25-3 last night against rezoning of the tip of Strawberry Point for apartments, after ordering Bryan R. McCarthy, attorney for the apartment applicant, to leave their meeting.

McCarthy remained at the meeting while the directors discussed Tiburon Peninsula incorporation, but then was told to leave — along with Al Warford, general manager of the Harbor Point properties of Samuel R. Neider, who seeks the apartment rezoning. McCarthy contended unsuccessfully that "this is a public group and should discuss these matters with the public.

Property owners at the meeting contributed $100 toward a "kitty" to assist in fighting the rezoning.

Regarding incorporation of the Tiburon peninsula, an informational meeting was set for 8 p.m. June 12 at Strawberry Point School to discuss it further.

A committee of five was set up to receive questions and consider the effect on Strawberry of incorporation. Committee members are Stephen H. Kaufman, Roland Hammond, William Young, Clarence Bush and Dr. David Steinhart.

Runaway Boys Return Home

Two San Rafael youngsters who ran away from their homes while recovering from poison oak infections returned yesterday.

Freddie Carl Chambers, 12, of 101 Taylor Street, and Bryant Lynn Hamilton, 13, of 1305 Second Street, told police they spent Tuesday night by the camp fire of a vagrant just north of the county civic center site.

The boys ran away at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday. They returned to their homes shortly after 5 p.m. yesterday.

Open Hearing Question Is Raised

Will there be an open hearing on the county administrator question before final action is taken?

(Action to rescind the administrator ordinance would be effective in 30 days.)

That question has been raised twice before the board of supervisors in the past two days.

Each time the question seemed to be answered in riddles.

The first time, on Monday, board chairman William D. Fusselman charged that the administrator ordinance was enacted five years ago without a hearing—over his protests that the public's desires in the matter ought to be determined.

"Does this mean you are going to rescind the action in the same way?" he was asked.

"Draw your own conclusions," he replied.

Yesterday, after a protest delegation had waited an hour without a chance to be heard, a woman finally addressed the board to ask if an opportunity would be afforded for comments from the audience.

Fusselman renewed his charges that the administrator ordinance was adopted without proper hearing. He said an old rule of law is to rescind action in the same manner it was taken.

Finally Supervisor Walter R. Castro offered a motion that a full-scale hearing be scheduled.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss seconded the motion for a hearing. Supervisors J. Walter Blair and George H. Ludy voted "no" and Fusselman voted "no, at present."

Fusselman eventually said there "quite likely" would be an opportunity for spectators to address the board later yesterday.

Some waited four hours before Fusselman announced the matter would not be considered until the next day.

Grand Opera was heard in Little Rock, Ark., for the first time in 1870, but an admission charge of $2.50 kept the crowd small.

Under the terms of the merger, shareholders of the First National Bank in San Rafael and the Bank of San Rafael will receive two shares of Crocker-Anglo stock for each combined share of the stock of the First National Bank in San Rafael and Bank of San Rafael.

Novato High Vice Principal Resigns Post

Robert W. Melton, vice principal of Novato High School for the past three years, last night resigned from the post.

In a letter to trustees of the Novato Unified School District, he said he was resigning "soley because of professional improvement in his new post, vice principal of new Irvington high school in Fremont, Alameda County.

Salary in the new post will be $10,500 yearly, compared to $8,460 at Novato High, Melton said today. He noted in his letter that the job will not include discipline control as it now does at Novato.

UNDER THE BATON — Director Winifred Baker takes two members of her chorale, Cary Barford and Suzanne Oberholtzer, through a practice session for Marin's first Festival of the Performing Arts to be held next month on the Dominican campus. Robaline Meacham, pianist, of the Marin Arts Quartet and Betty Jo Charlton, cellist, accompany the singers.

1st Performing Arts Festival Set For Marin

Bach, Dylan Thomas, Milhaud, Britten, Cesar Franck, Gilbert and Sullivan, Moussorgsky — these are just a few of the composers and dramatists whose work will be presented at Marin's first Festival of the Performing Arts.

The event is set for June 2, 3 and 4 at Angelico Hall of Dominican College in San Rafael.

The program will open at 8 p.m. June 2, with a special subscribers' concert presented by the Winifred Baker Chorale, Boys' Chorus and Orchestra. Included will be Britten's "St. Nicholas," Moussorgsky's "Joshua" and Vaughan Williams's "In Windsor Forest."

June 3, the festival will open at 1:45 p.m. with the Dick Ford Dancers performing a Bach chaconne and a modern work, "Americana."

'CREATION OF WORLD'

Following a half-hour intermission the Marin Arts Quartet Concert at 3 p.m. will feature the concert suite from Darius Milhaud's "Creation of the World" for piano and string quartet with Robaline Meacham at the piano. Haydn's "Emperor" quartet and Ray Green's "Five Epigrammatic Portraits" round out the program.

At 4:15 p.m. the Bay Area premiere of two works will be given: Lockwood's "Concerto for Organ and Brass" and Flor Peeter's "Entrata Festiva." Participating in these will be organist Wilbur Russell, trumpeters James Chesnut and Thompson Chesnut, trombonists David Reed and John Benson, and the Marin Handbell Ringers of the San Anselmo First Presbyterian Church.

FRANCK SONATA

Finale of this portion of the program will feature pianist Faith Yost France and violinist Mariam McArdell in Franck's "Sonata in A Major for Piano and Violin."

After another half-hour intermission, the Sausalito Little Theater under direction of Lynne Arden, will perform Dylan Thomas's verse drama, "Under Milk Wood." This performance will begin at 5:30 p.m.

Featured for the evening's activities following a dinner break will be San Francisco's Lamplighters, guest artists for the festival, in their production of Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Mikado."

The festival schedule June 4 will be a repeat of the June 3 performances.

THREE REHEARSE FOR FESTIVAL —Judith Modell (left), featured dancer with the Dick Ford Dancers; Jean Duckett and Eugene Ramey, both members of the Winifred Baker Chorale, are pictured at a general rehearsal meeting tuning up for Marin's first Festival of the Performing Arts June 2-4 in Angelico Hall of Dominican College, San Rafael. Commission Suggests Terra Linda Zoning

San Rafael Planning Commission last night recommended zoning the unclassified area of San Rafael east of Highway 101 and north of the Terra Linda Interchange into seven zoned areas.

The recommendation hinges on the stipulation that the requirements for "special multiple family residential" zoning be followed in the section of the Marin Professional Center so zoned.

The Cromwell Light Industrial subdivision of Harry Heifetz was zoned general commercial.

The Marin Professional Center area was broken up into three zoning classifications: administrative-professional, special multiple residential, and four lots facing the frontage road were zoned restricted commercial. This area is now occupied by a motel.

The large area north of the professional center reaching to the city limits line was zoned planned commercial and light industrial. Fairchild Semiconductor Corp. is on a site in this area.

Twenty-four acres belonging to Douglas M. Christensen were zoned for building of garden apartments. He plans 350 units.

The commissioners told E. W. Yanke of Lodi, who is planning on building a rest home in the Marin Professional Center, that he would not be allowed to subdivide land zoned administrative-professional into two lots. Yanke sought to build a home on the property. Commissioner Orlando Conti said a home could be built only if it were in conjunction with the rest home such as a caretaker's house.

Yanke then asked if he could build a second rest home on the property. The commissioners agreed he could.

Other areas in the unclassified district were zoned general commercial and restricted commercial.

Drake High Elects

Bob Fogerty and Jeff Hedin will head the Drake High School student body for the fall term as president and vice president.

They were elected in a runoff election at the school yesterday.

Class officers were elected as follows:

Seniors—Hunter Williams, president; Lou Davis, vice president; Lynda Morgan, secretary, and Karin Grubstick, treasurer.

Juniors—Dave Barley, president; Lybbie Doucet, vice president; Hilary Winkler, secretary; Gaby Marice, treasurer.

Planners Deny Use Permit

The Mill Valley Planning Commission last night denied a use permit to B. R. Randolph of Mill Valley to construct a service station at 660 East Blithedale Avenue.

The vote was 5-0 with commissioner John L. Castleman abstaining as it was his first meeting.

Commissioners disapproved of the location of the proposed station because of the additional traffic problems they said it would cause and because they felt the area already had enough service stations.

The commission alsho denied a variance for non-conforming parking requested by Loyal D. Davis of Mill Valley to permit construction of a professional office building at 316 Miller Avenue.

School On Monday

Students at Larkspur elementary schools must attend school next Monday, even though Tuesday is a holiday, the Larkspur School District Board decided last night. Many other school districts will have a four-day weekend.

San Rafael Planners Told Highway Landscaping Plan

It looks like Highway 101 will be landscaped from the northern end of the San Rafael overpass to the northern city limits City Manager Dan E. Andersen told the San Rafael Planning Commission last night.

He said after conferring with highway officials he was told to draft a model ordinance for the Division of Highways precluding control of area along Francisco Boulevard that "will never be landscaped."

The ordinance would prohibit bill boards in the area.

Planning Commissioner Gene F. O'Connor said the San Rafael city entrance at the southern end of the overpass should be landscaped as well.

"The city has a lousy looking entrance . . . that should be made into a thing of beauty," he declared.

Andersen forecast the Division of Highways agreement for widening of Highway 101 through San Rafael would be completed in five to six weeks.

The commissioners voted to hold a study session to go over the freeway report and master plan prepared for the city by Dan Coleman Associates of San Francisco, next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall council chambers, if Coleman was available.

A public hearing was also slated for June 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall chambers.

Reed District Tables Salary Group Proposal

The Reed School District board considered and then tabled a proposal to appoint a "super-committee" to study salary schedules after learning last night that a two-member trustee committee could not agree.

Mrs. Alyce C. Farkas, who served with Erwin C. Farley as a salary committee, reported she and Farley could not agree on the progression of the salary scale for teachers.

Chairman Richard J. MacLaury suggested a committee be formed of one teacher, one administrator, one board member and two or three citizens.

OBJECTIONS

This brought immediate objection from Mrs. Farkas and several teachers who were present. Trustee David D. Ring then suggested that a board committee be named to meet with the teachers' salary committee. But this, too, failed to win approval.

President William F. Carroll of the Tiburon Peninsula Little League said the league will spend $6,500-$7,000 for grading, turfing and sprinkler system for a baseball field behind Reed School if the district will provide material, landscaping and maintenance and make soil compaction studies.

LEGALITY

The legality of the matter and future land use of the area will be studied by the district. MacLaury asked Supt. Paul R. Stouffer to determine if community service funds can be used for such purpose.

Spencer reported 355 have enrolled for summer school. The board authorized spending an additional $400 for another teacher so that remedial reading and arithmetic classes can be limited to 15 pupils.

Stouffer said only 30 applications had been received for the job of superintendent which he is vacating. He commented that, at the $15,000-$17,000 salary range offered, the number should be closer to 200.

Mrs. Patricia Pierovich has been hired to teach sixth grade at Bel Aire School next year.

An adjourned meeting will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Reed School to discuss capital outlay.

Apartment Plan Approved

George Barnett of San Rafael Associates was given architectural approval by the San Rafael Planning Commission last night to build an 18-unit apartment house at 60 Fairfax Street.

The commissioners stipulated, however, that a fence proposed for the front of the building not exceed three feet high.

The planning commission also:

1. Granted Mrs. Marie Irwin a use permit for a combination living unit-office at the rear of 1016 C Street.

2. Gave architectural approval for remodeling a pharmacy at Fourth and C Streets, requested by Gary Rifkind, lessee; for a 22-unit apartment house at Sonoma and Canal Streets, asked by Arthur Nicholson; for a service station on Francisco Boulevard near Tiburon Street, requested by J. B. Johnson.

3. Approved the final map of Goheen Cinstruction Co.'s 56-foot Oak Woodlands Unit 2 in Dominican Gardens.

4. Postponed for two weeks decision on Graham MacPhail's request for a variance permit to erect a 16-foot fence behind his swimming pool at 70 El Camino Terrace.

5. Granted a use permit for a locker room addition at the Peacock Gap Clubhouse.

6. Set June 13 and 17 for public hearings on proposed rezoning of land on Fair Drive from single family to multiple and transient residential districts.

7. Set June 12 and 17 for public hearings on proposed rezoning of land at Lincoln Avenue and Fair Drive from single family and transient residential to restricted commercial district.

8. Granted architectural approval of a three-story building on the north side of Fourth between D and E streets to be built by Farrar Associated Enteprises. A dress shop will be on the ground floor, offices on the upper stories.

9. Postponed decision on annexation of lands of San Rafael Newport Co. on Point San Pedro Road opposite Mission Avenue for two weeks.

Aboard Destroyer

Radarman 3/c Robert Alderman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Alderman of 228 Laurel Place, San Rafael, is serving aboard the destroyer Hanson with the Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

Hub Police, Fire Chiefs Pay Increases Proposed

San Anselmo chiefs of police and fire and their assistants should get salary raises for the coming fiscal year, City Administrator Douglas Flautt reported last night.

But he made no recommendation for increase in pay for other city employees.

The administrator recommended a 10 per cent raise for the chiefs (from $676 to $745) and a five per cent raise for their assistants (from $613 to $644). This means an annual increase of $2,400 in salaries.

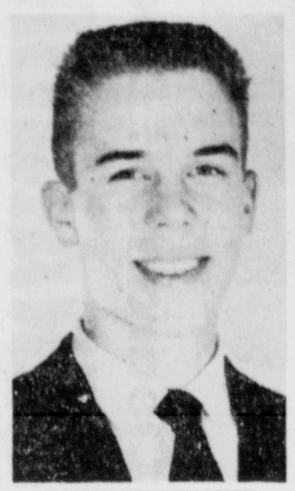
Flautt said the only other recommendation would be that the city share half the cost of a health plan for employees, which would cost the city $5,000.

The city council decided to take up the recommendations at budget hearings, which are set for June 14, 15 and 16.

City employees have asked for a five per cent salary raise across the board, which would come to $12,500 annual increase, and an insurance policy and health plan, which would cost $12,800. Police and fire departments asked for a uniform allowance, which would total $3,960 per year.

The administrator said he makes salary raise recommendations at this time for only the chiefs and assistants but may ask the council to consider raises for other employees in January.

City councilmen also set 8 p.m. June 6 as the time to hear a detailed engineering report on downtown development by Wilsey, Ham and Blair of Millbrae.



JAMES MOREHOUSE
Mediterranean summer

San Rafael Youth Will Study In Italy

James Morehouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reeve C. Morehouse, will be the San Rafael High School exchange student under the American Field Service program next fall.

James, 17, will sail from Montreal, Canada, on June 9. He will live with the family of Rodolfo Dernini, a lawyer, in the city of Cagliari, Italy, on the Mediterranean Sea. The family includes two 17-year-old boys and a 15-year-old girl.

He will be a senior at San Rafael High when he returns in the fall. James has been active in school as a member of the Key Club, Student Congress and the Student Police. He also is a member of the YMCA.

His parents have been transferred to New York since James applied for the exchange program, but he has remained in San Rafael to keep his eligibility for the program. He is living with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Hull of 10 Nevada Street.

Novato Parking Meeting Slated

Nineteen tenants and nine property owners have been invited to meet June 8 at the Novato City Hall to consider joint work on a parking lot off Industrial Way between Second and Fourth Streets.

Buildings fronting on Grant Avenue, the city's prime shopping street, have vacant areas on Industrial Way, to the rear. The city is considering improvement of Industrial Way, now gravel covered, and hopes property owners will consider improving their back lots for parking.

Details of the costs to city and owners still must be worked out, city public works director Charles A. Joseph said.

San Anselmo To Negotiate For Audit Job

San Anselmo last night decided to negotiate with the San Francisco accounting firm of Lindquist, Van Heusen and Joyce to make the city's annual audit for the coming fiscal year.

The San Rafael firm of Cooper and Kerr, which set up the city's accounting system in 1958, has been doing the city audit and accounting work for the past three years.

This year, city fathers decided that an outside firm should do the annual audit because, as Councilman Robert Rouse explained, it does not make sense to have the same firm audit its own work.

Cooper and Kerr is the firm which was "fired" last week by the administrator and the mayor, but the council immediately rescinded the action because the letter of dismissal had been sent without the council's knowledge.

The vote to negotiate with Lindquist, Von Heusen and Joyce was 4 to 1. Councilman Arthur W. Smith dissented, declaring, "I favor retaining Cooper and Kerr."

Lindquist, Von Heusen and Joyce is the firm which made the now hush-hush accounting survey report in April.

Machinist Burns Face

A San Rafael machinist was burned on his face, neck and hands while trying to connect a new burner on a steam generator yesterday.

William A. Whitaker, 48, of McNear's Point was in satisfactory condition today at San Rafael General Hospital. He suffered first and second degree burns.

The accident happened shortly before 11 a.m. yesterday at the McNear Co. on Point San Pedro Road.

"No one knows exactly what happened," Clay Rice, assistant plant manager, said. "Apparently some gas was left in the line after it was shut off and somehow this was ignited."

Hub Planners Give Council Road Proposal

San Anselmo should abandon Kensington Road between Ross and Woodland Avenue to make room for school expansion only if the school acquires the property abutting Kensington, the San Anselmo Planning Commission recommended last night.

City councilmen received the recomemndation but took no action beacuse it must hold a public hearing before a public road can be abandoned.

The school district needs Kensington Road and property to the east to double the present Wade Thomas School site, which is about two and one-half acres. The school wants to build four new classrooms to handle expanding school population.

Robert W. Corlett, representing the school board, reported to the city council that the next step for the school is to get state approval on its site utilization plan.

In other actions last night, the San Anselmo council:

1. Learned that work on the new library addition is behind schedule. June 16 was the agreed completion date, but the contractors want a 30-day extension, Administrator Douglas Flautt reported. City councilmen will decide at the next meeting how much extension to grant.

2. Decided that the noisy street sweeper would have to remain. The administrator reported that a new sweeper of another brand would cost $11,700, and the present sweeper would bring a trade-in of only about $2,000.

3. Accepted resignation of Leon A. Crosby from the San Anselmo Board of Review. He gave pressure of business as his reason. The councilmen voted him a letter of appreciation and decided to consider a successor at the June 13 meeting. Councilman Arthur W. Smith submitted the name of former councilman John P. O'Connell as a nominee to replace Crosby.

4. Decided to see if they can come up with more names to fill a vacancy on the planning commission. Those mentioned so far include Geoffrey Fairfax, architect, and Kenneth Anderson, property insurance underwriter.

5. Set June 24 as the date on which examinations will be given to applicants for the post of city controller. The examination and grading will be done by the California State Personnel Board, Administrator Flautt reported.

Hospital Parking Change Ordered

Ambulances and other cars entering Marin General Hospital with emergency cases must now use the main entrance to the hospital because of the construction work, W. W. Turner, administrator, last night told the hospital board of directors.

Doctors must park on the lower level, Turner pointed out, because the William Babcock Memorial Wing is being built in the area formerly occupied by the doctors' parking.

UNDER THE BATON — Director Winifred Baker takes two members of her chorale, Cary Barford and Suzanne Oberholtzer, through a practice session for Marin's first Festival of the Performing Arts to be held next month on the Dominican campus. Robaline Meacham, pianist, of the Marin Arts Quartet and Betty Jo Charlton, cellist, accompany the singers.

1st Performing Arts Festival Set For Marin

Bach, Dylan Thomas, Milhaud, Britten, Cesar Franck, Gilbert and Sullivan, Moussorgsky — these are just a few of the composers and dramatists whose work will be presented at Marin's first Festival of the Performing Arts.

The event is set for June 2, 3 and 4 at Angelico Hall of Dominican College in San Rafael.

The program will open at 8 p.m. June 2, with a special subscribers' concert presented by the Winifred Baker Chorale, Boys' Chorus and Orchestra. Included will be Britten's "St. Nicholas," Moussorgsky's "Joshua" and Vaughan Williams's "In Windsor Forest."

June 3, the festival will open at 1:45 p.m. with the Dick Ford Dancers performing a Bach chaconne and a modern work, "Americana."

'CREATION OF WORLD'

Following a half-hour intermission the Marin Arts Quartet Concert at 3 p.m. will feature the concert suite from Darius Milhaud's "Creation of the World" for piano and string quartet with Robaline Meacham at the piano. Haydn's "Emperor" quartet and Ray Green's "Five Epigrammatic Portraits" round out the program.

At 4:15 p.m. the Bay Area premiere of two works will be given: Lockwood's "Concerto for Organ and Brass" and Flor Peeter's "Entrata Festiva." Participating in these will be organist Wilbur Russell, trumpeters James Chesnut and Thompson Chesnut, trombonists David Reed and John Benson, and the Marin Handbell Ringers of the San Anselmo First Presbyterian Church.

FRANCK SONATA

Finale of this portion of the program will feature pianist Faith Yost France and violinist Mariam McArdell in Franck's "Sonata in A Major for Piano and Violin."

After another half-hour intermission, the Sausalito Little Theater under direction of Lynne Arden, will perform Dylan Thomas's verse drama, "Under Milk Wood." This performance will begin at 5:30 p.m.

Featured for the evening's activities following a dinner break will be San Francisco's Lamplighters, guest artists for the festival, in their production of Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Mikado."

The festival schedule June 4 will be a repeat of the June 3 performances.

THREE REHEARSE FOR FESTIVAL —Judith Modell (left), featured dancer with the Dick Ford Dancers; Jean Duckett and Eugene Ramey, both members of the Winifred Baker Chorale, are pictured at a general rehearsal meeting tuning up for Marin's first Festival of the Performing Arts June 2-4 in Angelico Hall of Dominican College, San Rafael. Commission Suggests Terra Linda Zoning

San Rafael Planning Commission last night recommended zoning the unclassified area of San Rafael east of Highway 101 and north of the Terra Linda Interchange into seven zoned areas.

The recommendation hinges on the stipulation that the requirements for "special multiple family residential" zoning be followed in the section of the Marin Professional Center so zoned.

The Cromwell Light Industrial subdivision of Harry Heifetz was zoned general commercial.

The Marin Professional Center area was broken up into three zoning classifications: administrative-professional, special multiple residential, and four lots facing the frontage road were zoned restricted commercial. This area is now occupied by a motel.

The large area north of the professional center reaching to the city limits line was zoned planned commercial and light industrial. Fairchild Semiconductor Corp. is on a site in this area.

Twenty-four acres belonging to Douglas M. Christensen were zoned for building of garden apartments. He plans 350 units.

The commissioners told E. W. Yanke of Lodi, who is planning on building a rest home in the Marin Professional Center, that he would not be allowed to subdivide land zoned administrative-professional into two lots. Yanke sought to build a home on the property. Commissioner Orlando Conti said a home could be built only if it were in conjunction with the rest home such as a caretaker's house.

Yanke then asked if he could build a second rest home on the property. The commissioners agreed he could.

Other areas in the unclassified district were zoned general commercial and restricted commercial.

Drake High Elects

Bob Fogerty and Jeff Hedin will head the Drake High School student body for the fall term as president and vice president.

They were elected in a runoff election at the school yesterday.

Class officers were elected as follows:

Seniors—Hunter Williams, president; Lou Davis, vice president; Lynda Morgan, secretary, and Karin Grubstick, treasurer.

Juniors—Dave Barley, president; Lybbie Doucet, vice president; Hilary Winkler, secretary; Gaby Marice, treasurer.

Planners Deny Use Permit

The Mill Valley Planning Commission last night denied a use permit to B. R. Randolph of Mill Valley to construct a service station at 660 East Blithedale Avenue.

The vote was 5-0 with commissioner John L. Castleman abstaining as it was his first meeting.

Commissioners disapproved of the location of the proposed station because of the additional traffic problems they said it would cause and because they felt the area already had enough service stations.

The commission alsho denied a variance for non-conforming parking requested by Loyal D. Davis of Mill Valley to permit construction of a professional office building at 316 Miller Avenue.

School On Monday

Students at Larkspur elementary schools must attend school next Monday, even though Tuesday is a holiday, the Larkspur School District Board decided last night. Many other school districts will have a four-day weekend.

San Rafael Planners Told Highway Landscaping Plan

It looks like Highway 101 will be landscaped from the northern end of the San Rafael overpass to the northern city limits City Manager Dan E. Andersen told the San Rafael Planning Commission last night.

He said after conferring with highway officials he was told to draft a model ordinance for the Division of Highways precluding control of area along Francisco Boulevard that "will never be landscaped."

The ordinance would prohibit bill boards in the area.

Planning Commissioner Gene F. O'Connor said the San Rafael city entrance at the southern end of the overpass should be landscaped as well.

"The city has a lousy looking entrance . . . that should be made into a thing of beauty," he declared.

Andersen forecast the Division of Highways agreement for widening of Highway 101 through San Rafael would be completed in five to six weeks.

The commissioners voted to hold a study session to go over the freeway report and master plan prepared for the city by Dan Coleman Associates of San Francisco, next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall council chambers, if Coleman was available.

A public hearing was also slated for June 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall chambers.

Reed District Tables Salary Group Proposal

The Reed School District board considered and then tabled a proposal to appoint a "super-committee" to study salary schedules after learning last night that a two-member trustee committee could not agree.

Mrs. Alyce C. Farkas, who served with Erwin C. Farley as a salary committee, reported she and Farley could not agree on the progression of the salary scale for teachers.

Chairman Richard J. MacLaury suggested a committee be formed of one teacher, one administrator, one board member and two or three citizens.

OBJECTIONS

This brought immediate objection from Mrs. Farkas and several teachers who were present. Trustee David D. Ring then suggested that a board committee be named to meet with the teachers' salary committee. But this, too, failed to win approval.

President William F. Carroll of the Tiburon Peninsula Little League said the league will spend $6,500-$7,000 for grading, turfing and sprinkler system for a baseball field behind Reed School if the district will provide material, landscaping and maintenance and make soil compaction studies.

LEGALITY

The legality of the matter and future land use of the area will be studied by the district. MacLaury asked Supt. Paul R. Stouffer to determine if community service funds can be used for such purpose.

Spencer reported 355 have enrolled for summer school. The board authorized spending an additional $400 for another teacher so that remedial reading and arithmetic classes can be limited to 15 pupils.

Stouffer said only 30 applications had been received for the job of superintendent which he is vacating. He commented that, at the $15,000-$17,000 salary range offered, the number should be closer to 200.

Mrs. Patricia Pierovich has been hired to teach sixth grade at Bel Aire School next year.

An adjourned meeting will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Reed School to discuss capital outlay.

Apartment Plan Approved

George Barnett of San Rafael Associates was given architectural approval by the San Rafael Planning Commission last night to build an 18-unit apartment house at 60 Fairfax Street.

The commissioners stipulated, however, that a fence proposed for the front of the building not exceed three feet high.

The planning commission also:

1. Granted Mrs. Marie Irwin a use permit for a combination living unit-office at the rear of 1016 C Street.

2. Gave architectural approval for remodeling a pharmacy at Fourth and C Streets, requested by Gary Rifkind, lessee; for a 22-unit apartment house at Sonoma and Canal Streets, asked by Arthur Nicholson; for a service station on Francisco Boulevard near Tiburon Street, requested by J. B. Johnson.

3. Approved the final map of Goheen Cinstruction Co.'s 56-foot Oak Woodlands Unit 2 in Dominican Gardens.

4. Postponed for two weeks decision on Graham MacPhail's request for a variance permit to erect a 16-foot fence behind his swimming pool at 70 El Camino Terrace.

5. Granted a use permit for a locker room addition at the Peacock Gap Clubhouse.

6. Set June 13 and 17 for public hearings on proposed rezoning of land on Fair Drive from single family to multiple and transient residential districts.

7. Set June 12 and 17 for public hearings on proposed rezoning of land at Lincoln Avenue and Fair Drive from single family and transient residential to restricted commercial district.

8. Granted architectural approval of a three-story building on the north side of Fourth between D and E streets to be built by Farrar Associated Enteprises. A dress shop will be on the ground floor, offices on the upper stories.

9. Postponed decision on annexation of lands of San Rafael Newport Co. on Point San Pedro Road opposite Mission Avenue for two weeks.

Aboard Destroyer

Radarman 3/c Robert Alderman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Alderman of 228 Laurel Place, San Rafael, is serving aboard the destroyer Hanson with the Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

Hub Police, Fire Chiefs Pay Increases Proposed

San Anselmo chiefs of police and fire and their assistants should get salary raises for the coming fiscal year, City Administrator Douglas Flautt reported last night.

But he made no recommendation for increase in pay for other city employees.

The administrator recommended a 10 per cent raise for the chiefs (from $676 to $745) and a five per cent raise for their assistants (from $613 to $644). This means an annual increase of $2,400 in salaries.

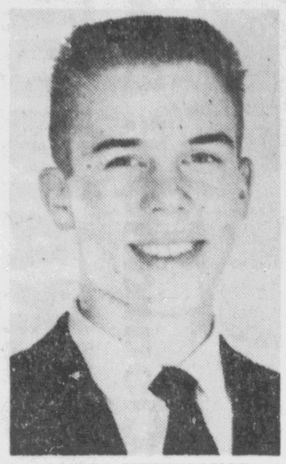
Flautt said the only other recommendation would be that the city share half the cost of a health plan for employees, which would cost the city $5,000.

The city council decided to take up the recommendations at budget hearings, which are set for June 14, 15 and 16.

City employees have asked for a five per cent salary raise across the board, which would come to $12,500 annual increase, and an insurance policy and health plan, which would cost $12,800. Police and fire departments asked for a uniform allowance, which would total $3,960 per year.

The administrator said he makes salary raise recommendations at this time for only the chiefs and assistants but may ask the council to consider raises for other employees in January.

City councilmen also set 8 p.m. June 6 as the time to hear a detailed engineering report on downtown development by Wilsey, Ham and Blair of Millbrae.



JAMES MOREHOUSE

San Rafael Youth Will Study In Italy

James Morehouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reeve C. Morehouse, will be the San Rafael High School exchange student under the American Field Service program next fall.

James, 17, will sail from Montreal, Canada, on June 9. He will live with the family of Rodolfo Dernini, a lawyer, in the city of Cagliari, Italy, on the Mediterranean Sea. The family includes two 17-year-old boys and a 15-year-old girl.

He will be a senior at San Rafael High when he returns in the fall. James has been active in school as a member of the Key Club, Student Congress and the Student Police. He also is a member of the YMCA.

His parents have been transferred to New York since James applied for the exchange program, but he has remained in San Rafael to keep his eligibility for the program. He is living with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Hull of 10 Nevada Street.

Novato Parking Meeting Slated

Nineteen tenants and nine property owners have been invited to meet June 8 at the Novato City Hall to consider joint work on a parking lot off Industrial Way between Second and Fourth Streets.

Buildings fronting on Grant Avenue, the city's prime shopping street, have vacant areas on Industrial Way, to the rear. The city is considering improvement of Industrial Way, now gravel covered, and hopes property owners will consider improving their back lots for parking.

Details of the costs to city and owners still must be worked out, city public works director Charles A. Joseph said.

San Anselmo To Negotiate For Audit Job

San Anselmo last night decided to negotiate with the San Francisco accounting firm of Lindquist, Van Heusen and Joyce to make the city's annual audit for the coming fiscal year.

The San Rafael firm of Cooper and Kerr, which set up the city's accounting system in 1958, has been doing the city audit and accounting work for the past three years.

This year, city fathers decided that an outside firm should do the annual audit because, as Councilman Robert Rouse explained, it does not make sense to have the same firm audit its own work.

Cooper and Kerr is the firm which was "fired" last week by the administrator and the mayor, but the council immediately rescinded the action because the letter of dismissal had been sent without the council's knowledge.

The vote to negotiate with Lindquist, Von Heusen and Joyce was 4 to 1. Councilman Arthur W. Smith dissented, declaring, "I favor retaining Cooper and Kerr."

Lindquist, Von Heusen and Joyce is the firm which made the now hush-hush accounting survey report in April.

Machinist Burns Face

A San Rafael machinist was burned on his face, neck and hands while trying to connect a new burner on a steam generator yesterday.

William A. Whitaker, 48, of McNear's Point was in satisfactory condition today at San Rafael General Hospital. He suffered first and second degree burns.

The accident happened shortly before 11 a.m. yesterday at the McNear Co. on Point San Pedro Road.

"No one knows exactly what happened," Clay Rice, assistant plant manager, said. "Apparently some gas was left in the line after it was shut off and somehow this was ignited."

Hub Planners Give Council Road Proposal

San Anselmo should abandon Kensington Road between Ross and Woodland Avenue to make room for school expansion only if the school acquires the property abutting Kensington, the San Anselmo Planning Commission recommended last night.

City councilmen received the recomemndation but took no action beacuse it must hold a public hearing before a public road can be abandoned.

The school district needs Kensington Road and property to the east to double the present Wade Thomas School site, which is about two and one-half acres. The school wants to build four new classrooms to handle expanding school population.

Robert W. Corlett, representing the school board, reported to the city council that the next step for the school is to get state approval on its site utilization plan.

In other actions last night, the San Anselmo council:

1. Learned that work on the new library addition is behind schedule. June 16 was the agreed completion date, but the contractors want a 30-day extension, Administrator Douglas Flautt reported. City councilmen will decide at the next meeting how much extension to grant.

2. Decided that the noisy street sweeper would have to remain. The administrator reported that a new sweeper of another brand would cost $11,700, and the present sweeper would bring a trade-in of only about $2,000.

3. Accepted resignation of Leon A. Crosby from the San Anselmo Board of Review. He gave pressure of business as his reason. The councilmen voted him a letter of appreciation and decided to consider a successor at the June 13 meeting. Councilman Arthur W. Smith submitted the name of former councilman John P. O'Connell as a nominee to replace Crosby.

4. Decided to see if they can come up with more names to fill a vacancy on the planning commission. Those mentioned so far include Geoffrey Fairfax, architect, and Kenneth Anderson, property insurance underwriter.

5. Set June 24 as the date on which examinations will be given to applicants for the post of city controller. The examination and grading will be done by the California State Personnel Board, Administrator Flautt reported.

Hospital Parking Change Ordered

Ambulances and other cars entering Marin General Hospital with emergency cases must now use the main entrance to the hospital because of the construction work, W. W. Turner, administrator, last night told the hospital board of directors.

Doctors must park on the lower level, Turner pointed out, because the William Babcock Memorial Wing is being built in the area formerly occupied by the doctors' parking.

NEW FLIGHT VEHICLE

$250,000 Plant Is Planned

A lumber processing plant, costing $250,000 for land and buildings, is scheduled for construction at the east end of the Corte Madera overpass.

Two acres of land have been sold by H. C. Wood of Blue Rock Hotel Apartments, Larkspur, to Fairview Land Co., owed by Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael. The land transaction is reported to be in escrow, pending approval of the plant by the Corte Madera Planning Commission.

The price listed for the land was $100,000, with total development to cost around $250,000.

No application has been filed yet with the planning commission, which next meets on June 8, nor with the board of design which meets on June 5.

George E. Bertram and George F. Thomas of Bertram Realty, Corte Madera, arranged the sale of the land.

Housewife Gets 5 Days For Drunken Driving

Mildred Anne Smith, 45, San Francisco housewife, must spend five days in Marin County Jail and pay $263 fine for her second drunken driving offense.

She was sentenced yesterday by Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court for driving while intoxicated on Highway 101 at Alto on May 13. She was previously convicted of drunken driving in San Francisco in February of 1958.

HAMILTON GETS NEW PERSONNEL

Cassiday Going To War College, Replaced By Col. William Barns

Col. William F. Barns will take over early in July as deputy commander of Hamilton Air Force Base.

Barns will replace Col. Benjamin B. Cassiday Jr. as deputy commander of the base and second in command of the 78th Fighter Wing.

Cassiday has been at Hamilton since July, 1959. He leaves to attend the National War College in Washington, D. C.

Barns, 39, has been in the service since his enlistment in Hawaii the day after the Japanese attack on Dec. 7, 1941. He was taking civilian flight training at an airport next to Hickam Field when strafing planes came overhead. He served in the European theater in World War I, flying 210 missions.

Barns in 1953 set the then-world speed record in an F-86D jet fighter, hitting 715.5 miles per hour. He commanded the first squadron of F-100 jets in the Far East in 1956-58. He has been at Hamilton since January, 1960, and now is commander of the 78th Maintenance and Supply Group.

His decorations include the silver star, distinguished flying cross with oak leaf cluster, and air medal with eight clusters.

Col. Vernon J. Henderson, row commander of the 437th Fighter Squadron at Oxnard Air Force Base, will move to the post vacated by Barns.

Other top officer switches at the base include assignment of Col. Edward E. Beaty, executive officer of the 28th air division-SAGE to headquarters of the air defense command at Ent Air Force Base, Colo. His replacement has not been named.

Col. Louis W. Ford, deputy commander for operations of the 78th Wing, will be reassigned as assistant deputy for operations of the 29th Air Division at Richards-Gabaur Air Force Base near Kansas City. Col. Lloyd R. Larson will move from a stint at the National War College to replace Ford.

Jack Lentz Buys Marin Print Shop

Jack R. Lentz of Mill Valley announced today he has bought the Marin Printer, a commercial printing shop in Marinship, from Gordon W. Strawbridge of Sausalito and will take over operation of the plant June 1.

Lentz, 32, resigned Monday as manager of the Mill Valley Record. He has been with the Record four years, beginning as managing editor.

Frederick Curry, former co-owner and co-publisher of the Solano Republican, a semi-weekly in Fairfield, has joined the Record as assistant to the publisher. He lives in Vacaville with his wife, Helen, and 12-year-old son, Christopher, and plans to move to Mill Valley at the end of the school year.

The Marin Printer plant, which is at Gate 5, Marinship, was originally set up by Strawbridge of 83 Filbert Street, Sausalito, about five years ago. Strawbridge, former mayor of Mill Valley and former owner of the Strawbridge Stationery Store, said he is going into semi-retirement.

NEW FLIGHT VEHICLE

$250,000 Plant Is Planned

A lumber processing plant, costing $250,000 for land and buildings, is scheduled for construction at the east end of the Corte Madera overpass.

Two acres of land have been sold by H. C. Wood of Blue Rock Hotel Apartments, Larkspur, to Fairview Land Co., owed by Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael. The land transaction is reported to be in escrow, pending approval of the plant by the Corte Madera Planning Commission.

The price listed for the land was $100,000, with total development to cost around $250,000.

No application has been filed yet with the planning commission, which next meets on June 8, nor with the board of design which meets on June 5.

George E. Bertram and George F. Thomas of Bertram Realty, Corte Madera, arranged the sale of the land.

Housewife Gets 5 Days For Drunken Driving

Mildred Anne Smith, 45, San Francisco housewife, must spend five days in Marin County Jail and pay $263 fine for her second drunken driving offense.

She was sentenced yesterday by Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court for driving while intoxicated on Highway 101 at Alto on May 13. She was previously convicted of drunken driving in San Francisco in February of 1958.

HAMILTON GETS NEW PERSONNEL

Cassiday Going To War College, Replaced By Col. William Barns

Col. William F. Barns will take over early in July as deputy commander of Hamilton Air Force Base.

Barns will replace Col. Benjamin B. Cassiday Jr. as deputy commander of the base and second in command of the 78th Fighter Wing.

Cassiday has been at Hamilton since July, 1959. He leaves to attend the National War College in Washington, D. C.

Barns, 39, has been in the service since his enlistment in Hawaii the day after the Japanese attack on Dec. 7, 1941. He was taking civilian flight training at an airport next to Hickam Field when strafing planes came overhead. He served in the European theater in World War I, flying 210 missions.

Barns in 1953 set the then-world speed record in an F-86D jet fighter, hitting 715.5 miles per hour. He commanded the first squadron of F-100 jets in the Far East in 1956-58. He has been at Hamilton since January, 1960, and now is commander of the 78th Maintenance and Supply Group.

His decorations include the silver star, distinguished flying cross with oak leaf cluster, and air medal with eight clusters.

Col. Vernon J. Henderson, now commander of the 437th Fighter Squadron at Oxnard Air Force Base, will move to the post vacated by Barns.

Other top officer switches at the base include assignment of Col. Edward E. Beaty, executive officer of the 28th air division-SAGE to headquarters of the air defense command at Ent Air Force Base. Colo. His replacement has not been named.

Col. Louis W. Ford, deputy commander for operations of the 78th Wing, will be reassigned as assistant deputy for operations of the 29th Air Division at Richards-Gabaur Air Force Base near Kansas City. Col. Lloyd R. Larson will move from a stint at the National War College to replace Ford.

Col. James P. Lyle, deputy for personnel of the 28th, will leave to become vice commander of the 552nd Early Warning and Control Squadron at McLellan Air Force Base. Col. Ramon R. Melton, director of operatioins for the 28th, will replace Lyle.

Col. Harold E. Kofahl, air attache in Hong Kong, will become the new inspector general of the division.

Jack Lentz Buys Marin Print Shop

Jack R. Lentz of Mill Valley announced today he has bought the Marin Printer, a commercial printing shop in Marinship, from Gordon W. Strawbridge of Sausalito and will take over operation of the plant June 1.

Lentz, 32, resigned Monday as manager of the Mill Valley Record. He has been with the Record four years, beginning as managing editor.

Frederick Curry, former co-owner and co-publisher of the Solano Republican, a semi-weekly in Fairfield, has joined the Record as assistant to the publisher. He lives in Vacaville with his wife, Helen, and 12-year-old son, Christopher, and plans to move to Mill Valley at the end of the school year.

The Marin Printer plant, which is at Gate 5, Marinship, was originally set up by Strawbridge of 83 Filbert Street, Sausalito, about five years ago. Strawbridge, former mayor of Mill Valley and former owner of the Strawbridge Stationery Store, said he is going into semi-retirement.

MAKING PROGRESS

Little Cheryl Ann Hurst of Austin, Tex., has been a victim of polio for six years now. For a long time she was unable to leave her iron lung long enough to attend school. Now she can join other second graders in class. She is shown here working a math problem with her teacher, Mrs. Olive Eskidge. She must use a special pencil brace to write and spend her nights in the iron lung — but she's making progress. (UPI Telephoto)

Bill Would Mean More Teacher Pay

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill intended to require schools to spend more for teachers and less for administrators and consultants moved to the Assembly today with Senate approval.

The measure by Sen. Stanley Arnold (D-Susanville) would require elementary schools to use 60 per cent of their funds for teachers' salaries, high schools and junior colleges 50 per cent and unified districts 55 per cent.

Present law requires schools to spend 65 per cent of the "foundation program" on salaries of certificated employees or for tuition.

Arnold says the present law is meaningless and affects only a few fast-growing small districts.

SENATE VOTES TELEPHONE TAX RAISE

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate has voted unanimously to tax California's telephone companies 8.5 million dollars annually. The firms, which say they will pass on the cost to consumers, have not opposed the bill.

The proposed constitutional amendment by Sen. Richard Richards (D-Los Angeles), would levy a 1 per cent tax on California revenues of telephone firms and then distribute the money to cities and counties.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1934 canceled an amendment to the Constitution of Cuba which allowed the United States to intervene in Cuban affairs.

Real Estate 'Price Fixing' Measure Gains

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk has lost the first round in a battle against legislation he says will legalize price fixing in the real estate business.

The Assembly Governmental Efficiency and Economy Committee yesterday approved a bill by Assemblyman Carley V. Porter (D-Compton) which would authorize the California Real Estate Assn. to publish an "advisory schedule of fees and commissions."

Mosk has said fees and commissions should be arrived at in an "open market" situation between real estate firms and their clients.

School Bond Vote Measure Reactivated

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—A proposal to reduce the percentage of vote needed to pass school bonds has been reactivated in the State Senate.

Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy moved his measure, SCA 5, off the Senate inactive file and onto the Senate second reading file with the intention of amending it and pushing for its passage.

The constitutional amendment provides a reduction of the percentage of voters needed to pass school bond issues from 66⅔ per cent to 60 per cent.

McCarthy said he intends to amend the bill on the floor of the Senate today so that it will be determined locally in each county whether the reduction should be made.

Under his amendments, a school district wishing to have its voting percentage lowered, must pass a resolution by a two-thirds majority of the school board of trustees asking the county board of supervisors' permission. The supervisors would have to agree by a two-thirds vote.

Once the supervisors approved the lower vote, however, it would not be necessary for the school district to seek additional approval for subsequent bond issues.

Bill To Reduce Power Of Legislature Gains

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill to take some power away from the Legislature in reorganizing the state executive departments was headed for the Assembly Ways and Means Committee today.

The measure by Assemblyman Nicholas Petris (D-Oakland) was approved yesterday by the Assembly Government Organization Committee without a dissent. It has the support of Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

More than half the land area of Arkansas is in forests.

Aged Parents Support Virtually Wiped Out

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Legislation virtually wiping out requirements that adult children help support their needy and aged parents has been approved by the Senate.

The vote yesterday on the measure by Sen. Richard Richards (D-Los Angeles) was 27-0.

The population center of the United States in 1790, the first year of the census, was 23 miles east of Baltimore. The population of the nation that year was 3,929,412.

Student-Parent Folk Dance Fete At Hartzell

Students of Hartzel School in San Rafael and their parents will join in a folk-dancing festival at the school Friday at 10:15 a.m., Lawrence McArdell, fifth grade teacher, announced today.

Each of the school's classes has prepared a program, McArdell said.

Because it is not merely a Roman Catholic shrine but an archive of history, St. Peter's Basilica in Rome attracts visitors of many faiths.

The university regents asked Kerr to continue in his university post.

School Bond Vote Measure Reactivated

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—A proposal to reduce the percentage of vote needed to pass school bonds has been reactivated in the State Senate.

Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy moved his measure, SCA 5, off the Senate inactive file and onto the Senate second reading file with the intention of amending it and pushing for its passage.

The constitutional amendment provides a reduction of the percentage of voters needed to pass school bond issues from 66⅔ per cent to 60 per cent.

McCarthy said he intends to amend the bill on the floor of the Senate today so that it will be determined locally in each county whether the reduction should be made.

Under his amendments, a school district wishing to have its voting percentage lowered, must pass a resolution by a two-thirds majority of the school board of trustees asking the county board of supervisors' permission. The supervisors would have to agree by a two-thirds vote.

Once the supervisors approved the lower vote, however, it would not be necessary for the school district to seek additional approval for subsequent bond issues.

Aged Parents Support Virtually Wiped Out

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Legislation virtually wiping out requirements that adult children help support their needy and aged parents has been approved by the Senate.

The vote yesterday on the measure by Sen. Richard Richards (D-Los Angeles) was 27-0.

The population center of the United States in 1790, the first year of the census, was 23 miles east of Baltimore. The population of the nation that year was 3,929,412.

Students of Hartzel School in San Rafael and their parents will join in a folk-dancing festival at the school Friday at 10:15 a.m., Lawrence McArdell, fifth grade teacher, announced today.

Each of the school's classes has prepared a program, McArdell said.

Bill Would Mean More Teacher Pay

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill intended to require schools to spend more for teachers and less for administrators and consultants moved to the Assembly today with Senate approval.

The measure by Sen. Stanley Arnold (D-Susanville) would require elementary schools to use 60 per cent of their funds for teachers' salaries, high schools and junior colleges 50 per cent and unified districts 55 per cent.

Present law requires schools to spend 65 per cent of the "foundation program" on salaries of certificated employees or for tuition.

Arnold says the present law is meaningless and affects only a few fast-growing small districts.

SENATE VOTES TELEPHONE TAX RAISE

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate has voted unanimously to tax California's telephone companies 8.5 million dollars annually. The firms, which say they will pass on the cost to consumers, have not opposed the bill.

The proposed constitutional amendment by Sen. Richard Richards (D-Los Angeles), would levy a 1 per cent tax on California revenues of telephone firms and then distribute the money to cities and counties.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1934 canceled an amendment to the Constitution of Cuba which allowed the United States to intervene in Cuban affairs.

Real Estate 'Price Fixing' Measure Gains

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk has lost the first round in a battle against legislation he says will legalize price fixing in the real estate business.

The Assembly Governmental Efficiency and Economy Committee yesterday approved a bill by Assemblyman Carley V. Porter (D-Compton) which would authorize the California Real Estate Assn. to publish an "advisory schedule of fees and commissions."

Mosk has said fees and commissions should be arrived at in an "open market" situation between real estate firms and their clients.

PRESS BOX VIEWS

By JACK HANLEY

Alvin Dark Deserves Admiration; Isn't Afraid To Criticize Injustice

HANLEY

ST. LOUIS—The more we see of Alvin Dark the more we admire him. He believes in going to bat for his men, Willie McCovey included. Dark isn't afraid to speak his mind when he thinks an injustice is being done.

When he got three of his errant men out of the Phoenix pokey where they had been lodged on a bum beef, as the facts which Dark ferreted out proved, we liked the way he refused to mince words. He charged that hoodlums were responsible for the Phoenix incident and was ready to prove it, if necessary, with a string of witnesses he personally lined up while determining precisely what the facts were.

Dark, slow to anger, was fuming Sunday when a good portion of Candlestick Park's 1961 record crown of 41,495 lustily booed McCovey as he came to bat in the seventh inning as Billy Loes' pinch-hitter. When McCovey struck out, and didn't look very good doing it, the booers really let loose.

In decrying the treatment of McCovey as a shame and a throw-back to last year's ineptness of McCovey at first base—and at bat—Dark placed the blame on the San Francisco press.

"I think he's being booed because of the way the press has been treating him," Dark said. "It's a shame. He had a good road trip on our first swing around the circuit and he hustled in every game. But in Candlestick it seems that those fans who take their cue from the press get a particular delight in every opportunity to boo McCovey.

"I'm not familiar with what went on last year in Candlestick except in those games when I came in as a player with the Phillies and the Braves. But I don't think it is fair or sportsmanlike to condemn a player forever for what happened a year ago.

"Furthermore, I don't believe the writers who have been McCovey's sharpest critics could do good work if they had the feeling somebody was looking over their shoulder waiting to boo their slightest slipup.

"I picked McCovey in spring camp as my first baseman because he won the job on what he showed me during the spring. And anyone who saw McCovey—any fair minded person—would have come to the same decision.

And in our first home stand and our first road trip, he justified that decision. I can cite a dozen cases where he dug the ball out of the dirt at first for excellent putouts. I can cite three games his bat won. The statistics don't show those things. His .196 is no indication whatsoever of his 19 RBI's and six homers. Statistics are misleading whenever anyone wants to use them in a misleading manner.

"But let McCovey make the tiniest kind of mistake and the Candlestick booers cut loose. I don't believe it is their fault. I believe 90% of all fans are fair. I believe a good portion of them in Candlestick, however, have been misled about McCovey.

"Why should he be singled out for the treatment he received Sunday, for instance, when Sandy Koufax struck him out? Remember, Koufax struck out five others in that game and held the rest to four hits.

"I think it's time to let bygones be bygones and begin fair judgment of McCovey—not on anything that happened a year ago—but on what he already has accomplished this year."

CLOSE CALL—San Rafael outfielder Mike Osborne dives safely back into first base on second inning pickoff attempt in game against Redwood yesterday. Pitcher Rich Brear's throw to first baseman Mark Pearce (9), on this play was wild and the error enabled Osborne to go to second. He eventually scored during four-run rally that helped San Rafael to a 6-4 victory and a tie with Tamalpais for the Marin League championship. (Jim Kean photo)

Bulldogs Barely Beat Redwood In Final Tilt

San Rafael High School, hanging on for dear life in a wild and woolly seventh inning, managed to score a 6-4 victory over Redwood High yesterday that lifted the Bulldogs into a tie for the Marin Athletic League's baseball championship with the Tamalpais Indians.

Boasting a 6-0 lead going into the final frame, the Bulldogs had to call on relief pitcher Dennis Hall to retire the Giants who had the tying run on second base and the go-ahead runner on first. All this was the result of wildness on the part of starting pitcher Jack Sovereign, but Hall ended the game of "Jacks are wild" by getting Terry Jarcik to ground out to second base and end the game.

San Rafael's eighth victory against two losses thus matched the record of Tam, which completed its schedule last Friday. The Marin League prohibits playoffs, so both co-leaders are awarded a pennant.

Sovereign was wild all afternoon in the game at Albert Field, San Rafael, but great defensive plays and his own bearing down shut the door on the Giants through the first six frames.

BIG RALLY

Inning number seven, however, proved Sovereign's downfall. An error enabled Jarcik to reach first to open the inning and then Sovereign walked Rocky Jordan and rival hurler Rich Brear to load the bags. Big Jack appeared to be working his way out of the mess by striking out Don Simon and getting Joe Weis to pop to third for two outs, but then the San Rafael righthander blew sky high. In succession he walked Mark Pearce, Mike Walsh, John Whitney and pinch-hitter Jim Troppmann as the Giants got on a merry-go-round for their four runs. After Sovereign walked Troppmann — his 12th free pass of the day and sixth of the inning—Coach Jack Sims summoned Hall from the bullpen. Dennis an All-League hurler last season but somewhat of a disappointment this year, threw only two pitches to retire the side as Jarcik bounced to Rich Curry at second for the final out.

EARLY SCORING

San Rafael bunched its runs in the first four innings. The Bulldogs got one in the first when Billy Roberts doubled, went to third on an error and scored on Curry's infield out.

A big second inning made it 5-0. Mike Osborne was hit by a pitched ball, went to second on an error and to third on a passed ball. He scored on John Franzman's single. Sovereign then singled with Franzman going to third. After Sovereign stole second, Roberts walked to load the bases. Curry singled home Franzman for his second RBI, an error enabled Sovereign to score and Roberts came home on a wild pitch.

San Rafael capped its scoring in the fourth when Roberts' second double of the game scored Sovereign who had walked and stolen second.

DEFENSIVE GEMS

Coach Sims credited defense with a major role in the cluth victory. Two nice plays by Curry at second, Roberts' throw out of a runner at home from left field and a Franzman to Curry to Jim Costello double play were highlights.

Sovereign, who had six strikeouts, managed to beat out Redwood's Brear as the league's whiff champ. Brear had nine yesterday. Sovereign also had the best won-lost record in the league—6-1.

The Bulldogs' co-championship in baseball capped an outstanding spring sports season for San Rafael High. Its trackmen swept all three divisions of the league's track and field championships and its tennis team went through the season undefeated.

Cal Shades Stanford In CIBA Finale, 3-2

BERKELEY (UPI)—University of California finished its CIBA season with a 3-2 win over Stanford in a 10-inning battle yesterday.

The regular contest ended 1-1, but the Cards scored once in the top of the inning and the Bears then pushed across two tallies. Bill Oakley was the winner.

The Bears ended up second in the CIBA with an 11-5 record. Stanford tied Santa Clara for last with a 5-11 mark.

Missing Novatan Found In San Rafael

Travis Arthur Fodge, 46, of 17 Palm Lane, Novato, who was reported missing from home since last Wednesday, was located yesterday in San Rafael and booked on suspicion of drunkenness.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court set his bail at $26.25 yesterday and ordered Fodge to appear in court again this afternoon or forfeit the bail.

Unbeaten Prep Miler Will Visit Stanford

SPOKANE, Wash. (UPI)—Paul Schlicke, unbeaten prep miler who "felt tight" while running a 4:19.3 in the Washington State High School meet last Saturday, will visit the Stanford campus next weekend and discuss enrollment.

Schlicke, son of a Spokane doctor who plans to take up pre-medicine said he would probably enter Washington if he doesn't sign up at Stanford.

1961 Giants Heading Toward Traditional S.F. Nosedive?

CINCINNATI (UPI)—There's a strange tradition that may become as much a part of San Francisco as the hills, fog and bridges for which the city is justly famous.

This is the annual collapse of the San Francisco Giants baseball team, which has built up fat leads over the rest of the National League for three consecutive years only to lose them with suddenness.

The latest tailspin appeared to be in full swing yesterday as the St. Louis Cards belted the Giants, 12-4.

Rookie Manager Alvin Dark hopes that this tradition can be smashed this year.

Despite their four losses in five games, the Giants clung to first place in a great four-team dog fight since Los Angeles and Pittsburgh also were defeated last night.

But the Giants must start winning tonight against Cincinnati, since the surprising Reds are the fourth team fighting for the lead and are but a game and a half off the pace.

McCORMICK TONIGHT

The Giants will have their best going as they battle to stay on top. Mike McCormick (4-2) will hurl for San Francisco against another promising youngster, Jim O'Toole (4-3).

Yesterday's game represented about as sound a thrashing as the Giants have taken all year.

San Francisco scored in the first as Harvey Kuenn walloped his second homer of the year. But then the Cards took over.

Ex-Giant Bill White, who had a field day, socked a fourmaster with a mate aboard in the first. In the third, the Cards sent Sam Jones to the showers with a five-run barrage that pretty well settled things.

White drove in one run, Daryl Spencer and Alex Grammas two each during the outbreak.

White drove in still another tally in the fourth off reliever Eddie Fisher, best-looking of four Giant chuckers last night.

Meanwhile, the Giants hit young lefty Ray Sadecki freely, but had a hard time generating runs.

CEPEDA HOMERS

Jim Davenport doubled in Orlando Cepeda in the fourth and Cepeda powered his 12th homer of the year in the sixth. This made it 8-3.

The Cards rapped Jim Duffalo and Billy O'Dell in the final two frames for four runs Spencer drove in his third tally; White got his fourth hit and fifth RBI; and another ex-Giant joined the act as Don Taussig delivered a two-run hit.

Jose Pagan singled in the fourth Giant run in the eighth.

The Cards outhit San Francisco, 15-12, but the game was one-sided from the third inning on.

Thet Giants need some wins. Fourth place is only a short step down.

Legalize The Spitter, A.L. President Urges

BOSTON (AP) — Joe Cronin, president of the American League, said today he favors reinstatement of the spitball as a legal pitch in baseball.

"There's nothing dangerous or bad about the spitter," Cronin said. "I had to bat against both and I'll tell you a good knuckleball is much harder to hit than a spitball."

Cronin's comments came after Chicago manager Al Lopez complained to the league office about alleged use of the spitter by Ryne Duren, the ex-Yankee relief pitcher recently traded to Los Angeles. The White Sox asked Cronin: "What are you going to do about the spitball?"

Although the pitch was outlawed in 1920 because it was ruled too difficult to control, a number of major league pitchers still use moist deliveries with water mopped from the brow, neck, sweat-soaked uniforms or clammy hands.

Lew Burdette, ace righthander of the Milwaukee Braves, frequently has been accused of throwing a spitter. Preacher Roe of the Dodgers, after his retirement a few years ago, admitted in a signed magazine article that he frequently threw the spitter during his National League career.

"The rules committee, of course, must decide the spitball question," said Cronin.

"Actually, Charlie Berry (former catcher) probably is the only umpire in our league who can even recognize the old spitball," said Cronin, so adept a shortstop and manager in his playing days that he was voted to the Hall of Fame.

"The spitball isn't more difficut to hit than the knuckler, which is legal, and doesn't break more sharply," he said.

"The advantage is that it gives the pitcher more deception. In the old days, the pitcher went to his mouth behind cupped pitching and gloved hands. You never knew whether the next one was going to be a fast ball, curve, knuckler—or a real spitball."

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Big Tal Smith fired a two-under-par 142 to lead eight northern California qualifiers in the initial test for the U. S. Open.

The eight players must journey to Bakersfield June 6 for another 36-hole grind against southern California's best with one spot in the U. S. Open field open for every three candidates there. The big show itself will be held at Oakland Hills C. C. at Birmingham, Mich., June 15-17.

Thirty-nine golfers shot for the eight qualifying spots.

Marin Group Climbs Shasta; First of Year

Three members of the Marin Ski Club this past weekend were the first climbers of the season to reach the summit of Mount Shasta.

They were Mr. and Mrs. John Vonkow of 70 Shell Road, Mill Valley and George Hartlmaier of 16 Forbes Avenue, San Anselmo. All three are experienced European mountain climbers.

They were among a group of 25 of the club's members who spent the weekend skiing at Mount Shasta Bowl. But the mountain climbing trio arose at 5 a.m. Saturday and ascended the 14,000-foot peak, said Robert Dixon, club member.

They brought along some climbing equipment and carried their skis on the way up and rode on them on the way down that same afternoon. They didn't need the climbing gear, said Dixon.

Cincy Hill Staff Burning Up League

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cincinnati Reds, a bounce back bunch, are within 1½ games of the National League lead again because of a kid right-hander high on the "Rookie of the Year" list and a stubborn southpaw who might be the league's No. 1 relief ace.

After sinking to the bottom when they lost 10 of their first 15 games, the Reds have won 15 of their last 20. Ken Hunt, a youngster who fires overhand and sidearm, and Billy Henry, the fireballing fireman, have been in on almost half of those victories in the comeback spurt to fourth place.

Hunt and Henry combined for a five-hit, 2-0 victory over second-place Los Angeles last night—dealing the Dodgers their first shutout of the season and ending their winning streak of five.

San Francisco retained a percentage point (.013) lead although the Giants were walloped 12-4 at St. Louis. Third-place Pittsburgh remained within one game of the top despite a 1-0 defeat at Milwaukee on the four-hit pitching of Lew Burdette. Last-place Philadelphia defeated the Chicago Cubs 2-1 in 10 innings.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

In the American League, the Detroit Tigers padded their bulge to 4½ games with a 5-2 victory at Minnesota while the last-place Los Angeles Angels were whipping runner-up Cleveland 9-0. Baltimore defeated Chicago's White Sox 3-1 and Washington beat Kansas City 7-3 in the only other games.

Hunt, 22, a 6-foot-4, 210-pounder who wasn't on the Reds' spring roster, has beaten the Giants, Pittsburgh and now the Dodgers in a 4-2 record and is 3-1 in the Reds' comeback. Henry, the old man of the staff at 33, has four saves in the same spurt.

The Dodgers, who had won eight in a row on the road, got five hits off Hunt. The youngster struck out six, but also walked six, bringing on Henry in the eighth for a perfect, 1⅓-inning mopup.

SNAP SLUMP

The Reds beat Los Angeles for the first time in five tries by bunching three of their seven hits for two runs in the sixth off Don Drysdale (3-3). Gus Bell's sacrifice fly and a single by Gordie Coleman brought them across after singles by Don Blasingame and Vada Pinson and a walk had loaded the bases.

The Braves scored in the first inning on a triple by Frank Bolling and a single by Ed Mathews, then managed just two more hits off loser Bobby Shantz (1-1), making his first start in two seasons, and reliever Elroy Face.

A single by Charlie Smith and a two-out triple by Bob Malkmus broke it up for the Phils against Glen Hobbie (2-5).

PREP, LITTLE LEAGUE CONTROVERSY

San Rafael Little Leaguers, scheduled for a game at Albert Park last night, interrupted the San Rafael-Redwood High School game by starting to erect a stakes and rope fence across the high school game's outfield area. The action resulted in all sorts of confusion and delayed the high school game. The Little Leaguers claimed they had the right to take over the playing field. After much hassle, the Little Leaguers reluctantly retreated and permitted the high school game to continue to its conclusion. Modesto Relays Will Host Greatest Of Track And Field

By HAL WOOD

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The greatest collection of track and field athletes to appear on one field in the United States since the 1960 Olympic trials will go on stage in the California relays at Modesto Saturday night.

Just about every top runner, jumper and weight man in the country will be competing — the first gathering of the all-star plane this year.

It's a tribute to Tom Moore, a one-time University of California hurdler, who is the meet's director.

Moore goes first class when it comes to attracting the best in the track and field world. He runs a meet where the attendance can't be more than 9,000. That returns about $15,000. But he has a budget of $25,000 set up by the city's merchants.

With that budget this year, he will have on hand six of the world's greatest pole vaulters. These include the newest sensation, George Davies of Oklahoma State, who cleared 15 feet, 10½ inches last Saturday night; and Don Bragg, the recognized world's champion at 15 feet, 9¼ inches.

He has a dozen men who have been clocked at 9.4 in the 100-yard dash or more. Jamaican Dennis Johnson of San Jose State, who has equaled or bettered the world mark of 9.3 five times this year, tops the cast. But also there will be Charley Tidwell of Kansas, Dave Styron of Southern Illinois, Stone Johnson of Grambling and Harry Jerome and Roscoe Cook of Oregon. Not a bad field for an Olympics competition, even.

Such fine milers as Dyrol Burleson of Oregon, and Jim Beatty of Santa Clara Youth Village will be on hand. They broke the American record here last year.

And so it goes on down through the list. Top relay teams from Western Michigan, Abilene Christian, Oregon and other points will be on hand.

Moore can stage this type of a meet because he has the backing of the merchants, who gladly kick in to make up any deficit. They figure the international publicity of a Modesto dateline is worth everything it costs. And their long-range thinking already has won them a title, some years back, of "All American City."

Most of the big relays in the country, such as the Penn, Drake, Kansas and Texas, stick strictly to the college talent. But Moore believes that if United States is to be strong in the Olympics, it should have solid testing grounds for the boys who already have graduated from school.

The result is the all-star collection of athletes who will shoot at new national and world marks in Modesto Saturday night.

Jim Johnson Of UCLA Honored As Best Athlete

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Versatile athlete Jim Johnson of UCLA has a one-up score on his more famous brother, Olympic decathlon king Rafer Johnson.

The younger Johnson was named by his fellow athletes as the school's "most outstanding track and field star for 1961." He was voted the same award in 1959.

Rafer was voted the honor in 1956.

Brother Jim excelled in the low and high hurdles and broad jump. He was also an outstanding halfback in football and was drafted by the San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League.

Kerr Expects To Remain UC Chief

BERKELEY (AP) — President Clark Kerr said he expects to remain as head of the statewide University of California system.

Kerr's statement yesterday apparently removed him from consideration for appointment as assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs.

"I have no comments on reports on a new Washington position except to say I expect to remain at the University of California," Kerr's statement said.

The university regents asked Kerr to continue in his university post.

PRESS BOX VIEWS

By JACK HANLEY

Alvin Dark Deserves Admiration; Isn't Afraid To Criticize Injustice

HANLEY

ST. LOUIS—The more we see of Alvin Dark the more we admire him. He believes in going to bat for his men, Willie McCovey included. Dark isn't afraid to speak his mind when he thinks an injustice is being done.

When he got three of his errant men out of the Phoenix pokey where they had been lodged on a bum beef, as the facts which Dark ferreted out proved, we liked the way he refused to mince words. He charged that hoodlums were responsible for the Phoenix incident and was ready to prove it, if necessary, with a string of witnesses he personally lined up while determining precisely what the facts were.

Dark, slow to anger, was fuming Sunday when a good portion of Candlestick Park's 1961 record crown of 41,495 lustily booed McCovey as he came to bat in the seventh inning as Billy Loes' pinch-hitter. When McCovey struck out, and didn't look very good doing it, the booers really let loose.

In decrying the treatment of McCovey as a shame and a throw-back to last year's ineptness of McCovey at first base—and at bat—Dark placed the blame on the San Francisco press.

"I think he's being booed because of the way the press has been treating him," Dark said. "It's a shame. He had a good road trip on our first swing around the circuit and he hustled in every game. But in Candlestick it seems that those fans who take their cue from the press get a particular delight in every opportunity to boo McCovey.

"I'm not familiar with what went on last year in Candlestick except in those games when I came in as a player with the Phillies and the Braves. But I don't think it is fair or sportsmanlike to condemn a player forever for what happened a year ago.

"Furthermore, I don't believe the writers who have been McCovey's sharpest critics could do good work if they had the feeling somebody was looking over their shoulder waiting to boo their slightest slipup.

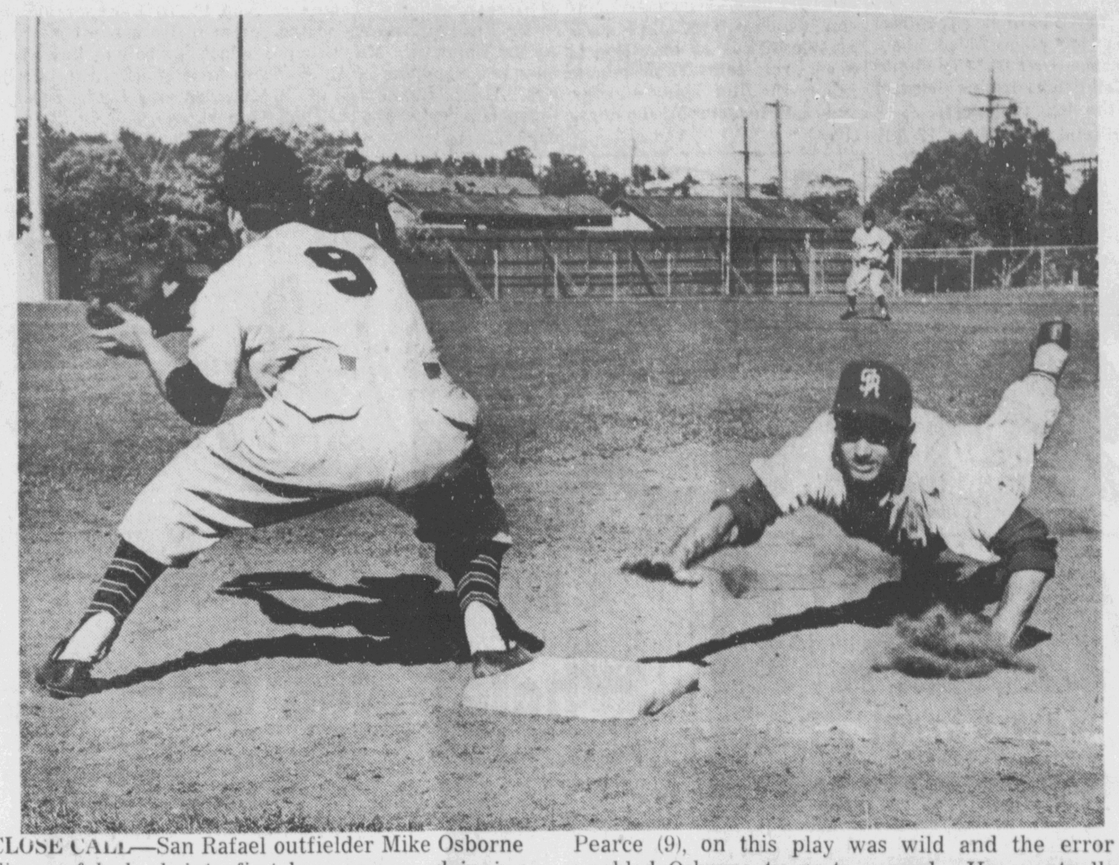
"I picked McCovey in spring camp as my first baseman because he won the job on what he showed me during the spring. And anyone who saw McCovey—any fair minded person—would have come to the same decision.

And in our first home stand and our first road trip, he justified that decision. I can cite a dozen cases where he dug the ball out of the dirt at first for excellent putouts. I can cite three games his bat won. The statistics don't show these things. His .196 is no indication whatsoever of his 19 RBI's and six homers. Statistics are misleading whenever anyone wants to use them in a misleading manner.

"But let McCovey make the tiniest kind of mistake and the Candlestick booers cut loose. I don't believe it is their fault. I believe 99% of all fans are fair. I believe a good portion of them in Candlestick, however, have been misled about McCovey.

"Why should he be singled out for the treatment he received Sunday, for instance, when Sandy Koufax struck him out? Remember, Koufax struck out five others in that game and held the rest to four hits.

"I think it's time to let bygones be bygones and begin fair judgment of McCovey—not on anything that happened a year ago—but on what he already has accomplished this year."



CLOSE CALL—San Rafael outfielder Mike Osborne dives safely back into first base on second inning pickoff attempt in game against Redwood yesterday. Pitcher Rich Brear's throw to first baseman Mark Pearce (9), on this play was wild and the error enabled Osborne to go to second. He eventually scored during four-run rally that helped San Rafael to a 6-4 victory and a tie with Tamalpais for the Marin League championship. (Jim Kean photo)

Bulldogs Barely Beat Redwood In Final Tilt

San Rafael High School, hanging on for dear life in a wild and woolly seventh inning, managed to score a 6-4 victory over Redwood High yesterday that lifted the Bulldogs into a tie for the Marin Athletic League's baseball championship with the Tamalpais Indians.

Boasting a 6-0 lead going into the final frame, the Bulldogs had to call on relief pitcher Dennis Hall to retire the Giants who had the tying run on second base and the go-ahead runner on first. All this was the result of wildness on the part of starting pitcher Jack Sovereign, but Hall ended the game of "Jacks are wild" by getting Terry Jarcik to ground out to second base and end the game.

San Rafael's eighth victory against two losses thus matched the record of Tam, which completed its schedule last Friday. The Marin League prohibits playoffs, so both co-leaders are awarded a pennant.

Sovereign was wild all afternoon in the game at Albert Field, San Rafael, but great defensive plays and his own bearing down shut the door on the Giants through the first six frames.

BIG RALLY

Inning number seven, however, proved Sovereign's downfall. An error enabled Jarcik to reach first to open the inning and then Sovereign walked Rocky Jordan and rival hurler Rich Brear to load the bags. Big Jack appeared to be working his way out of the mess by striking out Don Simon and getting Joe Weis to pop to third for two outs, but then the San Rafael righthander blew sky high. In succession he walked Mark Pearce, Mike Walsh, John Whitney and pinch-hitter Jim Troppmann as the Giants got on a merry-go-round for their four runs. After Sovereign walked Troppmann — his 12th free pass of the day and sixth of the inning—Coach Jack Sims summoned Hall from the bullpen. Dennis, an All-League hurler last season but somewhat of a disappointment this year, threw only two pitches to retire the side as Jarcik bounced to Rich Curry at second for the final out.

EARLY SCORING

San Rafael bunched its runs in the first four innings. The Bulldogs got one in the first when Billy Roberts doubled, went to third on an error and scored on Curry's infield out.

A big second inning made it 5-0. Mike Osborne was hit by a pitched ball, went to second on an error and to third on a passed ball. He scored on John Franzman's single. Sovereign then singled with Franzman going to third. After Sovereign stole second, Roberts walked to load the bases. Curry singled home Franzman for his second RBI, an error enabled Sovereign to score and Roberts came home on a wild pitch.

San Rafael capped its scoring in the fourth when Roberts' second double of the game scored Sovereign who had walked and stolen second.

DEFENSIVE GEMS

Coach Sims credited defense with a major role in the clutch victory. Two nice plays by Curry at second, Roberts' throw out of a runner at home from left field and a Franzman to Curry to Jim Costello double play were highlights.

Sovereign, who had six strikeouts, managed to beat out Redwood's Brear as the league's whiff champ. Brear had nine yesterday. Sovereign also had the best won-lost record in the league—6-1.

The Bulldogs' co-championship in baseball capped an outstanding spring sports season for San Rafael High. Its tracksters swept all three divisions of the league's track and field championships and its tennis team went through the season undefeated.

1961 Giants Heading Toward Traditional S.F. Nosedive?

CINCINNATI (UPI)—There's a strange tradition that may become as much a part of San Francisco as the hills, fog and bridges for which the city is justly famous.

This is the annual collapse of the San Francisco Giants baseball team, which has built up fat leads over the rest of the National League for three consecutive years only to lose them with suddenness.

The latest tailspin appeared to be in full swing yesterday as the St. Louis Cards belted the Giants, 12-4.

Rookie Manager Alvin Dark hopes that this tradition can be smashed this year.

Despite their four losses in five games, the Giants clung to first place in a great four-team dog fight since Los Angeles and Pittsburgh also were defeated last night.

But the Giants must start winning tonight against Cincinnati, since the surprising Reds are the fourth team fighting for the lead and are but a game and a half off the pace.

McCORMICK TONIGHT

The Giants will have their best going as they battle to stay on top. Mike McCormick (4-2) will hurl for San Francisco against another promising youngster, Jim O'Toole (4-3).

Yesterday's game represented about as sound a thrashing as the Giants have taken all year.

San Francisco scored in the first as Harvey Kuenn walloped his second homer of the year. But then the Cards took over.

Ex-Giant Bill White, who had a field day, socked a fourmaster with a mate aboard in the first. In the third, the Cards sent Sam Jones to the showers with a five-run barrage that pretty well settled things.

White drove in one run, Daryl Spencer and Alex Grammas two each during the outbreak.

White drove in still another tally in the fourth off reliever Eddie Fisher, best-looking of four Giant chuckers last night.

Meanwhile, the Giants hit young lefty Ray Sadecki freely, but had a hard time generating runs.

CEPEDA HOMERS

Jim Davenport doubled in Orlando Cepeda in the fourth and Cepeda powered his 12th homer of the year in the sixth. This made it 8-3.

The Cards rapped Jim Duffalo and Billy O'Dell in the final two frames for four runs. Spencer drove in his third tally; White got his fourth hit and fifth RBI; and another ex-Giant joined the act as Don Taussig delivered a two-run hit.

Jose Pagan singled in the fourth Giant run in the eighth.

The Cards outhit San Francisco, 15-12, but the game was one-sided from the third inning on.

Thet Giants need some wins. Fourth place is only a short step down.

Legalize The Spitter, A.L. President Urges

BOSTON (AP) — Joe Cronin, president of the American League, said today he favors reinstatement of the spitball as a legal pitch in baseball.

"There's nothing dangerous or bad about the spitter," Cronin said. "I had to bat against both and I'll tell you a good knuckleball is much harder to hit than a spitball."

Cronin's comments came after Chicago manager Al Lopez complained to the league office about alleged use of the spitter by Ryne Duren, the ex-Yankee relief pitcher recently traded to Los Angeles. The White Sox asked Cronin: "What are you going to do about the spitball?"

Although the pitch was outlawed in 1920 because it was ruled too difficult to control, a number of major league pitchers still use moist deliveries with water mopped from the brow, neck, sweat-soaked uniforms or clammy hands.

Lew Burdette, ace righthander of the Milwaukee Braves, frequently has been accused of throwing a spitter. Preacher Roe of the Dodgers, after his retirement a few years ago, admitted in a signed magazine article that he frequently threw the spitter during his National League career.

"The rules committee, of course, must decide the spitball question," said Cronin.

"Actually, Charlie Berry (former catcher) probably is the only umpire in our league who can even recognize the old spitball," said Cronin, so adept a shortstop and manager in his playing days that he was voted to the Hall of Fame.

"The spitball isn't more difficut to hit than the knuckler, which is legal, and doesn't break more sharply," he said.

"The advantage is that it gives the pitcher more deception. In the old days, the pitcher went to his mouth behind cupped pitching and gloved hands. You never knew whether the next one was going to be a fast ball, curve, knuckler—or a real spitball."

MARIN GROUP CLIMBS SHASTA; FIRST OF YEAR

Three members of the Marin Ski Club this past weekend were the first climbers of the season to reach the summit of Mount Shasta.

They were Mr. and Mrs. John Yonkow of 70 Shell Road, Mill Valley and George Hartlmaier of 16 Forbes Avenue, San Anselmo. All three are experienced European mountain climbers.

They were among a group of 25 of the club's members who spent the weekend skiing at Mount Shasta Bowl. But the mountain climbing trio arose at 5 a.m. Saturday and ascended the 14,000-foot peak, said Robert Dixon, club member.

They brought along some climbing equipment and carried their skis on the way up and rode on them on the way down that same afternoon. They didn't need the climbing gear, said Dixon.

Don Faurot, director of athletics at Missouri and the late Charlie Caldwell, who coached at Princeton and Williams, were the coaches named.

Home Soda Fountain Hit With The Family

The ice cream soda is a symbol of America. It would be passe to tell a foreign visitor that nearly every town has a soda fountain, not that every town doesn't. But today, the soda fountain is a household word as well.

Home freezers, frozen fruit concentrates, the increased availability of ice cream and handy carbonated beverages—all contribute to the popularity of the homemade ice cream soda.

If you don't have a soda fountain at your house, this is the summer to install one.

You don't need a marble counter. Just a small bit of equipment and a little practice, and you'll be serving the best ice cream sodas in town. Any drinking glasses will do, although tall ones look most traditnonal. Iced-tea spoons are handy because of their long handles. Add straws to the collection. And an ice cream scoop if you want a professional looking ice cream ball; but you can get by with a large spoon.

All of these frosty fruit soda recipes are undiluted, frozen fruit juice concentrates, except the lime and lemon. For these, purchase frozen limeade and lemonade concentrates because neither lime or lemon juice is quite sweet enough. For extra eye appeal, a few drops of food coloring may be used for these sodas.

Frosty fruit sodas with eye appealing garnishes have a tart refreshing flavor, just right for summer.

Fill glass two-thirds full with chilled carbonated beverage, add one or two scoops of vanilla ice cream, and fill the glass to the top with carbonated beverage.

Take Meal Outdoors On Sunday

Please the family with an early supper on the porch or in the yard one of these really warm Sundays. Keep your menu simple and substantial and it won't be any more work than an indoor meal.

An entree that seems to be made for this Sunday supper pattern is cheese rabbit, particularly if the cheese is American blue. If you've never tried it, you'll find that blue cheese rabbit not only is a filling protein dish but also one that has all of the snap and zest one could want.

In making it, the pungent cheese is teamed with mild cheddar cheese to create a smooth, subtly sharp sauce.

Just pour a can of condensed tomato soup into a large saucepan. Stir in ½ cup crumbled American blue cheese and 1 cup grated cheddar cheese. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until cheeses melt. Beat 2 eggs, add a small amount of hot mixture to them, then return eggs to cheese sauce. Cook slowly until heated and slightly thickened. Add ½ teaspoon soy sauce.

Lima Bean Soup For Sunday Dinner

SUNDAY SUPPER

Double-flavor Lima Bean Soup
Hot Garlic Bread
Fruit Salad Cookies

DOUBLE-FLAVOR LIMA BEAN SOUP

- 1 cup dried baby lima beans
- 6 cups cold water
- 1 or 2 hambones
- 1 medium onion (sliced)
- 1 medium carrot (sliced)
- Salt and pepper
- 8 frankfurters

Soak beans in water to cover overnight; drain. Add drained beans to soup kettle with the 6 cups cold water, hambone, onion and carrot. Bring to a boil; cover and simmer about 2 hours. Remover hambones. Put through food mill or rub through coarse strainer. Add salt and pepper to taste. Makes about 1½ quarts. Reheat slowly with sliced frankfurters.

Fudge Cake Recipe

NEW YORK (UPI)—New fudge coconut cake mix makes a dark chocolate dessert that blends well with many frostings, including peppermint, pistachio and apricot. One package of mix makes two 8-or-9-inch layers, one 9-by-9-by-2 inch square cake, one 13-by-9-by-2-inch loaf or 30 medium cupcakes.

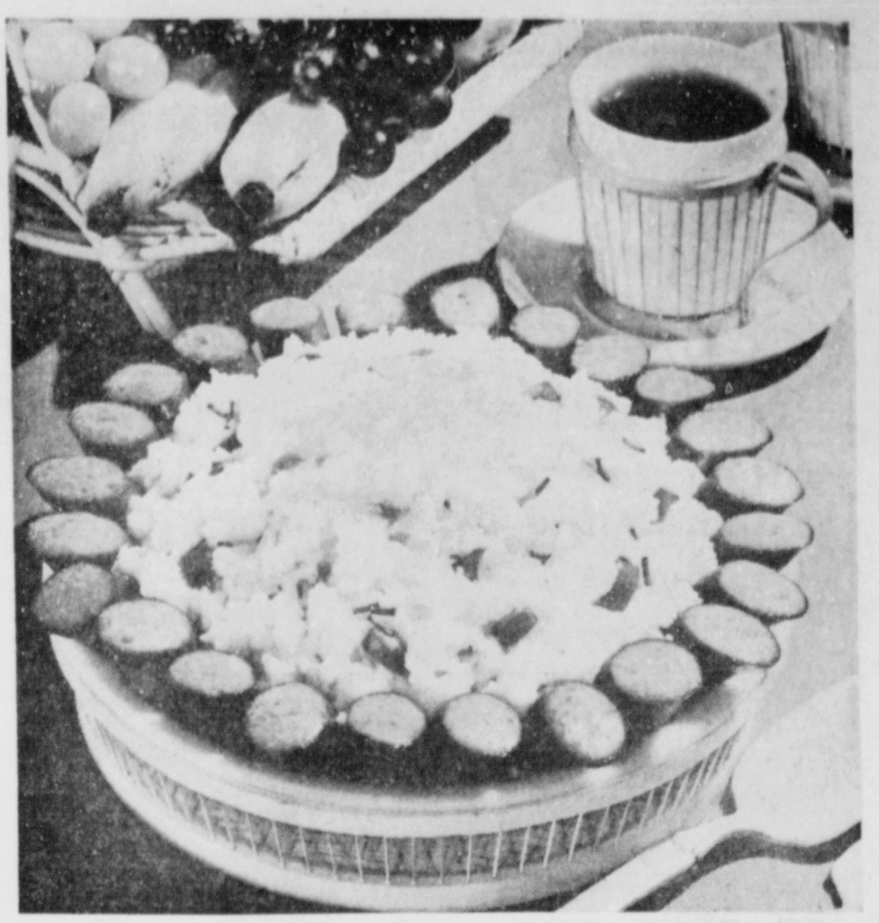
Casserole Dish For This Summer

FRANK 'N POTATO PIE

- 1 pound frankfurters
- 1 envelope or 3-oz. package of instant mashed potatoes
- ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- ½ teaspoon mustard
- 2 to 3 drops Tabasco sauce
- 1 teaspoon chopped chives
- 1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese (4 ounces)

Slice ⅔ of the frankfurters in thirds crosswise; chop remaining frankfurters. Prepare potatoes as directed on package. Stir in Worcestershire sauce, mustard, Tabasco, chives, ¾ cup cheese and the chopped frankfurters. Spread a small amount of potato mixture in bottom of 8-inch pie plate, then stand pieces of frandkfurters upright around edge of pie plate. Fill center with remaining potato mixture. Bake in moderate oven (375 F.) until heated, 20 to 25 minutes. Sprinkle with remaining cheese 2 to 3 minutes before end of heating time. Yield: 4 servings.

For 6 to 8 serving . . . recipe may be doubled and baked in 10-inch pie plate.



FRANKFURTER AND potato pie is a delicious combination of old-fashioned, flavorsome goodness and modern convenience. This out-of-the-ordinary casserole can be prepared with a minimum of time and effort. The few simple ingredients are easy on the budget too.

Cincy Hill Staff Burning Up League

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cincinnati Reds, a bounce back bunch, are within 1½ games of the National League lead again because of a kid right-hander high on the "Rookie of the Year" list and a stubborn southpaw who might be the league's No. 1 relief ace.

After sinking to the bottom when they lost 10 of their first 15 games, the Reds have won 15 of their last 20. Ken Hunt, a youngster who fires overhand and sidearm, and Billy Henry, the fireballing fireman, have been in on almost half of those victories in the comeback spurt to fourth place.

Hunt and Henry combined for a five-hit, 2-0 victory over second-place Los Angeles last night—dealing the Dodgers their first shutout of the season and ending their winning streak of five.

San Francisco retained a percentage point (.013) lead although the Giants were walloped 12-4 at St. Louis. Third-place Pittsburgh remained within one game of the top despite a 1-0 defeat at Milwaukee on the four-hit pitching of Lew Burdette. Last-place Philadelphia defeated the Chicago Cubs 2-1 in 10 innings.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

In the American League, the Detroit Tigers padded their bulge to 4½ games with a 5-2 victory at Minnesota while the last-place Los Angeles Angels were whipping runner-up Cleveland 9-0. Baltimore defeated Chicago's White Sox 3-1 and Washington beat Kansas City 7-3 in the only other games.

Hunt, 22, a 6-foot-4, 210-pounder who wasn't on the Reds' spring roster, has beaten the Giants, Pittsburgh and now the Dodgers in a 4-2 record and is 3-1 in the Reds' comeback. Henry, the old man of the staff at 33, has four saves in the same spurt.

The Dodgers, who had won eight in a row on the road, got all five hits off Hunt. The youngster struck out six, but also walked six, bringing on Henry in the eighth for a perfect, 1⅓-inning mopup.

SNAP SLUMP

The Reds beat Los Angeles for the first time in five tries by bunching three of their seven hits for two runs in the sixth off Don Drysdale (3-3). Gus Bell's sacrifice fly and a single by Gordie Coleman brought them across after singles by Don Blasingame and Vada Pinson and a walk had loaded the bases.

The Braves scored in the first inning on a triple by Frank Bolling and a single by Ed Mathews, then managed just two more hits off loser Bobby Shantz (1-1), making his first start in two seasons, and reliever Elroy Face.

A single by Charlie Smith and a two-out triple by Bob Malkmus broke it up for the Phils against Glen Hobbie (2-5).

Two Tam Net Men Will Teach Tennis

Jim Christiansen and Bill Turner, members of the 1961 Tamalpais High School tennis team, will join the corps of instructors for the fourth annual Sausalito summer tennis program, it was announced.

Program director John Minton said that Christiansen and Turner, both products of the Sausalito program, would assist him and Anne Hicks in teaching the beginners and intermediate groups.

The Sausalito program opens Saturday, June 10, with registration at the Richardson Bay School courts. Sausalito children aged 9 through 18 are invited to sign up, at 10 a.m. The program runs through July 29 and will be followed by the annual city junior tournament August 5-19, announced John Minton, publicity.

Unbeaten Prep Miler Will Visit Stanford

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Paul Schlicke, unbeaten prep miler who "felt tight" while running a 4:19.3 in the Washington State High School meet last Saturday, will visit the Stanford campus next weekend and discuss enrollment.

Schlicke, son of a Spokane doctor who plans to take up pre-medicine said he would probably enter Washington if he doesn't sign up at Stanford.

PREP, LITTLE LEAGUE CONTROVERSY

San Rafael Little Leaguers, scheduled for a game at Albert Park last night, interrupted the San Rafael-Redwood High School game by starting to erect a stakes and rope fence across the high school game's outfield area. The action resulted in all sorts of confusion and delayed the high school game. The Little Leaguers claimed they had the right to take over the playing field. After much hassle, the Little Leaguers reluctantly retreated and permitted the high school game to continue to its conclusion. Little League players above are members of the Taveggia-Brusati Sports Shop and Cerutti Brothers teams. (Jim Kean photo)

Modesto Relays Will Host Greatest Of Track And Field

By HAL WOOD

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The greatest collection of track and field athletes to appear on one field in the United States since the 1960 Olympic trials will go on stage in the California relays at Modesto Saturday night.

Just about every top runner, jumper and weight man in the country will be competing — the first gathering of the all-star plane this year.

It's a tribute to Tom Moore, a one-time University of California hurdler, who is the meet's director.

Moore goes first class when it comes to attracting the best in the track and field world. He runs a meet where the attendance can't be more than 9,000. That returns about $15,000. But he has a budget of $25,000 set up by the city's merchants.

With that budget this year, he will have on hand six of the world's greatest pole vaulters. These include the newest sensation, George Davies of Oklahoma State, who cleared 15 feet, 10½ inches last Saturday night; and Don Bragg, the recognized world's champion at 15 feet, 9¼ inches.

He has a dozen men who have been clocked at 9.4 in the 100-yard dash or more. Jamaican Dennis Johnson of San Jose State, who has equalled or bettered the world mark of 9.3 five times this year, tops the cast. But also there will be Charley Tidwell of Kansas, Dave Styron of Southern Illinois, Stone Johnson of Grambling and Harry Jerome and Roscoe Cook of Oregon. Not a bad field for an Olympics competition, even.

Such fine milers as Dyrol Burleson of Oregon, and Jim Beatty of Santa Clara Youth Village will be on hand. They broke the American record here last year.

And so it goes on down through the list. Top relay teams from Western Michigan, Abilene Christian, Oregon and other points will be on hand.

Moore can stage this type of a meet because he has the backing of the merchants, who gladly kick in to make up any deficit. They figure the international publicity of a Modesto dateline is worth everything it costs. And their long-range thinking already has won them a title, some years back, of "All American City."

Most of the big relays in the country, such as the Penn, Drake, Kansas and Texas, stick strictly to the college talent. But Moore believes that if United States is to be strong in the Olympics, it should have solid testing grounds for the boys who already have graduated from school.

The result is the all-star collection of athletes who will shoot at new national and world marks in Modesto Saturday night.

Jim Johnson Of UCLA Honored As Best Athlete

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Versatile athlete Jim Johnson of UCLA has a one-up score on his more famous brother, Olympic decathlon king Rafer Johnson.

The younger Johnson was named by his fellow athletes as the school's "most outstanding track and field star for 1961." He was voted the same award in 1959.

Rafer was voted the honor in 1956.

Brother Jim excelled in the low and high hurdles and broad jump. He was also an outstanding halfback in football and was drafted by the San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League.

Alta Mira Press Party Slated June 1

Old world charm and the new world look will blend to present a gala evening, Thursday, June 1st at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito.

From 6 to 8 p. m., William Wachter, maitre d' hotel of large hotels in Europe and America, including the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco, has invited members of the press, radio and TV, the foreign consuls and their wives, and local dignitaries from San Francisco and Marin, to be his guests. Champagne and hors d' ouevres will be served.

Guests will also be invited to view his completely redecorated hotel.

A veritable Riviera will be represented on the deck of the Tree Top Terrace during the cocktail hour with an exclusive showing of Rose Marie Reid "swimwear-by-the-ounce". Beginning with bathing attire featuring a turn-of-the-century flavor, the swimwear fashions will build to an exciting female and feline finale. Co-starring will be a 14 carat gold lame bathing suit valued at $500.00 and a full-grown, trained ocelot with a coordinated gold harness, both "fur" $300.

Commentator for the evening will be Dick Stewart, host of the television program, Dance Party.

ALICE MILANI IS HONORED AT SHOWER

Miss Alice Milani, who is to be married to Charles F. Butler Jr. on Sunday at St. Anselm's Church, Ross, was honored at a bridal shower given by Mrs. Edward Spalding of Ross recently. The wedding will be followed by a reception at Tamalpais Centre Woman's Club, Kentfield.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Milani of San Anselmo. Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Butler of Greenbrae are parents of the future benedict.

San Pedro P-TA Bestows Honors

San Pedro School Parent Teacher Association, at its recent teachers recognition luncent teachers recognition luncheon, presented two honorary life memberships. Mrs. Dallas Wagner, chairman, presented the award to Mrs. Albert Walz, for outstanding service to the school, and to Miss Lenore Kurle for her exceptional skill as a fifth grade teacher and in the music department. Mrs. Phillip Drath read an ortginal dedication poem.

Plans are now being made by the San Pedro P-TA members for the hot dog day on June 1. All proceeds will go to the American Field Service scholarship fund.

Seven Arvey Awards Presented To Players

One hundred fifty members and guests of the Ross Valley Players took part last Saturday night in the first annual Arvey Awards dinner dance at the Meadow Club.

Principal reason for the sparkling social affair was to honor seven of the players with Arvey statuettes, symbolic of excellence on, behind and off the stage.

The winners were: Larry Lovett award—Genevieve Bennett: Best Supporting Actress—Bobbie Dowd; Best Supporting Actor—Jim Urquhart; Best Bit Player—Jean Irving; Best Technical Achievement—Jerry Mathis; Best Actress—Marie Rogers Bazell; and Best Actor—Roland Irving.

Another highlight of the evening was the unveiling of Arvey, the group's new symbol. A large cutout of Arvey was dramatically presented to the group just before the statuettes were awarded. Playfully tying in with the players' "ham" tendencies, Arvey was revealed as a colorful pig. His figure was atop each of the winners' statuettes. Symbolic of fun though Arvey may be, the awards were seriously presented and received.

General chairman for the affair was Bern Bernardini, assisted by Dick Webster. Others on the committee were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Riznik, Mrs. George W. Collins, Mrs. Sydney Dorn, Mrs. Charles Sayers, Mrs. Richard Brown and Grant Halsing. Wedding Gowns Dating From 1856 Modeled At Show, Tea

Decor for the tea and fashion show of wedding gowns presented by the Woman's Society of the Mill Valley Methodist Church Friday at the church was so elaborate and beautiful that guests exclaimed, "It's almost like attending a real wedding."

A pink and white color scheme was used by Mrs. Charles Sutton and her committee on eight long tables, each set with its own silver service, pink candles and centerpiece of fresh flower nosegays made into an arch resembling a rainbow.

Pouring were Mesdames Sutton, Fred Fielding, William Wood, Warren Ambrose, Dale Danley, Harold McLean, R. E. Blakey and Earl Linman.

Woman's Society President Mrs. Clyde Butterfield planned the event with the assistance of Mesdames Curtis Klein, Dean Wallace, Rudolph Dressler, Robert Best, Percy Bosanko and George Miller.

Some 15 gowns dating from 1856 to recent years were paraded to commentary provided by Mrs. Best and organ music played by Mrs. Danley. Two modeling their own gowns were Mesdames Horton Hinshaw and Dorsey Behringer. Others were modeled either by the owners' daughters or young women of the church, and one mother, Mrs. Roy Driver, modeled that of her daughter, now living in Denver. A 1913 model was so fragile it could be shown only on the hanger.

In addition to the original wedding gowns two worn for golden weddings were shown. Mrs. William Roberts modeled the antique gold dress she crocheted for her golden wedding celebration in 1957, and Mrs. Henry Tieck wore the cream satin and lace dress she wore on her 50th anniversary in 1960.

For entertainment Mrs. Behringer sang a solo accompanied by Mrs. Danley, and the Belva-Dears, ladies barbershop quartet from the Sweet Adelines Chorus, sang old-time medleys.

Highlight of the refreshments served under the direction of Mrs. Dressler was a real wedding cake made and decorated by Mrs. Richard Stevens. Assisting refreshment committee chairman Mrs. Dressler were Mesdames Ray Mefford, Herbert Kennedy, Tieck and Bosanko.

SETTING THE STAGE for the Four Niters Cotillion "Blossom Ball" to be held on Saturday night at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley are members of the committee, from left, Mesdames Mardy Horrell and Ralph W. Findley. The event will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Mrs. Don De Moss is general chairman. (Independent-Journal photo)

FROSTY FRUIT SODAS with eye appealing garnishes have a tart refreshing flavor, just right for summer. Just a small bit of equipment and a little practice, and you'll be serving the best ice cream sodas in town.

Casserole Dish For This Summer

FRANK 'N POTATO PIE

1 pound frankfurters
1 envelope or 3-oz. package of instant mashed potatoes
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon mustard
2 to 3 drops Tabasco sauce
1 teaspoon chopped chives
1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese (4 ounces)

Slice ⅔ of the frankfurters in thirds crosswise; chop remaining frankfurters. Prepare potatoes as directed on package. Stir in Worcestershire sauce, mustard, Tabasco, chives, ¾ cup cheese and the chopped frankfurters. Spread a small amount of potato mixture in bottom of 8-inch pie plate, then stand pieces of frandkfurters upright around edge of pie plate. Fill center with remaining potato mixture. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) until heated, 20 to 25 minutes. Sprinkle with remaining cheese 2 to 3 minutes before end of heating time. Yield: 4 servings.

For 6 to 8 serving . . . recipe may be doubled and baked in 10-inch pie plate.

FRANKFURTER AND potato pie is a delicious combination of old-fashioned, flavorsome goodness and modern convenience. This out-of-the-ordinary casserole can be prepared with a minimum of time and effort. The few simple ingredients are easy on the budget too.

Home Soda Fountain Hit With The Family

The ice cream soda is a symbol of America. It would be passe to tell a foreign visitor that nearly every town has a soda fountain, not that every town doesn't. But today, the soda fountain is a household word as well.

Home freezers, frozen fruit concentrates, the increased availability of ice cream and handy carbonated beverages—all contribute to the popularity of the homemade ice cream soda.

If you don't have a soda fountain at your house, this is the summer to install one.

You don't need a marble counter. Just a small bit of equipment and a little practice, and you'll be serving the best ice cream sodas in town. Any drinking glasses will do, although tall ones look most traditnonal. Iced-tea spoons are handy because of their long handles. Add straws to the collection. And an ice cream scoop if you want a professional looking ice cream ball; but you can get by with a large spoon.

All of these frosty fruit soda recipes are undiluted, frozen fruit juice concentrates, except the lime and lemon. For these, purchase frozen limeade and lemonade concentrates because neither lime or lemon juice is quite sweet enough. For extra eye appeal, a few drops of food coloring may be used for these sodas.

Frosty fruit sodas with eye appealing garnishes have a tart refreshing flavor, just right for summer.

FROSTY FRUIT SODA

For each soda: in the bottom of a soda glass mix frozen undiluted concentrate, 2 tablespoons vanilla ice cream and a little chilled carbonated beverage. Fill glass two thirds full with chilled carbonated beverage. Fill glass two-thirds full with chilled carbonated beverage, add one or two scoops of vanilla ice cream, and fill the glass to the top with carbonated beverage.

1. Pineapple Soda:
   2 tablespoons frozen pineapple juice concentrate
   1 teaspoon sugar, if desired
2. Orange Soda:
   2 tablespoons frozen orange juice concentrate
3. Pineapple-Orange Soda:
   1 tablespoon frozen pineapple juice concentrate
   1 tablespoon frozen orange juice concentrate
4. Grape Soda:
   2 tablespoons frozen grape juice concentrate
5. Lime Soda:
   2 tablespoons frozen limeade concentrate
   Few drops green food coloring, if desired
6. Tangerine Soda:
   2 tablespoons frozen tangerine juice concentrate
7. Lemon Soda:
   2 tablespoons frozen lemonade concentrate
   Few drops yellow food coloring, if desired.

Take Meal Outdoors On Sunday

Please the family with an early supper on the porch or in the yard one of these really warm Sundays. Keep your menu simple and substantial and it won't be any more work than an indoor meal.

An entree that seems to be made for this Sunday supper pattern is cheese rabbit, particularly if the cheese is American blue. If you've never tried it, you'll find that blue cheese rabbit not only is a filling protein dish but also one that has all of the snap and zest one could want.

In making it, the pungent cheese is teamed with mild cheddar cheese to create a smooth, subtly sharp sauce.

Just pour a can of condensed tomato soup into a large saucepan. Stir in ½ cup crumbled American blue cheese and 1 cup grated cheddar cheese. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until cheeses melt. Beat 2 eggs, add a small amount of hot mixture to them, then return eggs to cheese sauce. Cook slowly until heated and slightly thickened. Add ½ teaspoon soy sauce.

Good Housekeeping Guarantees*
New Stepped-Up Detergent for Automatic Dishwashers

America's leading chemical laboratory for automatic dishwasher products has made a remarkable discovery. Here, scientists have found a combination of two costly chemicals that work together as "perfect partners" to end spotting and filming of glasses.

FINISH, the only dishwasher detergent containing this new combination of chemicals, was submitted to Good Housekeeping. It was checked every which way, from chemical analysis to performance under the combat conditions of Good Housekeeping Institute's home service center. Thus, Good Housekeeping satisfied itself that stepped-up FINISH is a quality product living up to its claims and proudly granted it the Good Housekeeping Seal.

This same stepped-up FINISH is now available in stores everywhere. There is no increase in price. Try it. You'll agree, you've never seen glasses so clean before.

You've never seen glasses SO CLEAN before!

Diehl-Hertzberg Wedding Held In Mill Valley Church

Lynlee Jewell Hertzberg became the bride of Gerald Francis Diehl in a 10 o'clock nuptial mass performed Saturday, May 20, at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church in Mill Valley.

Rev. Francis Scanlon officiated at the double ring rites.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Evelyn Hertzberg of Mill Valley, was given in marriage by her uncle, Rixford Watson of San Francisco. She recited her vows in a ballerina length gown of white lace, and her only attendant, the bridegroom's sister Virginia Diehl of Flagstaff, Ariz., was gowned in yellow chiffon.

Best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Diehl of Flagstaff, was his brother, Lawrence Diehl Jr., also of Flagstaff.

Serving as ushers were the bride's cousins, Earl Watson Jr. and Joseph Watson of Ventura, Calif.

Following the ceremony a family brunch was held at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito.

The new Mrs. Diehl is a graduate of Tamalpais High School and attended the College of Marin. Her husband attended the Immaculate Heart of St. Mary School before completing his high school education while serving with the United States Air Force. He is an airman second class stationed at McClellan Air Force Base.

The couple will live in Sacramento.

'Barbershop Pops' Proves Smash Hit

Friday night's "Barbershop Pops" staged as a scholarship benefit by the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley proved a smash hit with the 116 members and guests who attended.

Kudos for the successful affair went to Mrs. Stanley Brooks and her committee.

A red and white color scheme was carried out in streamers festooned from the chandeliers and in the checked cloths on tables set with beer steins and poles made of pretzels on tall skewers. An effective mantelpiece was composed of small barber poles and decorative steins. Mrs. H. C. Kellers was assisted with decor by Mesdames Earle Marsh, Michael Amoroso and Samuel Seifert.

Seven Arvey Awards Presented To Players

One hundred fifty members and guests of the Ross Valley Players took part last Saturday night in the first annual Arvey Awards dinner dance at the Meadow Club.

Principal reason for the sparkling social affair was to honor seven of the players with Arvey statuettes, symbolic of excellence on, behind and off the stage.

The winners were: Larry Lovett award—Genevieve Bennett; Best Supporting Actress—Bobbie Dowd; Best Supporting Actor—Jim Urquhart; Best Bit Player—Jean Irving; Best Technical Achievement—Jerry Mathis; Best Actress—Marie Rogers Bazell; and Best Actor—Roland Irving.

Another highlight of the evening was the unveiling of Arvey, the group's new symbol. A large cutout of Arvey was dramatically presented to the group just before the statuettes were awarded. Playfully tying in with the players' "ham" tendencies, Arvey was revealed as a colorful pig. His figure was atop each of the winners' statuettes. Symbolic of fun though Arvey may be, the awards were seriously presented and received.

General chairman for the affair was Bern Bernardini, assisted by Dick Webster. Others on the committee were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Riznik, Mrs. George W. Collins, Mrs. Sydney Dorn, Mrs. Charles Sayers, Mrs. Richard Brown and Grant Halsing. Judges for the acting and technical awards were Mrs. Marion Hayes Cain, Mrs. Charles Sayers, Arthur Edwards, Alan Atkins and Alfred Spalding.

Wedding Gowns Dating From 1856 Modeled At Show, Tea

Decor for the tea and fashion show of wedding gowns presented by the Woman's Society of the Mill Valley Methodist Church Friday at the church was so elaborate and beautiful that guests exclaimed, "It's almost like attending a real wedding."

A pink and white color scheme was used by Mrs. Charles Sutton and her committee on eight long tables, each set with its own silver service, pink candles and centerpiece of fresh flower nosegays made into an arch resembling a rainbow.

Pouring were Mesdames Sutton, Fred Fielding, William Wood, Warren Ambrose, Dale Danley, Harold McLean, R. E. Blakey and Earl Linman.

Woman's Society President Mrs. Clyde Butterfield planned the event with the assistance of Mesdames Curtis Klein, Dean Wallace, Rudolph Dressler, Robert Best, Percy Bosanko and George Miller.

Some 15 gowns dating from 1856 to recent years were paraded to commentary provided by Mrs. Best and organ music played by Mrs. Danley. Two modeling their own gowns were Mesdames Horton Hinshaw and Dorsey Behringer. Others were modeled either by the owners' daughters or young women of the church, and one mother, Mrs. Roy Driver, modeled that of her daughter, now living in Denver. A 1913 model was so fragile it could be shown only on the hanger.

In addition to the original wedding gowns two worn for golden weddings were shown. Mrs. William Roberts modeled the antique gold dress she crocheted for her golden wedding celebration in 1957, and Mrs. Henry Tieck wore the cream satin and lace dress she wore on her 50th anniversary in 1960.

For entertainment Mrs. Behringer sang a solo accompanied by Mrs. Danley, and the Belva-Dears, ladies barbershop quartet from the Sweet Adelines Chorus, sang old-time medleys.

Highlight of the refreshments served under the direction of Mrs. Dressler was a real wedding cake made and decorated by Mrs. Richard Stevens. Assisting refreshment committee chairman Mrs. Dressler were Mesdames Ray Mefford, Herbert Kennedy, Tieck and Bosanko.

Player Pianos Make Comeback With Same Foot-Pumping Fun

Player pianos are back in style—new ones, not the left-overs of a bygone era, though they are still in demand, too.

Bob Olney of Miracle Music, 2066 Fourth Street, San Rafael, tells me that he and Jim Joyce have been appointed authorized dealer for the modern players manufactured by Pianola, Inc., of New York City.

The new version is the same size as a spinet, has a 64-note keyboard but will play the old 88-note rolls and has many improvements over the vintages of 40 or more years ago. But it is still foot-pumped which was always the fun of the whole thing, and Miracle Music's orders are being fitted with rinky-tink attachments.

No models in stock yet but they are on order.

OLDSMOBILE DEALERS of the Bay Area have elected from their group James C. Scripture of San Rafael to the Dealer Council in the Oldsmobile Division of General Motors for the Northern California and Nevada territory.

This in itself is quite an honor but there is one more step up and Scripture may be pushed in that direction — to the national council at Lansing, Mich.

HERBERT K. STAHL of Corte Madera has joined the marketing planning department of the California and Hawaiian Sugar Refining Corp. of San Francisco as market analyst. He was previously associated with the Bank of America.

A FIGURE of 20 million dollars in assets was reached this month by the Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. which has decided to increase its staff to take care of constantly increasing business.

John G. Sullivan of San Rafael who has had 13 years with the American Trust Co. and three more with the Federal Home Loan Bank Examiner's division has been appointed to a newly formed position of controller.

Others who have recently joined the firm are Mrs. Rosemary Teller of Novato and Mrs. Denyse McQueen of San Rafael as tellers, and Mrs. Janet Ross of San Rafael as general ledger bookkeeper. She was formerly with the Santa Rosa Savings and Loan Assn.

AMES FORD SALES of San Rafael has negotiated a nice little deal with the California Division of Highways for seven van-type vehicles to transport traffic counters. Don Fraser, truck and fleet division manager arranged the sale.

THE PACIFIC COAST Builders Conference and Exhibit to be held in San Francisco June 6, 7 and 8 at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel will be well represented by Marin Countians in its programming.

Frank W. Callahan of Belvedere, executive vice president of the Home Builders Council of California, Inc., is responsible for the conference planning and preparation. Carl S. Brown, executive secretary of the Marin Builders Assn. is also scheduled to be active, and L. C. Burdett Jr. of San Rafael, vice president of Alcan Pacific Co. will be a featured speaker on a panel to deal with the subject of apartment housing.

WE'RE PLEASED to see that Lee Busolo, San Anselmo Chevron station owner has opened up another of the same brand at 810 College Avenue, Kentfield.

His grand opening must have been like old home week. Lee used to have a service station at Kentfield Corners years ago.

The commission held a public hearing on the tree cutting ordinance at its March meeting. The town council will hold a hearing on the ordinance on June 5.

The garden section of the Corte Madera Women's Improvement Club, through its chairman, Mrs. Ray Treasher, has asked the commission for a list of needed projects for the city park. The club will then select an item from this list to make a gift to the city. The commission will prepare the list at its meeting.

SUE BOYDEN IS ENGAGED

A small family dinner party was the occasion at which the engagement of Sue Boyden of Tiburon and Edward Whitaker was recently announced. Sue is the daughter of Mrs. E. E. Boyden and the late Mr. Boyden. Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Washburn Whitaker of Pacific Grove.

The Belvedere home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Vargas Jr. was the setting for the party, which was an Hawaiian luau.

Following dinner, members of the Nani Iolani Polynesian Folk Dance Group were invited to come for champagne and cake, and learned of the engagement. The bride-to-be is a member of the dance group and has performed many times with them in the past two years.

The young couple met at Monterey Peninsula College where both are attending.

Sue is a graduate of Redwood High School last spring where she majored in music. Because of her interest in music, she joined the Polynesian dance group.

She is a member of St. Stephen's Church of Belvedere and the International Order of Job's Daughters, Mill Valley Bethel. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Searles of Menlo Park.

Ed is presently completing electronics courses at Monterey and plans to continue studying for his degree at California Polytechnic. During the summer he will return to Philco Western Development Laboratories in Palo Alto where he has previously been employed. He is president of Hogans Men's Fraternity and a member of the student council at Monterey Peninsula College.

He has two sisters, Bonnie and Kay, who attend Pacific Grove High School. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gordon Thompson of Pacific Grove.

A wedding date is tentatively set for late summer.

PLANNING A LATE SUMMER wedding are Sue Boyden of Tiburon and Edward Whitaker of Pacific Grove. Good Housekeeping Guarantees*
New Stepped-Up Detergent
for Automatic Dishwashers

America's leading chemical laboratory for automatic dishwasher products has made a remarkable discovery. Here, scientists have found a combination of two costly chemicals that work together as "perfect partners" to end spotting and filming of glasses.

FINISH, the only dishwasher detergent containing this new combination of chemicals, was submitted to Good Housekeeping. It was checked every which way, from chemical analysis to performance under the combat conditions of Good Housekeeping Institute's home service center. Thus, Good Housekeeping satisfied itself that stepped-up FINISH is a quality product living up to its claims and proudly granted it the Good Housekeeping Seal.

This same stepped-up FINISH is now available in stores everywhere. There is no increase in price. Try it. You'll agree, you've never seen glasses so clean before.

* Replacement or refund of money guaranteed by Good Housekeeping if not as advertised therein. The Good Housekeeping Seal is given to no one . . . the product that has it, earns it.

You've never seen glasses SO CLEAN before!

KTIM Panel To Discuss 'Adjustment'

The proposal to eliminate "life adjustment" courses from the curriculum of San Rafael schools will be discussed on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" program from 9 to 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Participating will be Dr. Mildred B. Barnard, assistant San Rafael superintendent in charge of elementary instruction; Roderick P. Martinelli, president of the San Rafael Board of Education; Mrs. Charles G. Strom, representing parents who want to do away with the "life adjustment" courses, and Dr. Joel Hildebrand, professor emeritus of chemistry at University of California and member of the state Citizens Advisory Committee on Education.

The "life adjustment" courses are intended to fulfill a state requirement that "manners and morals" be taught in the public schools. In its report to the legislature, the Citizens Advisory Committee on Education said manners and morals "are not academic disciplines" and "can be taught best informally, by precept and example, in connection with all classroom activities."

Kitty Oppenheimer will moderate the "Sounding Board" program, which will be repeated from a recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m. Questions telephoned to KTIM during tomorrow's broadcast will be directed to the panel members.

Get Your Polio Shot Or It May Be Made Mandatory

There has been much publicity lately about the need for getting polio shots. This is not a new thing; about this time each year the authorities become concerned that the "polio season" will start this Fall with an unnecessarily large number of persons unvaccinated.

It is amazing that such a thing is true; but it is. Marinites like their fellow human beings in other areas, are great procrastinators. Not only that, early publicity about the Salk vaccine shots gave many persons the impression that if they are more than 40 years of age they are immune to the disease.

Marin County Health Department emphasizes that "there is no assurance anyone is immune" until after being vaccinated—then it's about 90 per cent you are.

Last year only one Marinite was stricken with paralytic polio. He was 53 years old. That's a fine record, but we'd prefer it to be no cases.

As of now, the health department is vaccinating children as young as three months and as old as possible. Private doctors also give the shots.

And there is something new in the county program.

No longer is it necessary to wait eight or nine months to complete the series of three shots. Under the new program only two weeks are necessary between the first and second shots and only a month need intervene between the second and third shots. Thus the entire course of immunization takes only six weeks now.

The health department gives the shots free each weekly afternoon.

Doesn't it seem strange that such an effective, available, inexpensive health measure isn't used 100 per cent by our people? Yet less than half of Marin's population is vaccinated.

Perhaps this is the reason that bureaucrats can move into a health field. We don't seem to make such a program work voluntarily.

Right now there is legislation in Sacramento that would prohibit children from entering public school unless they had their polio shots. It's easy to imagine this as beginning a whole category of prescribed medical requirements.

The only chance Big Brother has to help us is when we don't help ourselves. Let's voluntarily see to it that we and those we love get polio shots, regardless of our ages.

Missing The Bus

If there is aything as frustrating as missing the proverbial boat, it must be missing a real bus.

We aer told by those who have undergone the ordeal, that chasing a bus while frantically waving and yelling, only to be left in a cloud of exhaust fumes, is a sensation comparable to being hit on the head three times with a hammer. (Is the driver deaf and blind!)

We are further informed missing the bus is something which always happens on the day of an important appointment. It seldom happens on unimportant days.

THIEVES FISH FOR CASH

Fishing for money netted burglars a $1,500 catch not long ago.

The enterprising anglers had quietly observed food company drivers deposit their daily receipts into a slot leading into a safe in the company offices.

Over one weekend the thieves decided to do a little indoor fishing. They dropped fish hooks through the slot and were able to snag three bags containing $500 in cash and $1,000 in checks.

The lure of money can stir up within man a sense of daring and resourcefulness that he little dreamed he possessed.

But human beings display even greater enterprise and initiative when they set their hearts on helping man instead of hurting him. Christ bade His first disciples to be "fishers of men"—to apply the skills of their own trade to the task of redeeming mankind. These simple fishermen become outstanding apostles because of their burning desire to serve God and man.

"Come ye after Me, and I will make you to be fishers of men."

(Matthew 4:19)

Teach me, O Jesus, to be a fisher of men.

Well, Sydney, You Could Always Take A Post-Graduate Course

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks a college senior, Class of 1961, gets tired of hearing:

"Well, Sidney, that four-year loaf on father's dough is about over."

"If he's the hope of tomorrow, the country might as well give up now and save itself a lot of trouble."

"The starting salary is only $75, there are no fringe benefits and you'll be on the road three weeks out of four—but we feel the opportunity for personal advancement is unlimited for anyone who gets a kick out of good old-fashioned hard work."

"Naturally no student will be allowed to graduate who has failed to pay his college library fines. The sum you still owe is $87.64."

"Your father says it is perfectly all right with him if you go ahead and get married the day after graduation — that is, if you are prepared to support a wife. He says he is able to support only one wife himself—me, your darling mother."

"I know you majored in international economic problems, my boy, but our firm makes zippers. We're looking for a young fellow full of fire and ginger who can eat, sleep and talk zippers 24 hours a day, seven days a week."

"Frankly, Sidney, I think the talent scouts from some of these big corporations would show more interest in you if you'd just shave off that silly looking beard."

"Look at it this way, kid. Just because you went to college nobody's going to hand you the world on a platter."

"The worst of it, as I see it, Sidney, is that from now on we'll have to wear a necktie every day the rest of our life."

"REMEMBER, SON, I'd be awful glad if you just came back and helped your old dad run the grocery store. If you put your mind to it, you can find a lot of romance in canned peas and pork chops."

"I tell you they're all spoiled today. Why, when I got out of college, we felt we were darned lucky if we got a job at $25 a week."

"IF SECURITY is what you're looking for at your age, young fella, why don't you go out and get yourself arrested so you can go to jail. That's real security."

"Okay, Sidney, so we got our diplomas at last. Now let's go out on the highway and hitchhike back home."

On The Joys Of Property Value

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Like so many other thousands of our Marin Paradise citizens, I received from the office of the assessor the official valuation of my property—that is, in the commercial aspect.

This was most comforting and I went to bed that night with a dream that had not even formulated in normal slumber. What more could man ask?

I naturally rolled around on my pillow and mattress—and came to the conclusion that the piece of land I own in Marin has far more value than any acreage on the moon or Jupiter, let alone Venus.

Anyway, this office, headed by B. W. Broemmel, is doing a fine service. It stamps a value on where one sits — a value that is recognized by the general populace, including both Republicans and Democrats, not to mention Liberals and Independents. This crack has no connection with your worthy paper. Where one SITS has untold value, much more valuable than where one stands! No matter where one stands today he is apt to fall down.

But most of us now know where we sit. In many cases it is a revelation. I hope that an astronaut will not spoil this with a landing upon Mercury—or even a satellite in full expectation!

Shouldn't Be Afraid Of Lambs

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Who fears whom? Subject, Price Hall, ex-Larkspur planning commissioner.

This man has served as planning commissioner for a number of years.

Any planning commission is only a subcommittee to any council. (The work horse.)

Why fear them, for they can only suggest or recommend?

Take warning, people of Larkspur, if you have placed in office people who are in fear of LAMBS, what if there are LIONS in the streets?

Larkspur Citizens Chose Council

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

As citizens of Larkspur, we want to protest the unwarranted slurs, quoted in your columns as coming from Price J. Hall, on our duly elected (or, in one case, appointed) members of the Larkspur City Council.

The gentlemen of the council were not elected by a "vocal minority," but by receiving a majority of votes at a regular election. If Mr. Hall feels this is not so, he should most certainly call the matter to the attention of the Grand Jury. As members in good standing of Mr. Hall's "indifferent community majority," we submit that the gentleman "doth protest too much, methinks."

The citizens of Larkspur were given every opportunity to hear the views of all the candidates before the election, and chose those men who are now doing their best to see that all the residents of Larkspur get good government, untainted by special interests—we hope.

If the citizens of Larkspur had been pleased with the conduct of city business by the previous council, it is doubtful that the members would have been replaced. One of the most difficult feats in politics is to beat an incumbent. Certainly a "vocal minority" couldn't do it.

As for our previous board, some citizens are more impressed with a record of town business than a man's ability to attain high rank in a business firm, which ability may not necessarily be the same as that needed to be a good town councilman.

We hope that this vituperative attack on our council members will not continue. The two members of the council whom we know personally certainly are much too great gentlemen to attack in kind. All the councilmen are in a position where it is practically impossible for them to defend themselves fairly from this sort of attack.

We therefore hope that the citizens who voted them into office will join us in asking for the use of your columns so that we can come to their defense by publicly giving them again our best wishes for their continued efforts in behalf of Larkspur and the majority of its residents.

May their terms never again be marred by such uncalled-for remarks as those of Mr. Hall and S. W. Eason in his recently published letter.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A Wall Street banker was plagued by incessant toothaches, and finally consulted a dentist who agreed to do the whole job for $500 in two weeks' time.

As he was leaving this dentist for the last time, a man in the waiting room with a badly swollen jaw stopped him and said, "You know, I had this fellow do the same job on me two years ago he's just finished for you."

"Was it a good job?" asked our hero, noticing the swollen jaw with some trepidation.

"I'll answer it this way," said the old patient. "I was out fishing last week. My wife was with me and, all of a sudden, she catches me with a big, ugly hook squarely in the seat of my pants."

"But what has that to do with your teeth?" the Wall Streeter wanted to know.

"That's the point I'm coming to," explained the old patient. "For the first time in two yeas, I didn't notice my teeth hurting!"

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

We Should Help OES Take Collective Action Against Castro

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy will be making a grave mistake if he accepts the policy of "containment" in dealing with the Soviet-anchored Castro regime. And he would, thereby, be abandoning the very assurances he gave to the American people after the invasion setback.

A Washington news dispatch, reflecting an apparently high source, states flatly that the administration "has reverted to a policy of containment against Cuban Communism," and adds:

"A high U. S. source disclosed that the trend emerging from the administration's reappraisal of its entire Cuban policy was to seek Castro's isolation . . . "

KENNEDY HAS himself said that the U. S. will not indefinitely tolerate in the Americas a Cuban Soviet Socialist dictatorship subject to foreign control. Here are the words he used:

"Should it ever appear that the inter-American doctrine of non-interference merely conceals or excuses a policy of non-action—if the nations of this hemisphere should fail to meet their commitments against outside Communist penetration—then I want it clearly understood that this government will not hestitate in meeting its primary obligations which are to the security of our own nation."

Then the President declared that "Cuba must not be abandoned to the Communists. And we do not intend to abandon it either."

OBVIOUSLY TIMING and tactics are for the President to decide. But it is only candid to say that to make "containment"—or quarantine or isolation—of Castro the objective of U. S. policy means abandoning Cuba to Communist control.

Kennedy has not himself taken any public action to contradict his commitment. It may well be that the "high source" quoted is speaking prematurely or does not correctly read the trend of administration policy.

There is some evidence that the trend is not to embrace merely containment. This is the declaration of President Kennedy and Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker who described the Castro dictatorship as "threatening both the peaceful and democratic evolution" of Latin America.

THIS DECLARATION provides the basis for collective action by the Organization of American States.

Beari n mind that by its charter the O. A. S. is committed to take any measure—political, economic, and military—needed to deal with "any situation which might endanger the peace of America."

And in the Treaty of Caracas, signed in 1954, all the American states are bound to act collectively against "the domination or control of the political institutions of any American state by the international Communist movement, extending to this hemisphere the political system of an extra-continental power."

Ambassador Adlai Stevenson will shortly visit the Latin American countries to take sounding on the prospects of bringing O. A. S. sanctions into play.

10 YEARS AGO

Because Marin County now has a million-dollar yearly payroll, it is due to have a job classification plan, according to Elwood Ennis of the Louis J. Kroeger firm, hired by the county government as consultant.

Why Not New High School District For Stinson, Bolinas, West Marin

The Marin County Committee on School District Organization, which came into being in 1950, has until Sept. 15, 1962, to complete a master plan of school district unification in Marin County, ready for the voters. If it fails by that date, the State Department of Education will take over the job.

Arousing itself on the virtual eve of its deadline, the county committee has scheduled a series of master plan study meetings this summer. It has come up with two unification plans:

1. Merge all the 26 districts in the county into one unified district.

2. Create a unified district out of each of the four high school districts in the county and the elementary school districts within it.

THERE ARE SEVERAL things to question in either plan.

In a county in such various stages of development, and with such geographic and environmental separations as Marin, county-wide unification may pose more problems than it settles.

Unification within the present high school district boundaries, on the other hand, would appear to perpetuate some districting that was haphazard at best in its beginning.

ITEM 1: Tomales Joint Union High School District straddles the Sonoma County line, including several rural school districts in Sonoma. It runs down the coast to Olema, including the West Marin Union and Point Reyes School Districts.

All forecasts are for a huge increase in population in the Inverness-Point Reyes area within the next few years, regardless of whether most of the Point Reyes Peninsula becomes a national seashore. Already the West Marin School District has far more pupils than those in the Tomales area. If growth comes to Tomales, it will come much later.

Therefore, perpetuating districting that requires Inverness-Point Reyes students to travel to Tomales High School does not seem just. It is a case of the tail wagging the dog. The district in its present boundaries could not support two high schools for some time to come. When the time arrived that it could do so, pretty solid opposition from the North Marin-Sonoma segment could be expected against voting bonds for a high school in the Inverness area.

ITEM 2. Bolinas and Stinson Beach students, on a four-laned Highway 1 that is but a few years away, could get to Inverness or its vicinity more simply and quickly than to Tamalpais High School in Mill Valley. There is more community of interest between the Inverness area and the Bolinas-Stinson area than between the latter and Mill Valley.

Therefore, it would appear logical to place the Bolinas-Stinson Beach district in the same unified district with West Marin.

ITEM 3. There has long been some feeling in the San Geronimo Valley in favor of divorce from Tamalpais Union High School District.

Plans are now on the boards for development in the valley that is expected to give it 20,000 population within a few years—enough for a high school of its own.

MIGHT IT NOT, therefore, be reasonable and just for the portion of Tomales High School District that is within Marin County to be lumped with Bolinas-Stinson and Lagunitas School Districts in one unified district, with a view toward future high schools in both San Geronimo Valley and the Inverness area — where the population will demand them?

Tomales High School could then remain as a small school for its own immediate area—which is all its physical plant will accommodate, anyhow. With its greater concentration on agriculture and homecrafts, it could continue to perform a useful function for its rural families, while the other high schools could develop along other lines.

The loss of tax revenue by removal of the Sonoma districts would be far more than compensated. Bolinas-Stinson alone probably has nearly as much assessed valuation. And development there, near Inverness and in the San Geronimo Valley, within a few years will be such that two new high schools will be required, regardless of their district.

After 11 years, perhaps the County Comimttee on School District Organization might take another look.

Player Pianos Make Comeback With Same Foot-Pumping Fun

Player pianos are back in style—new ones, not the left-overs of a bygone era, though they are still in demand, too.

Bob Olney of Miracle Music, 2066 Fourth Street, San Rafael, tells me that he and Jim Joyce have been appointed authorized dealer for the modern players manufactured by Pianola, Inc., of New York City.

The new version is the same size as a spinet, has a 64-note keyboard but will play the old 88-note rolls and has many improvements over the vintages of 40 or more years ago. But it is still foot-pumped which was always the fun of the whole thing, and Miracle Music's orders are being fitted with rinky-tink attachments.

No models in stock yet but they are on order.

OLDSMOBILE DEALERS of the Bay Area have elected from their group James C. Scripture of San Rafael to the Dealer Council in the Oldsmobile Division of General Motors for the Northern California and Nevada territory.

This in itself is quite an honor but there is one more step up and Scripture may be pushed in that direction — to the national council at Lansing, Mich.

HERBERT K. STAHL of Corte Madera has joined the marketing planning department of the California and Hawaiian Sugar Refining Corp. of San Francisco as market analyst. He was previously associated with the Bank of America.

A FIGURE of 20 million dollars in assets was reached this month by the Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. which has decided to increase its staff to take care of constantly increasing business.

John G. Sullivan of San Rafael who has had 13 years with the American Trust Co. and three more with the Federal Home Loan Bank Examiner's division has been appointed to a newly formed position of controller.

Others who have recently joined the firm are Mrs. Rosemary Teller of Novato and Mrs. Denyse McQueen of San Rafael as tellers, and Mrs. Janet Ross of San Rafael as general ledger bookkeeper. She was formerly with the Santa Rosa Savings and Loan Assn.

AMES FORD SALES of San Rafael has negotiated a nice little deal with the California Division of Highways for seven van-type vehicles to transport traffic counters. Don Fraser, truck and fleet division manager arranged the sale.

THE PACIFIC COAST Builders Conference and Exhibit to be held in San Francisco June 6, 7 and 8 at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel will be well represented by Marin Countians in its programming.

Frank W. Callahan of Belvedere, executive vice president of the Home Builders Council of California, Inc., is responsible for the conference planning and preparation. Carl S. Brown, executive secretary of the Marin Builders Assn. is also scheduled to be active, and L. C. Burdett Jr. of San Rafael, vice president of Alcan Pacific Co. will be a featured speaker on a panel to deal with the subject of apartment housing.

WE'RE PLEASED to see that Lee Busolo, San Anselmo Chevron station owner has opened up another of the same brand at 810 College Avenue, Kentfield.

His grand opening must have been like old home week. Lee used to have a service station at Kentfield Corners years ago.

Six Beauties Will Vie For 'Miss Marin' Title

Six finalists will vie for the title of "Miss Marin" and a chance to compete for "Miss Universe" at the Ames Ford sales showroom in San Rafael at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Finalists are: Barbara Dupuis, 18, of 165 Ridge Road, Tiburon; Carol Musante, 19, of 69 Spindrift Passage, Corte Madera; Margo Moulton, 18, of Forest Knolls; Gail Richardson, 18, of 1453 Postel Lane, Novato; Marilyn Kacel, 18, of 221 Van Tassel Court, Sleepy Hollow, and Pam Stettler, 18, of 147 First Street, San Rafael.

The girls will be judged on their appearance in bathing suit and formal gown and their answer to three questions, said Mrs. Mary Duncan, campaign director.

Judges are Louis Sabella, James T. Joyce, Dr. Thomas Brandes, Ken Moore and Mrs. Eugene Henn of Santa Venetia, mother of last year's winner, Linda Henn.

A fashion show of oldtime bathing suits will also be given Friday, Mrs. Duncan announced. Music will be provided by a four-piece band and refreshments will be served, she added.

Friday's winner will win a trip to Santa Monica where "Miss California" will be chosen June 19-24. "Miss California" will go on to compete in the "Miss United States" crown. "Miss United States" will try for the "Miss Universe" title.

The local competition is being sponsored by John Robert Powers School in San Rafael and the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

Mineral Society Meeting Friday

Dr. K. La Fors of the Bureau of Mines in San Francisco will be the guest speaker for the Marin Mineral Society at its public meeting Friday at 7:30 p. m. in room 40, College of Marin.

La Fors will discuss crystal systems and show models of the systems.

Proposed Tree Ordinance Meeting In Corte Madera

A proposed tree cutting ordinance and landscaping of the triangle at Tamalpais Drive and Redwood Avenue will be discussed by the Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission at its meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

The commission held a public hearing on the tree cutting ordinance at its March meeting. The town council will hold a hearing on the ordinance on June 5.

The garden section of the Corte Madera Women's Improvement Club, through its chairman, Mrs. Ray Treasher, has asked the commission for a list of needed projects for the city park. The club will then select an item from this list to make a gift to the city. The commission will prepare the list at its meeting.

Juvenile Aide Honored

Mrs. Myrtle Gilcrease, senior group counselor at Marin County Juvenile Hall, received an award last week for completing two years of training in residential child care under University of California Extension. Mrs. Gilcrease took the training at no expense to the county.

Delicatessen Opening In Kentfield

Gourmet Foods, a new delicatessen with restaurant type facilities, is planned to open next week at 913 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield.

The establishment will be a joint enterprise of S. N. Kotite, former operator of the Kotite Delicatessen in the Ross Valley Supermarket, and Harry Ramsay, owner of Gourmet Catering, a wholesale food service in San Francisco.

Kotite said he will maintain a separate counter for his Lebanese salad specialties and for cheese from all over the world. He will also provide a selection of standard cocktail items.

Other delicatessen products will include cold roasts, turkey, kosher sausages, pastrami and corned beef, hot entrees and salads which may be consumed on the premises or taken out. Table service will be available for about 50 persons.

Ramsay said delivery service will be provided for the surrounding area and that by September he hopes to engage in outside catering and deliveries throughout Marin County and San Francisco between the combined facilities of Gourmet Foods and Gourmet Catering.

The Kentfield establishment will be open seven days a week from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Find Your Name, Win Ice Follies Ticket

Starting next Monday, the Independent-Journal will begin its fourth annual "Find Your Name" feature in the classified advertising section.

Readers whose names are listed somewhere in the want ads will receive a pair of free tickets to Shipstads and Johnson silver jubilee edition of "Ice Follies," which opens at San Francisco's Winterland June 14.

All readers will profit from the Independent-Journal's "Find Your Name" feature. First, you will certainly profit from the list of bargains found in the want ads, and, too, you may find your name hidden there and profit again by winning two tickets to the "Ice Follies."

There are no "gimmicks" in the Independent-Journal's "Find Your Name" feature, no subscriptions to secure, nothing to write, and no puzzles to work. Simply continue to watch for the many bargains advertised in the want ads, and look for your name listed there. A different name will be hidden somewhere in the want ads each day, Monday through Saturday, starting Monday, May 29. It may be yours.

Fire Season Soon For Mill Valley

Fire season will commence at 8 a. m. Monday in Mill Valley, Fire Chief Leslie Armager said today.

This means that all persons wishing to burn in incinerators or barbecues must secure permits from the Fire Department and that no open burning will be allowed.

Permit requests can be made by telephoning the Fire Department in the City Hall, Armager said. Permits are issued only after an inspection has been made of the burning receptacle.

Burning hours will be from 7 to 11 a. m. daily, conforming with those of the county. Violators are subject to fine.

Point Reyes Seashore Unit, Weavers Enter Garden Fair

For the first time this year, members of the Point Reyes National Seashore Foundation and Tamalpais Weavers Guild will enter the amateur model garden division of the Marin Art and Garden Fair.

They will be among 15 group of amateur gardeners vying for prizes in this year's French-style show, June 30-July 4 at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

Members of the weavers' groups of amateur gardeners fashioned loom in their garden setup at the fair. The weavers' lavender smocks will be complemented by lavender plants and purple flowers in this "French provincial" setting.

The Point Reyes Foundation garden will be the setting for the traditional French picnic in the manner of Renoir.

The first place winner in each category of the model garden division will win a $175 award; $160 for second place; $150 for third. Awards offered for professional and amateur exhibits in the fair total $14,945.

Dry ice was first manufactured commercially in Long Island City, N.Y., in 1925.

CURATOR — Mrs. John Pearce of New York has been appointed White House curator. She will keep records and data on the historic items at the White House.

KTIM Panel To Discuss 'Adjustment'

The proposal to eliminate "life adjustment" courses from the curriculum of San Rafael schools will be discussed on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" program from 9 to 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Participating will be Dr. Mildred B. Barnard, assistant San Rafael superintendent in charge of elementary instruction; Roderick P. Martinelli, president of the San Rafael Board of Education; Mrs. Charles G. Strom, representing parents who want to do away with the "life adjustment" courses, and Dr. Joel Hildebrand, professor emeritus of chemistry at University of California and member of the state Citizens Advisory Committee on Education.

The "life adjustment" courses are intended to fulfill a state requirement that "manners and morals" be taught in the public schools. In its report to the legislature, the Citizens Advisory Committee on Education said manners and morals "are not academic disciplines" and "can be taught best informally, by precept and example, in connection with all classroom activities."

Kitty Oppenheimer will moderate the "Sounding Board" program, which will be repeated from a recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m. Questions telephoned to KTIM during tomorrow's broadcast will be directed to the panel members.

Two Marinites To Get Santa Clara Degrees

Two Marin County residents will be among the 275 persons being awarded degrees during the University of Santa Clara commencement exercises June 3 at 10 a. m.

John C. Helmer of Mill Valley will receive a bachelor of arts degree. Frederick J. Styles of Belvedere will be given a bachelor of electrical engineering degree.

Get Your Polio Shot Or It May Be Made Mandatory

There has been much publicity lately about the need for getting polio shots. This is not a new thing; about this time each year the authorities become concerned that the "polio season" will start this Fall with an unnecessarily large number of persons unvaccinated.

It is amazing that such a thing is true; but it is. Marinites like their fellow human beings in other areas, are great procrastinators. Not only that, early publicity about the Salk vaccine shots gave many persons the impression that if they are more than 40 years of age they are immune to the disease.

Marin County Health Department emphasizes that "there is no assurance anyone is immune" until after being vaccinated—then it's about 90 per cent you are.

Last year only one Marinite was stricken with paralytic polio. He was 53 years old. That's a fine record, but we'd prefer it to be no cases.

As of now, the health department is vaccinating children as young as three months and as old as possible. Private doctors also give the shots.

And there is something new in the county program.

No longer is it necessary to wait eight or nine months to complete the series of three shots. Under the new program only two weeks are necessary between the first and second shots and only a month need intervene between the second and third shots. Thus the entire course of immunization takes only six weeks now.

The health department gives the shots free each weekly afternoon.

Doesn't it seem strange that such an effective, available, inexpensive health measure isn't used 100 per cent by our people? Yet less than half of Marin's population is vaccinated.

Perhaps this is the reason that bureaucrats can move into a health field. We don't seem to make such a program work voluntarily.

Right now there is legislation in Sacramento that would prohibit children from entering public school unless they had their polio shots. It's easy to imagine this as beginning a whole category of prescribed medical requirements.

The only chance Big Brother has to help us is when we don't help ourselves. Let's voluntarily see to it that we and those we love get polio shots, regardless of our ages.

Missing The Bus

If there is aything as frustrating as missing the proverbial boat, it must be missing a real bus.

We aer told by those who have undergone the ordeal, that chasing a bus while frantically waving and yelling, only to be left in a cloud of exhaust fumes, is a sensation comparable to being hit on the head three times with a hammer. (Is the driver deaf and blind!)

We are further informed missing the bus is something which always happens on the day of an important appointment. It seldom happens on unimportant days.

THIEVES FISH FOR CASH

Fishing for money netted burglars a $1,500 catch not long ago.

The enterprising anglers had quietly observed food company drivers deposit their daily receipts into a slot leading into a safe in the company offices.

Over one weekend the thieves decided to do a little indoor fishing. They dropped fish hooks through the slot and were able to snag three bags containing $500 in cash and $1,000 in checks.

The lure of money can stir up within man a sense of daring and resourcefulness that he little dreamed he possessed.

But human beings display even greater enterprise and initiative when they set their hearts on helping man instead of hurting him. Christ bade His first disciples to be "fishers of men"—to apply the skills of their own trade to the task of redeeming mankind. These simple fishermen become outstanding apostles because of their burning desire to serve God and man.

"Come ye after Me, and I will make you to be fishers of men."

(Matthew 4:19)

Teach me, O Jesus, to be a fisher of men.

Well, Sydney, You Could Always Take A Post-Graduate Course

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks a college senior, Class of 1961, gets tired of hearing:

"Well, Sidney, that four-year loaf on father's dough is about over."

"If he's the hope of tomorrow, the country might as well give up now and save itself a lot of trouble."

"The starting salary is only $75, there are no fringe benefits and you'll be on the road three weeks out of four—but we feel the opportunity for personal advancement is unlimited for anyone who gets a kick out of good old-fashioned hard work."

"Naturally no student will be allowed to graduate who has failed to pay his college library fines. The sum you still owe is $87.64."

"Your father says it is perfectly all right with him if you go ahead and get married the day after graduation — that is, if you are prepared to support a wife. He says he is able to support only one wife himself—me, your darling mother."

"I know you majored in international economic problems, my boy, but our firm makes zippers. We're looking for a young fellow full of fire and ginger who can eat, sleep and talk zippers 24 hours a day, seven days a week."

"Frankly, Sidney, I think the talent scouts from some of these big corporations would show more interest in you if you'd just shave off that silly looking beard."

"Look at it this way, kid. Just because you went to college nobody's going to hand you the world on a platter."

"The worst of it, as I see it, Sidney, is that from now on we'll have to wear a necktie every day the rest of our life."

"REMEMBER, SON, I'd be awful glad if you just came back and helped your old dad run the grocery store. If you put your mind to it, you can find a lot of romance in canned peas and pork chops."

"I tell you they're all spoiled today. Why, when I got out of college, we felt we were darned lucky if we got a job at $25 a week."

"IF SECURITY is what you're looking for at your age, young fella, why don't you go out and get yourself arrested so you can go to jail. That's real security."

"Okay, Sidney, so we got our diplomas at last. Now let's go out on the highway and hitchhike back home."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

On The Joys Of Property Value

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Like so many other thousands of our Marin Paradise citizens, I received from the office of the assessor the official valuation of my property—that is, in the commercial aspect.

This was most comforting and I went to bed that night with a dream that had not even formulated in normal slumber. What more could man ask?

I naturally rolled around on my pillow and mattress—and came to the conclusion that the piece of land I own in Marin has far more value than any acreage on the moon or Jupiter, let alone Venus.

Anyway, this office, headed by B. W. Broemmel, is doing a fine service. It stamps a value on where one sits — a value that is recognized by the general populace, including both Republicans and Democrats, not to mention Liberals and Independents. This crack has no connection with your worthy paper. Where one SITS has untold value, much more valuable than where one stands! No matter where one stands today he is apt to fall down.

But most of us now know where we sit. In many cases it is a revelation. I hope that an astronaut will not spoil this with a landing upon Mercury—or even a satellite in full expectation!

Shouldn't Be Afraid Of Lambs

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Who fears whom? Subject, Price Hall, ex-Larkspur planning commissioner.

This man has served as planning commissioner for a number of years.

Any planning commission is only a subcommittee to any council. (The work horse.)

Why fear them, for they can only suggest or recommend?

Take warning, people of Larkspur, if you have placed in office people who are in fear of LAMBS, what if there are LIONS in the streets?

Larkspur Citizens Chose Council

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

As citizens of Larkspur, we want to protest the unwarranted slurs, quoted in your columns as coming from Price J. Hall, on our duly elected (or, in one case, appointed) members of the Larkspur City Council.

The gentlemen of the council were not elected by a "vocal minority," but by receiving a majority of votes at a regular election. If Mr. Hall feels this is not so, he should most certainly call the matter to the attention of the Grand Jury. As members in good standing of Mr. Hall's "indifferent community majority," we submit that the gentleman "doth protest too much, methinks."

The citizens of Larkspur were given every opportunity to hear the views of all the candidates before the election, and chose those men who are now doing their best to see that all the residents of Larkspur get good government, untainted by special interests—we hope.

If the citizens of Larkspur had been pleased with the conduct of city business by the previous council, it is doubtful that the members would have been replaced. One of the most difficult feats in politics is to beat an incumbent. Certainly a "vocal minority" couldn't do it.

As for our previous board, some citizens are more impressed with a record of town business than a man's ability to attain high rank in a business firm, which ability may not necessarily be the same as that needed to be a good town councilman.

We hope that this vituperative attack on our council members will not continue. The two members of the council whom we know personally certainly are much too great gentlemen to attack in kind. All the councilmen are in a position where it is practically impossible for them to defend themselves fairly from this sort of attack.

We therefore hope that the citizens who voted them into office will join us in asking for the use of your columns so that we can come to their defense by publicly giving them again our best wishes for their continued efforts in behalf of Larkspur and the majority of its residents.

May their terms never again be marred by such uncalled-for remarks as those of Mr. Hall and S. W. Eason in his recently published letter.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A Wall Street banker was plagued by incessant toothaches, and finally consulted a dentist who agreed to do the whole job for $500 in two weeks' time.

As he was leaving this dentist for the last time, a man in the waiting room with a badly swollen jaw stopped him and said, "You know, I had this fellow do the same job on me two years ago he's just finished for you."

"Was it a good job?" asked our hero, noticing the swollen jaw with some trepidation.

"I'll answer it this way," said the old patient. "I was out fishing last week. My wife was with me and, all of a sudden, she catches me with a big, ugly hook squarely in the seat of my pants."

"But what has that to do with your teeth?" the Wall Streeter wanted to know.

"That's the point I'm coming to," explained the old patient. "For the first time in two yeas, I didn't notice my teeth hurting!"

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

We Should Help OES Take Collective Action Against Castro

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy will be making a grave mistake if he accepts the policy of "containment" in dealing with the Soviet-anchored Castro regime. And he would, thereby, be abandoning the very assurances he gave to the American people after the invasion setback.

A Washington news dispatch, reflecting an apparently high source, states flatly that the administration "has reverted to a policy of containment against Cuban Communism," and adds:

"A high U. S. source disclosed that the trend emerging from the administration's reappraisal of its entire Cuban policy was to seek Castro's isolation . . ."

KENNEDY HAS himself said that the U. S. will not indefinitely tolerate in the Americas a Cuban Soviet Socialist dictatorship subject to foreign control. Here are the words he used:

"Should it ever appear that the inter-American doctrine of non-interference merely conceals or excuses a policy of non-action—if the nations of this hemisphere should fail to meet their commitments against outside Communist penetration—then I want it clearly understood that this government will not hesitate in meeting its primary obligations which are to the security of our own nation."

Then the President declared that "Cuba must not be abandoned to the Communists. And we do not intend to abandon it either."

OBVIOUSLY TIMING and tactics are for the President to decide. But it is only candid to say that to make "containment"—or quarantine or isolation—of Castro the objective of U. S. policy means abandoning Cuba to Communist control.

Kennedy has not himself taken any public action to contradict his commitment. It may well be that the "high source" quoted is speaking prematurely or does not correctly read the trend of administration policy.

There is some evidence that the trend is not to embrace merely containment. This is the declaration of President Kennedy and Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker who described the Castro dictatorship as "threatening both the peaceful and democratic evolution" of Latin America.

THIS DECLARATION provides the basis for collective action by the Organization of American States.

Beari n mind that by its charter the O. A. S. is committed to take any measure—political, economic, and military—needed to deal with "any situation which might endanger the peace of America."

And in the Treaty of Caracas, signed in 1954, all the American states are bound to act collectively against "the domination or control of the political institutions of any American state by the international Communist movement, extending to this hemisphere the political system of an extra-continental power."

Ambassador Adlai Stevenson will shortly visit the Latin American countries to take sounding on the prospects of bringing O. A. S. sanctions into play.

10 YEARS AGO

Because Marin County now has a million-dollar yearly payroll, it is due to have a job classification plan, according to Elwood Ennis of the Louis J. Kroeger firm, hired by the county government as consultant.

IJ REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Why Not New High School District For Stinson, Bolinas, West Marin

The Marin County Committee on School District Organization, which came into being in 1950, has until Sept. 15, 1962, to complete a master plan of school district unification in Marin County, ready for the voters. If it fails by that date, the State Department of Education will take over the job.

Arousing itself on the virtual eve of its deadline, the county committee has scheduled a series of master plan study meetings this summer. It has come up with two unification plans:

1. Merge all the 26 districts in the county into one unified district.

2. Create a unified district out of each of the four high school districts in the county and the elementary school districts within it.

THERE ARE SEVERAL things to question in either plan.

In a county in such various stages of development, and with such geographic and environmental separations as Marin, county-wide unification may pose more problems than it settles.

Unification within the present high school district boundaries, on the other hand, would appear to perpetuate some districting that was haphazard at best in its beginning.

ITEM 1: Tomales Joint Union High School District straddles the Sonoma County line, including several rural school districts in Sonoma. It runs down the coast to Olema, including the West Marin Union and Point Reyes School Districts.

All forecasts are for a huge increase in population in the Inverness-Point Reyes area within the next few years, regardless of whether most of the Point Reyes Peninsula becomes a national seashore. Already the West Marin School District has far more pupils than those in the Tomales area. If growth comes to Tomales, it will come much later.

Therefore, perpetuating districting that requires Inverness-Point Reyes students to travel to Tomales High School does not seem just. It is a case of the tail wagging the dog. The district in its present boundaries could not support two high schools for some time to come. When the time arrived that it could do so, pretty solid opposition from the North Marin-Sonoma segment could be expected against voting bonds for a high school in the Inverness area.

ITEM 2. Bolinas and Stinson Beach students, on a four-laned Highway 1 that is but a few years away, could get to Inverness or its vicinity more simply and quickly than to Tamalpais High School in Mill Valley. There is more community of interest between the Inverness area and the Bolinas-Stinson area than between the latter and Mill Valley.

Therefore, it would appear logical to place the Bolinas-Stinson Beach district in the same unified district with West Marin.

ITEM 3. There has long been some feeling in the San Geronimo Valley in favor of divorce from Tamalpais Union High School District.

Plans are now on the boards for development in the valley that is expected to give it 20,000 population within a few years—enough for a high school of its own.

MIGHT IT NOT, therefore, be reasonable and just for the portion of Tomales High School District that is within Marin County to be lumped with Bolinas-Stinson and Lagunitas School Districts in one unified district, with a view toward future high schools in both San Geronimo Valley and the Inverness area — where the population will demand them?

Tomales High School could then remain as a small school for its own immediate area—which is all its physical plant will accommodate, anyhow. With its greater concentration on agriculture and homecrafts, it could continue to perform a useful function for its rural families, while the other high schools could develop along other lines.

The loss of tax revenue by removal of the Sonoma districts would be far more than compensated. Bolinas-Stinson alone probably has nearly as much assessed valuation. And development there, near Inverness and in the San Geronimo Valley, within a few years will be such that two new high schools will be required, regardless of their district.

After 11 years, perhaps the County Comimttee on School District Organization might take another look.

Delicatessen Opening In Kentfield

Gourmet Foods, a new delicatessen with restaurant type facilities, is planned to open next week at 913 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield.

The establishment will be a joint enterprise of S. N. Kotite, former operator of the Kotite Delicatessen in the Ross Valley Supermarket, and Harry Ramsay, owner of Gourmet Catering, a wholesale food service in San Francisco.

Kotite said he will maintain a separate counter for his Lebanese salad specialties and for cheese from all over the world. He will also provide a selection of standard cocktail items.

Other delicatessen products will include cold roasts, turkey, kosher sausages, pastrami and corned beef, hot entrees and salads which may be consumed on the premises or taken out. Table service will be available for about 50 persons.

Ramsay said delivery service will be provided for the surrounding area and that by September he hopes to engage in outside catering and deliveries throughout Marin County and San Francisco between the combined facilities of Gourmet Foods and Gourmet Catering.

The Kentfield establishment will be open seven days a week from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Student-Parent Picnic

The 12 students of Laguna Joint School District will have their annual student-parent picnic June 15 at Morton's Hot Springs near Glen Ellen in Sonoma County.

Parents, Avoid Open Conflicts With Teen-Age Daughters Over Their Fads

Have you looked closely at high school girls lately? Whew! Hair like haystacks, make-up like Dracula's bride. Their dresses aren't bad but I can't say I like their other styles. Can you?

How strict should we be with our girls? Should we let them follow the latest fads, even though they look silly? Or should we clamp down, and force them to be conservative?

I suggest we compromise.

I've tried to help many families struggle through disagreements over clothes, hairdo and makeup. I've seen good homes turned into miserable battlegrounds. Also I've watched the more comfortable families in which daughters are given freedom to follow fads. I started out thinking we should be strict. But now I believe we should be easy on our girls, provided the fads aren't too terribly extreme.

We only have a certain amount of strength to use disciplining our teen-agers. If we expend it on things like clothes and hairdo, when something really catastrophic turns up, we've no control left.

For example, when your 15-year-old daughter gets a crush on a goon from a reform school. When that happens you must be able to say "No!" and make it stick. But if she is already rebelling over her hairdo she won't listen to you. She'll go ahead. Her life may be ruined.

If your girl runs with nice kids you needn't worry too much. She may look silly. You will cringe when you see her, but she'll soon learn. Eventually her taste will improve. If she's decently covered and reasonably clean, let her go.

Exercise control indirectly and avoid fights about fads whenever possible.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "My teen-age son has a slight lisp. Other boyst ease him. At his old school there were no speech therapists. He got no help. Could a speech therapist correct his defect now?"

Mrs. L. V. S.

(A) Yes, though it may take some time. Ask about speech therapy at his school. If it is not available there, have a therapist privately to help your son.

Paternity Suit Is Filed Against Mill Valley Man

A Bolinas divorcee filed a paternity suit in Marin Superior Court yesterday, naming a wealthy Mill Valley man as father of her 3-year-old son and asking $1,000 per month support for the boy.

Jane H. Buck, 37-year-old brunette who also goes by the name of Jane Hamner, says the father of her child is William Benson Buck, scion of a wealthy Marin family who formerly owned property in the Dominican area of San Rafael.

San Rafael attorney William G. Corrigan, who represents the woman, says he believes Buck has a $750,000 account in a bank in securities and ready cash and has a monthly income of more than $2,000. Mrs. Buck, who has two children by a previous marriage, lived with Buck as man and wife in Bolinas for six years before they separated about a year ago, her attorney said.

The complaint alleges that Buck has publicly acknowledged his paternity and has treated the boy, Paul Buck, as his own child.

Attorney Corrigan said Buck is believed to be living at 3 Magee Avenue in Mill Valley.

Marin General Hospital Party Off

Because of the construction now in progress, the usual birthday observance for Marin General Hospital, scheduled for Friday, will not be held this year, according to William W. Turner, administrator.

The hospital opened its doors on May 26, 1952. Since that time the staff each year has held some observance of the anniversary.

Novato Summer Principal Named

John Trodden last night was named principal of the elementary summer school session in Novato Unified School District.

Trodden will replace Earl Farris, previously appointed to the summer school post. Farris withdrew because of family reasons.

Trodden has been with the district since 1958 and now teaches eighth grade courses at Hill School. From 1951 to 1957 he taught in the Lagunitas school district and was superintendent there in 1957-58. He and his family reside in San Anselmo.

Children Of Psychotics Are Studied

NEW YORK (UPI) — Science has made its first cautious experiment to learn whether the children of psychotic parents tend to be more neurotic than children from undisturbed homes.

Results indicate no significant differences in most cases but in some there was an established relationship between the psychotic parent and the neutoric offspring, especially when the mother suffers from schizophrenia.

The question is prime because the populations of mental hospitals are dwindling, thanks to the tranquilizing drugs which control some psychotic mental disorders without curing them.

Many of the patients return to caring for their own children and in some instances to procreating more children. If the nature of psychotic illness were such that it can impose neurosis on others, the emptying of mental hospitals would be a mixed blessing, according to some social scientists.

A psychotic illness is marked by disorganized personality and departures from reality. A neurotic personality is organized even if confused, and he's aware of reality. One way of stating the difference is that a psychotic has no idea of the score but a neurotic knows the score—and hates it.

Typical neurotics have a history of severe stresses and deprivation in early childhood. For that reason mental health scientists feel the unrealistic behavior of psychotic parents could impose neurosis on their children.

The experiment was conducted by an English psychiatrist, Dr. Valerie Cowie, who studied 330 children of psychotic parents to find out how many were neurotic and to what degree.

A like number of children of presumably mentally healthy parents also were tested and the results were compared. In both cases the parents had been hospitalized at one time—the psychotics in mental institutions and the normal parents in regular hospitals.

The conclusions indicated the over-all differences between the two sets of parents were not nearly as great as had been expected. Some individual case histories did indicate a casual relationship between the psychosis of the parent and the neurotic child.

One sidelight was that while a schizophrenic father did little damage to his children, a split-personality psychosis in the mother was often reflected in a neurotic child.

In commenting on the study, the technical journal, The Lancet, pointed out that it had a number of statistical flaws and the results were more suggestive than conclusive. For one thing, the age range of the psychotic parents was wide—some of their children were 55 years old.

Despite these flaws, its important "suggestion" was that "community care of the psychotic may be a lot less harmful to others than one might expect," it added.

"It is too soon to dismiss possible unfortunate social consequences of the large-scae discharge of chronic patients, but some of the auguries are hopeful."

Mumps, Measles Top List Again

Mumps and measles continued to be Marin's most prevalent diseases last week, as they have each week for several years.

Twenty new cases of mumps and 15 new cases of measles were reported to the county health department, announced Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer. Mumps was most prevalent in Corte Madera, with 12 cases; measles, in Mill Valley, with nine cases.

Seven cases of streptococcic infections were reported, six cases of gonorrhea and one case of syphilis.

Court Date Set In Welfare Fraud

A San Rafael waitress, divorced mother of two, is scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court Monday afternoon on a charge that she received $971 in illegal welfare aid during the past six months.

She is Eunice Davis, 20, of 911½ Lincoln Avenue. Antoan Adam, investigator for the district attorney, said the young mother is suspected of receiving aid by telling welfare officials she was getting no outside help.

Adam said his investigation indicated that she was living with a common law husband who was helping to support her.

REGISTRATION: Coupon bonds will be issued by said Board of Supervisors on behalf of said District. Such bonds are registrable only as to both principal and interest.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: Said bonds were authorized by more than two-thirds of the voters voting at an election held in said District on April 18, 1961, and will be issued and sold for the purpose of raising money for authorized school purposes.

SECURITY: The bonds are general obligations of said District, and said Board of Supervisors has power and is obligated to levy ad valorem taxes for the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon upon all property within said District, subject to taxation by said District (except certain intangible personal property, which is taxable at limited rates), without limitation of rate or amount.

TAX EXEMPT STATUS: In the event that prior to the delivery of the bonds the income received by private holders from bonds of the same type and character shall be declared to be taxable under any Federal Income Tax laws, either by the terms of such laws or by ruling of a Federal Income Tax authority or official which is followed by the Internal Revenue Service or by the decision of any Federal Court, the successful bidder may at his option prior to the tender of said bonds by the Board of Supervisors, be relieved of his obligation under the contract to purchase the bonds and in such case the deposit accompanying his bid will be returned.

LEGAL OPINION: The legal opinion of the following firm approving the validity of said bonds, will be furnished to the successful bidder without charge: Orrick, Dahlquist, Herrington & Sutcliffe of San Francisco, California. A copy of the legal opinion, certified by the official in whose office the original is filed, will be printed on each bond at the expense of the successful bidder, if requested in his bid.

TERMS OF SALE

HIGHEST BIDDER: The bonds will be awarded to the highest responsible bidder or bidders considering the interest rate or rates specified and the premium offered, if any. The highest bid will be determined by deducting the amount of the premium bid (if any) from the total amount of interest which the District would be required to pay from the date of said bonds to the respective maturity dates thereof at the coupon rate or rates specified in the bid and the award will be made on the basis of the lowest net interest cost to the district. The lowest net interest cost shall be computed on a 360-day year basis. The purchaser must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of delivery. The cost of printing the bonds will be borne by the district.

RIGHT OF REJECTION: Said Board of Supervisors reserves the right in its discretion to reject any and all bids and to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

PROMPT AWARD: The Board of Supervisors will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than 24 hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for receipt of proposals unless such time of award is waived by the successful bidder.

PROMPT DELIVERY: Delivery of said bonds will be made to the successful bidder at the office of the County Treasurer of said County as soon as the bonds can be prepared which it is estimated will be within 30 days from the day of sale, but not prior to the date of the bonds.

RIGHT OF CANCELLATION: The successful bidder shall have the right, at his option, to cancel the contract of purchase if the bonds are not tendered for delivery within 60 days from the date of sale thereof, and in such event the successful bidder shall be entitled to the return of the deposit accompanying his bid.

FORM OF BID: All bids must be for not less than all of the bonds hereby offered for sale, and for not less than the par value thereof and accrued interest to date of delivery. Such bids, together with bidder's check, must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the Board of Supervisors of said County, and endorsed "Proposal for School Bonds of Tomales Bay Union School District of Marin County."

BID CHECK: With each bid must be submitted a certified check or cashier's check for $2,000.00 drawn on a bank or trust company transacting business in the State of California, payable to the order of the County Treasurer, to secure said District from any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. In addition bidders are requested (but not required) to supply an estimate of the total net interest cost to the District on the basis of their respective bids, which shall be considered as informative only and not binding on either the bidder or the District. Checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned by the County Clerk by mail, upon the award of the bonds. No interest will be paid upon deposit made by the successful bidder.

There is no controversy or litigation pending or threatened concerning the validity of the above issue, the corporate existence of said District, or the title of the officers to their respective offices and the Board of Supervisors will deliver to the successful bidder a no-litigation certificate certifying to the foregoing as of and at the time of the delivery of the bonds.

Dated: May 15, 1961.

Parents, Avoid Open Conflicts With Teen-Age Daughters Over Their Fads

Have you looked closely at high school girls lately? Whew! Hair like haystacks, make-up like Dracula's bride. Their dresses aren't bad but I can't say I like their other styles. Can you?

How strict should we be with our girls? Should we let them follow the latest fads, even though they look silly? Or should we clamp down, and force them to be conservative?

I suggest we compromise.

I've tried to help many families struggle through disagreements over clothes, hairdo and makeup. I've seen good homes turned into miserable battlegrounds. Also I've watched the more comfortable families in which daughters are given freedom to follow fads. I started out thinking we should be strict. But now I believe we should be easy on our girls, provided the fads aren't too terribly extreme.

We only have a certain amount of strength to use disciplining our teen-agers. If we expend it on things like clothes and hairdo, when something really catastrophic turns up, we've no control left.

For example, when your 15-year-old daughter gets a crush on a goon from a reform school. When that happens you must be able to say "No!" and make it stick. But if she is already rebelling over her hairdo she won't listen to you. She'll go ahead. Her life may be ruined.

If your girl runs with nice kids you needn't worry too much. She may look silly. You will cringe when you see her, but she'll soon learn. Eventually her taste will improve. If she's decently covered and reasonably clean, let her go.

Exercise control indirectly and avoid fights about fads whenever possible.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "My teen-age son has a slight lisp. Other boyst ease him. At his old school there were no speech therapists. He got no help. Could a speech therapist correct his defect now?"

(A) Yes, though it may take some time. Ask about speech therapy at his school. If it is not available there, have a therapist privately to help your son.

Paternity Suit Is Filed Against Mill Valley Man

A Bolinas divorcee filed a paternity suit in Marin Superior Court yesterday, naming a wealthy Mill Valley man as father of her 3-year-old son and asking $1,000 per month support for the boy.

Jane H. Buck, 37-year-old brunette who also goes by the name of Jane Hamner, says the father of her child is William Benson Buck, scion of a wealthy Marin family who formerly owned property in the Dominican area of San Rafael.

San Rafael attorney William G. Corrigan, who represents the woman, says he believes Buck has a $750,000 account in a bank in securities and ready cash and has a monthly income of more than $2,000. Mrs. Buck, who has two children by a previous marriage, lived with Buck as man and wife in Bolinas for six years before they separated about a year ago, her attorney said.

The complaint alleges that Buck has publicly acknowledged his paternity and has treated the boy, Paul Buck, as his own child.

Attorney Corrigan said Buck is believed to be living at 3 Magee Avenue in Mill Valley.

Marin General Hospital Party Off

Because of the construction now in progress, the usual birthday observance for Marin General Hospital, scheduled for Friday, will not be held this year, according to William W. Turner, administrator.

The hospital opened its doors on May 26, 1952. Since that time the staff each year has held some observance of the anniversary.

Novato Summer Principal Named

John Trodden last night was named principal of the elementary summer school session in Novato Unified School District.

Trodden will replace Earl Farris, previously appointed to the summer school post. Farris withdrew because of family reasons.

Trodden has been with the district since 1958 and now teaches eighth grade courses at Hill School. From 1951 to 1957 he taught in the Lagunitas school district and was superintendent there in 1957-58. He and his family reside in San Anselmo.

Children Of Psychotics Are Studied

NEW YORK (UPI) — Science has made its first cautious experiment to learn whether the children of psychotic parents tend to be more neurotic than children from undisturbed homes.

Results indicate no significant differences in most cases but in some there was an established relationship between the psychotic parent and the neutoric offspring, especially when the mother suffers from schizophrenia.

The question is prime because the populations of mental hospitals are dwindling, thanks to the tranquilizing drugs which control some psychotic mental disorders without curing them.

Many of the patients return to caring for their own children and in some instances to procreating more children. If the nature of psychotic illness were such that it can impose neurosis on others, the emptying of mental hospitals would be a mixed blessing, according to some social scientists.

A psychotic illness is marked by disorganized personality and departures from reality. A neurotic personality is organized even if confused, and he's aware of reality. One way of stating the difference is that a psychotic has no idea of the score but a neurotic knows the score—and hates it.

Typical neurotics have a history of severe stresses and deprivation in early childhood. For that reason mental health scientists feel the unrealistic behavior of psychotic parents could impose neurosis on their children.

The experiment was conducted by an English psychiatrist, Dr. Valerie Cowie, who studied 330 children of psychotic parents to find out how many were neurotic and to what degree.

A like number of children of presumably mentally healthy parents also were tested and the results were compared. In both cases the parents had been hospitalized at one time—the psychotics in mental institutions and the normal parents in regular hospitals.

The conclusions indicated the over-all differences between the two sets of parents were not nearly as great as had been expected. Some individual case histories did indicate a casual relationship between the psychosis of the parent and the neurotic child.

One sidelight was that while a schizophrenic father did little damage to his children, a split-personality psychosis in the mother was often reflected in a neurotic child.

In commenting on the study, the technical journal, The Lancet, pointed out that it had a number of statistical flaws and the results were more suggestive than conclusive. For one thing, the age range of the psychotic parents was wide—some of their children were 55 years old.

Despite these flaws, its important "suggestion" was that "community care of the psychotic may be a lot less harmful to others than one might expect," it added.

"It is too soon to dismiss possible unfortunate social consequences of the large-scae discharge of chronic patients, but some of the auguries are hopeful."

Mumps, Measles Top List Again

Mumps and measles continued to be Marin's most prevalent diseases last week, as they have each week for several years.

Twenty new cases of mumps and 15 new cases of measles were reported to the county health department, announced Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer. Mumps was most prevalent in Corte Madera, with 12 cases; measles, in Mill Valley, with nine cases.

Seven cases of streptococcic infections were reported, six cases of gonorrhea and one case of syphilis.

Court Date Set In Welfare Fraud

A San Rafael waitress, divorced mother of two, is scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court Monday afternoon on a charge that she received $971 in illegal welfare aid during the past six months.

She is Eunice Davis, 20, of 911½ Lincoln Avenue. Antoan Adam, investigator for the district attorney, said the young mother is suspected of receiving aid by telling welfare officials she was getting no outside help.

Adam said his investigation indicated that she was living with a common law husband who was helping to support her.

Such bids, together with bidder's check, must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the Board of Supervisors of said County, and endorsed "Proposal for School Bonds of Tomales Bay Union School District of Marin County."

BID CHECK: With each bid must be submitted a certified check or cashier's check for $2,000.00 drawn on a bank or trust company transacting business in the State of California, payable to the order of the County Treasurer, to secure said District from any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. In addition bidders are requested (but not required) to supply an estimate of the total net interest cost to the District on the basis of their respective bids, which shall be considered as informative only and not binding on either the bidder or the District. Checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned by the County Clerk by mail, upon the award of the bonds. No interest will be paid upon deposit made by the successful bidder.

There is no controversy or litigation pending or threatened concerning the validity of the above issue, the corporate existence of said District, or the title of the officers to their respective offices and the Board of Supervisors will deliver to the successful bidder a no-fitigation certificate certifying to the foregoing as of and at the time of the delivery of the bonds.

PREFAB HOUSING FOR SAN RAFAEL

Lino Construction Co. of Sausalito yesterday began putting up a two-story prefabricated home in the 2200 block of San Rafael's Fifth Avenue, a four-bedroom house believed to be the first two-story "prefab" ever erected in Marin County. Mrs. Roberta B. Smith and her first grade class at nearby Sun Valley School found the rapid construction fascinating as they turned out for a period as "sidewalk superintendents." The job from start to completion will take 22½ days, according to Samuel and George Lino, father and son combination in the firm. The house was pre-fabricated by National Homes Corp. The Linos hope to erect many similar ones in Marin. (Independent-Journal photo)

San Anselmo Cubs Plan Paper Drive

San Anselmo Cub Scout Pack 37 will hold a paper drive Saturday from 8:30 a. m. to 2 p. m., announced John B. Watson, committee chairman.

Residents of the Wade Thomas School area having old and unwanted newspapers are requested to leave them on the curb in front of their homes, Watson said. The Cubs will pick up the papers.

Theater Group Extends Play Contest Deadline

Deadline for submission of original plays to the Sausalito Little Theater has been extended to July 1, 1961, according to Workshop Chairman Eleanor Haas.

Manuscripts from all over have been pouring in, she said, and more time is needed for processing, inquiries, and for the judging committee to read the many one and three-act plays already submitted.

Selected plays will be given rehearsed readings at the theater during the weekends of September 16, 23 and 30.

Authors will receive a full report on how their work was received, how it played, photographs and director's comments.

Should any of the plays read in September merit full-scale production, they will be considered for inclusion during the regular season, with royalty payments to be arranged.

Mrs. Haas just returned from a two-day scouting trip to Los Angeles where she interviewed Dr. George Savage, who heads the playwriting program at UCLA's Department of Theater Arts, and recently directed the $1,000 John Van Druten Playwriting Contest.

Along with information and encouragement, Mrs. Haas received from him 20 additional scripts written by young dramatists.

Authors wishing to send manuscripts before the July 1 deadline may submit them to Mrs. Eleanor Haas, Workshop Chairman, 26 Cloud View Road, Sausalito.

There is no limit to length or subject. They should be double-space typed, and return postage should be included.

The Continental Congress adopted the Articles of Confederation while meeting in the courthouse in York, Pa., between September, 1777 and June, 1778.

West Marin School Trustees Study Bid For Addition

Rapp Construction Co. of Santa Rosa was low bidder Monday on construction of an addition to the West Marin School at Point Reyes Station.

The firm bid $61,170 for building two classrooms, storage rooms, lavatories and teachers' workroom and doing site development work. Four other bids ranged to a high of $66,100 by Fostmeier Construction Co. of Petaluma. Other bidders were Herrero Brothers, San Francisco; L. E. Weisenburg, San Rafael, and Olson Construction Co., Santa Rosa.

Supt. George Stratton said the school trustees will meet to award a contract within two weeks if the low bid, which is about $2,000 above the estimate by architect George Quesada of Inverness, is accepted by the State Department of Education's allocations board.

West Marin School Trustees Study Bid For Addition

Rapp Construction Co. of Santa Rosa was low bidder Monday on construction of an addition to the West Marin School at Point Reyes Station.

The firm bid $61,170 for building two classrooms, storage rooms, lavatories and teachers' workroom and doing site development work. Four other bids ranged to a high of $66,100 by Fostmeier Construction Co. of Petaluma. Other bidders were Herrero Brothers, San Francisco; L. E. Weisenburg, San Rafael, and Olson Construction Co., Santa Rosa.

Supt. George Stratton said the school trustees will meet to award a contract within two weeks if the low bid, which is about $2,000 above the estimate by architect George Quesada of Inverness, is accepted by the State Department of Education's allocations board.

State Approves Sinatra Request

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Singer Frank Sinatra's application for a license to operate Cal-Neva Lodge at Lake Tahoe this summer has been approved by the State Gaming Commission.

Earlier, the State Gaming Control Board recommended Sinatra's application without comment.

Sinatra holds 36.6 per cent of the Crystal Bay establishment. Another major stockholder is his manager Henry W. Sanicola, with 24.4 per cent.

PREFAB HOUSING FOR SAN RAFAEL

Lino Construction Co. of Sausalito yesterday began putting up a two-story prefabricated home in the 2200 block of San Rafael's Fifth Avenue, a four-bedroom house believed to be the first two-story "prefab" ever erected in Marin County. Mrs. Roberta B. Smith and her first grade class at nearby Sun Valley School found the rapid construction fascinating as they turned out for a period as "sidewalk superintendents." The job from start to completion will take 22½ days, according to Samuel and George Lino, father and son combination in the firm. The house was pre-fabricated by National Homes Corp. The Linos hope to erect many similar ones in Marin. (Independent-Journal photo)

Theater Group Extends Play Contest Deadline

Deadline for submission of original plays to the Sausalito Little Theater has been extended to July 1, 1961, according to Workshop Chairman Eleanor Haas.

Manuscripts from all over have been pouring in, she said, and more time is needed for processing, inquiries, and for the judging committee to read the many one and three-act plays already submitted.

Selected plays will be given rehearsed readings at the theater during the weekends of September 16, 23 and 30.

Authors will receive a full report on how their work was received, how it played, photographs and director's comments.

Should any of the plays read in September merit full-scale production, they will be considered for inclusion during the regular season, with royalty payments to be arranged.

Mrs. Haas just returned from a two-day scouting trip to Los Angeles where she interviewed Dr. George Savage, who heads the playwriting program at UCLA's Department of Theater Arts, and recently directed the $1,000 John Van Druten Playwriting Contest.

Along with information and encouragement, Mrs. Haas received from him 20 additional scripts written by young dramatists.

Authors wishing to send manuscripts before the July 1 deadline may submit them to Mrs. Eleanor Haas, Workshop Chairman, 26 Cloud View Road, Sausalito.

There is no limit to length or subject. They should be double-space typed, and return postage should be included.

The Continental Congress adopted the Articles of Confederation while meeting in the courthouse in York, Pa., between September, 1777 and June, 1778.
